,1906 Becoming Black Political Subjects Tianna Paschel,2018-04-03 After decades of denying racism and underplaying cultural diversity Latin American states began adopting transformative ethno racial legislation in the late 1980s In addition to symbolic recognition of indigenous peoples and black populations governments in the region created a more pluralistic model of citizenship and made significant reforms in the areas of land health education and development policy Becoming Black Political Subjects explores this shift from color blindness to ethno racial legislation in two of the most important cases in the region Colombia and Brazil Drawing on archival and ethnographic research Tianna Paschel shows how over a short period black movements and their claims went from being marginalized to become institutionalized into the law state bureaucracies and mainstream politics The strategic actions of a small group of black activists working in the context of domestic unrest and the international community's growing interest in ethno racial issues successfully brought about change Paschel also examines the consequences of these reforms including the institutionalization of certain ideas of blackness the reconfiguration of black movement organizations and the unmaking of black rights in the face of reactionary movements Becoming Black Political Subjects offers important insights into the changing landscape of race and Latin American politics and provokes readers to adopt a more transnational and flexible understanding of social movements Theatre World

2008-2009 Ben Hodges,2009-11-01 Scenes from the plays and portraits of leading actors accompany a statistical record of the current season An Encyclopædia of Gardening John Claudius Loudon,1850 Mediascapes of Ruined Geographies in the Global South Diego Granja do Amaral,A. Chukwudumebi Obute,2023-08-15 This book undertakes an interdisciplinary and cross cultural interrogation of the Global South through the prisms of media and cultural studies It closely explores the quotidian re territorialization and brazen ruination of the material geographies of this vast expanse of the world by forces and proxies of neo colonialism and global capitalism of resource extraction We cite the ongoing expulsion of Palestinians from their homelands by occupational forces the emerging detritus dump across Mexico City and Lagos the infrastructural precariousness of the favelas of Brazil the unending resource war in the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC and the flagrant operation of the oil industry in the Niger Delta region of Nigeria as examples of this geographic cataclysm The centripetal forces of neo colonialism and resource extraction at full flight in the Global South aided by toxic hegemonic forces have overtly tossed some of the population to the peripheries of existence and the society at large As such this book additionally explores the resistance of the subalterns from the margins to this socio political malaise and further unmasks the knowledge production from these margins of the Global South This project is divided into five 5 parts of three essays each The first part examines the territorial contestation in the Middle East framed and expressed through films and literary lenses The second part examines the environmental burden of modern consumerism and urbanization on metropolis across Mexico Brazil and Nigeria while the third part explores the attritional violence of resource extraction in the DRC Brazil and Nigeria via filmic and journalistic lenses The fourth part offers a swift response from the margins through ethnographic and journalistic interrogation of the subjectivity of the subalterns of Brazilian favelas and street artists The fifth part offers an engaging critique of the political climates of South Africa and Brazil that reinforce the environmental catastrophe of the regions of the world

Greek Tragedy and the Middle East Pauline Donizeau, Yassaman Khajehi, Daniela

Potenza,2024-03-07 Employing the idea of interculturality to study Middle Eastern adaptations of Greek tragedy from the turn of 20th century until the present day this book first explores the earlier phase of the development of Greek classical reception in Middle Eastern theatre It then moves to focus on modern Arabic Persian and Turkish adaptations of Greek tragedy both in the early post colonial and contemporary periods in the MENA and in Europe Case by case this book examines how the classical sources are reworked and adapted as well as how they engage with interculturality hybridisation and the circulation of aesthetics and models At the same time it explores the implications and consequences of expressing socio political concerns through classical Greek sources While Muslim thinkers and translators introduced Greek philosophy in particular Aristotle s Poetics to the West in the Middle Ages adaptations of Greek tragedies only appeared in the MENA region at the very beginning of the 20th century For this reason the development of Greek tragedy in the Middle East is difficult to disentangle from colonialism and cultural imperialism Encompassing language differences and offering for the first time a broad approach on the Middle Eastern reception of Greek tragedy this book produces a renewed focus on a fascinating aspect of the classical tradition
