Walking Between The Worlds:

Walking Between the Worlds Gregg Braden, 1997 This book explores the 7 Essene Mirrors of Relationship and how it relates to our daily lives

Daily Fare Kathleen Aguero, 1993 Daily Fare presents seventeen artfully crafted essays in which writers representing a broad spectrum of the American experience ponder the meaning of living in a nation of diverse and competing cultures Consistently thought provoking and often intensely personal these pieces confront such themes as the question of identity the individual's relation to culture problems of communication and the need to strike a balance between preserving traditions and merging them

Memories both tender and painful fill these pages Toi Derricotte recalling her experiences as the only black person at an artist colony often found her sense of isolation almost unbearable No one can help Only I myself But how can I let go My face is a mask like Uncle Tom's my heart twisted in rage and fear In The Death of Fred Astaire Leslie Lawrence reflects on the difficult decisions that led to her becoming a lesbian mother and the mix of emotions apprehension maternal longing and finally joyous fulfillment that accompanied her choices In Kubota Garrett Hongo describes how his grandfather enjoined him to learn and to give witness to the injustices committed against Japanese Americans by their own government during World War II Hongo accepts this responsibility as a ritual payment the young owe their elders who have survived

Several bilingual essayists contemplate their relationship to the English language a language that can empower its users or deny them access to the dominant culture For Judith Ortiz Cofer reading books from the public library as a child gave her a sense of freedom as well as her first intimations of the writing career she would later pursue Alberto Alvaro Rios however reminds us that learning English in the first grade also meant being punished for using Spanish Spanish was bad Okay We then must be bad kids Still other essays explore what it means to confront the confusions of a plural family heritage or to be a black artist from a Catholic background when so much of black culture is tied to the Protestant tradition Despite the current interest in multiculturalism Kathleen Aguero observes the notion of culture in the United States today is too often synonymous with predominantly white male heterosexual upper class Eurocentric interests In bringing together writers from beyond this tradition Daily Fare provides a valuable perspective on our current moment in history As Jack Agueros summing up both the dilemma and the pleasure of our society's diversity writes It's hard and wasteful to be purely ethnic in America definitely wasteful to be totally assimilated

both divine and human creator and creation and the distinction between them melts away as we understand these truths Integral Yoga the supramental vision of Sri Aurobindo and the Mother allows us to envision and manifest an entirely new
