Traditional Chinese Penal Law Law In East Asia:

Law and Society in East Asia Christoph Antons, 2017-07-05 The massive and complex process of change in East Asia over recent decades has brought about a transformation in the nature of law and legal institutions in the region Whilst the process of change has to some degree mimicked western models of law and legal change there have been significant differences in approach due to the different social foundations of East Asian societies The more obvious of these has been the variety of ways in which rule of law ideas have been adopted in many East Asian countries where the role of the state is more dominant when compared with Western models This volume brings together a selection of the most important writings on East Asia of researchers in recent years and shows the broad range of questions which researchers have been addressing about the effect of law reform and legal change in societies dominated by traditional values and political forces and at a time of massive economic change

Confucian Culture and Competition Law in East Asia Jingyuan Ma, Mel Marquis, 2022-09-08 Competition law is a significant legal transplant in East Asia where it has come into contact with deeply rooted variants of Confucian culture This timely volume analyses cultural factors in mainland China Japan and Korea focusing on their shared but diversely evolved Confucian heritage These factors distinguish the competition law systems of these countries from those of major western jurisdictions in terms of the goals served by the law the way enforcement is structured and the way subjects of the law respond to it Concepts from cultural studies inform a new and eclectic perspective on these dynamics with the authors also drawing on ideas from law and economics comparative law East Asian studies political science business management and ethics and institutional economics The volume presents a model for cultural analysis of comparative legal topics and contributes to a greater understanding of the challenges to deeper convergence of competition laws between East and West

Traditional Chinese Penal Law Geoffrey MacCormack, 1990 This book is about the penal codes of imperial China in particular those enacted by the Tang Sung Ming and Ching dynasties It does not touch on the administrative law of these dynasties nor except in passing on the customary law relating to matters such as contract or property Hence the book deals not with traditional Chinese law as such but only with that component represented by the penal codes Preface page vi

Chinese (Taiwan) Yearbook of International Law and Affairs, Volume 33 (2015) Ying-jeou Ma, 2017-09-18 The Chinese Taiwan Yearbook of International Law and Affairs includes articles and international law materials relating to the Republic of China on Taiwan and contemporary Asia Pacific issues This volume provides insight into the South China Sea Arbitration investment and financial integration in Asia the Ma Xi Summit in Singapore the Taiwan Philippines Fisheries Agreement and the 70th Anniversary of the ROC's War of Resistance against Japan Questions and comments can be directed to the editorial board of the Yearbook by email at yearbook.nccu.edu.tw

China, Cultural Heritage, and International Law Hui Zhong, 2017-11-27 China is a country that is rich in antiquities but it is also a victim of looting that occurred during the period from the First Opium War to the end of the Japanese Occupation 1840-1945 when innumerable cultural objects were lost overseas The Chinese Government insists on asserting its interest over its wrongfully removed cultural heritage and has sought for the return of lost cultural heritage by all means in accordance with relevant international conventions and Chinese laws However securing the return has been and continues to be problematic Little research has been done regarding the question as to whether China has a legal basis for recovery which is the first legal hurdle that China needs to get over In addition China does not have a legal basis for all cultural heritage taken during the period of 1840 1945 Claims for return without a legal basis are usually silenced or at best discussed only but very rarely facilitated This book provides an answer for the return of Chinese cultural heritage It examines the law contemporaneous to the removal of Chinese cultural heritage and its application For this lack of a legal basis this book argues that a new customary international law is emerging according to which the interests of the states of origin in their wrongfully removed heritage should be prioritised This proposed customary rule supports the return of wrongfully removed heritage Once this proposed customary rule is accepted it will provide a stronger argument not only for China but also for other states of origin with a similar dilemma including South Korea Egypt Greece Cambodia Turkey Peru and Italy to recover their wrongfully removed heritage While dealing with a large pool of return cases this book is valuable to museums and art collectors in the event of buying and accepting art objects and settling recovery disputes with states of origin It will also be of interest to researchers academics policymakers and students in the fields of cultural heritage law international law international trade and human rights law

Company Law in East Asia Roman Tomasic, 2018-08-13 First published in 1999 this volume provides an overview of company laws in South East Asia North East Asia and the Pacific The chapters adopt a standard format to allow for comparisons to be made as well as highlighting key features of company laws in each jurisdiction The contributors are experts in their fields and present practical and policy related insights The book also contains some useful overviews of company law themes in Asia

Law and Custom in Korea Marie Seong-Hak Kim, 2012-08-27 Sets forth the evolution of Korea's law and legal system from the Chosŏn dynasty through the colonial and postcolonial modern periods

Legal Traditions in Asia Janos Jany, 2020-04-08 This book offers a comparative analysis of traditional Asian legal systems It combines methods from legal history legal anthropology legal philosophy and substantive law pursuing a comprehensive approach that offers readers a broad perspective on the topic The geographic regions covered include the Near East Middle East Central Asia India China Japan and Southeast Asia For each region the book first provides historical and political context Next it discusses major milestones in the region's legal history and political institutions as well as its forms of government Readers are then presented with fundamental principles and terms needed to understand the legal arguments discussed The book begins with the Ancient Near East and important topics such as Jewish law The next part considers Islamic law while also exploring modern issues The third part focuses on Hindu and Buddhist law while the fourth part covers China and Japan The book's closing section examines tribal societies e.g. Mongols Pashtuns and Malays Topics covered include the interaction of legal systems within a legal circle inter systemic interactions reasons for the failure and success of legal modernization legal pluralism and its effects on Asian societies Family law law of obligation criminal law and procedural law are also explored The Cambridge Companion to Comparative Law Mauro Bussani,Ugo Mattei,2012-08-16 We can only claim to understand another legal system when we know the context surrounding the positive law in which lawyers are trained To avoid ethnocentricity and superficiality we must go beyond judicial decisions doctrinal writings and the black letter law of codes and statutes and probe the deeper structures where law meets cultural political socio economic factors It is only when we acquire such awareness and knowledge of the critical factors affecting both the backgrounds and implications of rules that it becomes possible to control the present and possibly future developments of the world s legal institutions This collection of essays aims to provide the reader with a fundamental understanding of the dynamic relationship between the law and its cultural political and socio economic context Writing and Law in Late Imperial China Robert E. Hegel,Katherine N. Carlitz,2015-07-16 In this fascinating multidisciplinary volume scholars of Chinese history law literature and religions explore the intersections of legal practice with writing in many different social contexts They consider the overlapping concerns of legal culture and the arts of crafting persuasive texts in a range of documents including crime reports legislation novels prayers and law suits Their focus is the late Ming and Qing periods c 1550 1911 their documents range from complaints filed at the local level by commoners through various texts produced by the well to do to the legal opinions penned by China s emperors Writing and Law in Late Imperial China explores works of crime case fiction judicial handbooks for magistrates and legal secretaries popular attitudes toward clergy and merchants as reflected in legal complaints and the belief in a parallel otherworldly judicial system that supports earthly justice
