WHITMAN,2024 Gareth Wilson,2010-07 Religion is a duplicitous invention of primitive humans diametrically opposed to our moral intuition and driven by belief in gods whose existence is neither evident nor probable These are just some of the damning conclusions reached by Gareth Wilson within his pulsating assessment of organised faith Sweeping aside the punditry of religious apologists and their critique of previous atheist works The Plain Truths of Religion is the most extensive and full blooded summation of both the nature and purpose of humankind s greatest belief systems As such this piece is as raw as it is incisive and certainly not a read for the faint hearted AANHPI Celebrations and Heritage Collection

Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey, 2014-05-30 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda-Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda-Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda-Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9/11 anti Arab sentiments
