Walking In Circles Before Lying Down A Novel:

Walking in Circles Before Lying Down Merrill Markoe, 2007-08-28 Dawn Tarnauer's life isn't exactly a success story. Already twice divorced, the young Californian is too busy job hopping to start a career; her current boyfriend insists on living off the grid; her Life Coach sister perpetually interferes with incomprehensible affirmations; her eccentric mother is busy promoting the culmination of her life's work, The Every Holiday Tree; and her father is ending his brief third marriage while scheduling two dates for the same night. Dawn's only source of security and comfort it seems is Chuck, a pit bull mix from the pound. So when her boyfriend announces that he's leaving her for another woman, a despairing Dawn turns to Chuck for solace. I should have said something sooner, Chuck confides as he tries to console her. Couldn't you smell her on his pants? Dawn is stunned. It's one thing to talk to your pets, but what do you do when they start talking back? It's not just Chuck either; she can hear all dogs, and man's best friend has a lot to say. The ever-enthusiastic Chuck offers his tried and true advice on the merits of knocking over garbage and stewing it everywhere, auxiliary competitive peeing etiquette, and the curative powers of tossing a ball. Doubtful of her own sanity, Dawn considers that in the ways of life and love, it might be better to trust Chuck's doggie instincts instead of her own. Filled with sharp wit, biting humor, and canine conversation that would make Doctor Dolittle's jaw drop, Merrill Markoe's engaging, cleverly written novel is about the confusing search for love and the divine acts of dog.

The Bedford Guide for College Writers with Reader, Research Manual, and Handbook with 2009 MLA and 2010 APA Updates X. J. Kennedy, Dorothy M. Kennedy, Marcia F. Muth, 2010-04 When it was first published twenty years ago, The Bedford Guide for College Writers brought a lively and innovative new approach to the teaching of writing. Since that time, authors X. J. and Dorothy M. Kennedy have won praise for their friendly tone and their view apparent on every page of the text: that writing is the usually surprising, often rewarding art of thinking while working with language. More recently, experienced teacher and writer Marcia F. Muth joined the author team, adding more practical advice to help all students, even those underprepared for college work, become successful academic writers. While retaining the highly praised Kennedy touch, The Bedford Guide continues to evolve to meet classroom needs. The new edition does even more to build essential academic writing skills with expanded coverage of audience analysis, source-based writing, argumentation, and reasoning, and more.

Nose Down, Eyes Up Merrill Markoe, 2010 From the New York Times bestselling author of Walking in Circles Before Lying Down comes a hilarious novel about a man who won't grow up, his confused relationship with women, and his four talking dogs.

Cool, Calm & Contentious Merrill Markoe, 2011-11-01 This is so well written. When a book like this comes along, it's like, "Thank you, What a great way to spend an afternoon, an evening reading these essays." Absolutely great. Jon Stewart. Merrill Markoe is easily as funny as David Sedaris. She's capable of manic riffs and acerbic skewering. Still, her good nature shines through. The Washington Post. In this hilarious collection of candid essays, including two pieces new to this edition, New York Times bestselling author Merrill Markoe reveals much about her personal life as well as the secret

The Courage to Learn Marcia Eames-Sheavly, Paul Michalec, Catherine M. Wehlburg, 2023-07-03. It takes courage to engage in the kind of deep transformational learning that so many people need in their lives, and this book is designed to help find and nurture that courage in learners, including those that are engaged in facilitating the courageous learning of others. Inspired by Parker Palmer's classic book The Courage to Teach, the authors have carefully examined the learning side of the teaching and learning relationship, and this book shares the resulting wealth of knowledge and experience with readers. This book is informed by Palmer's observation that the conversations in teaching can be organized around four questions: what, how, why, and who. In this book, the authors center learning instead of teaching as they ask: What is the content of learning? How do we learn? Why is it necessary? What motivates us? And who is the self that learns? The authors have engaged in conversation with adult learners across the lifespan, representing different ages, social/economic levels, and approaches to learning. Drawing on these discussions, their own experiences, and the scholarly literature, they weave a tapestry with threads of learning and teaching, story and analysis that serve as warp and weft. The authors pay tribute to the learner's journey in the fullness of the process and name the distinct forms of courage that learning takes. In the concluding chapter, the authors explore the implications for educational practice and offer guidance for any educator wishing to bring a Courage to Learn conversation to their community.
