Himalayan warriors : rediscovering the arms and armor of Tibet Donald J. LaRocca, 2006 Islamic Arms and Armor in The Metropolitan Museum of Art David G. Alexander, 2015-12-31 Armor and weaponry were central to Islamic culture not only as a means of conquest and the spread of the faith but also as symbols of status wealth and power The finest arms were made by master craftsmen working with the leading designers goldsmiths and jewelers whose work transformed utilitarian military equipment into courtly works of art This book reveals the diversity and artistic quality of one of the most important and encyclopedic collections of its kind in the West The Metropolitan Museum's holdings span ten centuries and include representative pieces from almost every Islamic culture from Spain to the Caucasus The collection includes rare early works among them the oldest documented Islamic sword and is rich in helmets and body armor decorated with calligraphy and arabesques that were worn in Iran and Anatolia in the late fifteenth century Other masterpieces include a jeweled short sword yatagan with a blade of watered steel that comes from the court of Sleyman the Magnificent a seventeenth century gold inlaid armor associated with Shah Jahan and two gold inlaid flintlock firearms belonging to the guard of Tipu Sultan of Mysore Presenting 126 objects each handsomely photographed and richly documented with a detailed description and discussion of its technical historical and artistic importance this overview of the Met's holdings is supplemented by an introductory essay on the formation of the collection and appendixes on iconography and on Turkman style armor

Spoiling Tibet Gabriel Lafitte, 2013-09-12 The mineral rich mountains of Tibet so far have been largely untouched by China's growing economy Nor has Beijing been able to settle Tibet with politically reliable peasant Chinese That is all about to change as China's 12th Five Year Plan from 2011 to 2015 calls for massive investment in copper gold silver chromium and lithium mining in the region with devastating environmental and social outcomes Despite great interest in Tibet worldwide Spoiling Tibet is the first book that investigates mining at the roof of the world A unique authoritative guide through the torrent of online posts official propaganda and exile speculation

Tibetan Demonology Christopher Bell, 2020-07-16 Tibetan Demonology discusses the rich taxonomy of gods and demons encountered in Tibet These spirits are often the cause of and exhorted for diverse violent and wrathful activities This Element consists of four thematic sections The first section Spirits and the Body explores oracular possession and spirit induced illnesses The second section Spirits and Time discusses the role of gods in Tibetan astrology and ritual calendars The third section Spirits and Space examines the relationship between divinities and the Tibetan landscape The final section Spirits and Doctrine explores how certain deities act as fierce protectors of religious and political institutions Mandalas: Mapping the Buddhist Art of Tibet Kurt Behrendt, 2024-09-16 A mandala is a diagram of the universe a map of true reality intended to provide a focus for Buddhist religious practice and inspire the devout This book highlights the distinctive Tibetan approach to creating mandalas exploring how it crossed over from India into Tibet and how continuous exchanges of art and ideas between the two cultures led by monks and spiritual teachers gave rise to a uniquely Tibetan style of Buddhist imagery Featuring more than one hundred paintings sculptures and ritual objects this superbly illustrated volume reflects the dazzling complexities of the Tibetan imagery that has provided a foundation for mandalas through the centuries Most notably a mesmerizing installation by the Tibetan American artist Tenzing Rigdol b 1982 specially created for the accompanying exhibition and published here for the first time offers contemporary audiences a way of interrogating and understanding their world and underscores how this ancient tradition remains a vibrant living practice The Dalai Lama and the Nechung Oracle Christopher

Bell, 2021 This book is about two immortals whose friendship has spanned nearly five hundred years across the Tibetan plateau and beyond The first immortal is the Dalai Lama the emanation of a bodhisattva an enlightened being who voluntarily takes rebirth in the world to benefit sentient beings The second immortal is a wrathful god named Pehar who has possessed the Nechung Oracle since the sixteenth century This book is the first to examine the relationship between these two monolithic figures that began in the seventeenth century during the reign of the Fifth Dalai Lama 1617 1682 This study is also the first extensive examination of the famed Nechung Oracle and his institution In the seventeenth century the protector deity Pehar and his oracle at Nechung Monastery were state sanctioned by the nascent Tibetan government becoming the head of an expansive pantheon of worldly deities assigned to protect the newly unified country While the Fifth Dalai Lama and his government endorsed Pehar as part of his larger unification project the governments of later Dalai Lamas continued to expand the deity's influence and by extension their own by ritually establishing Pehar at monasteries and temples around Lhasa and across Tibet Pehar's cult at Nechung Monastery came to embody the Dalai Lama's administrative control in a mutually beneficial relationship of protection and prestige the effects of which continue to reverberate within Tibet and among the Tibetan exile community today Compounds and Compounding in Old Tibetan. Vol. 1 Joanna

Bialek, 2018-08-26 Old Tibetan documents are the oldest extant monuments of the Tibetan language Their exploration although successfully flourishing in the last two decades has been considerably impeded by often unintelligible and obsolete vocabulary that was bound to the particular cultural and political context of the Tibetan Empire that collapsed in the 840s CE The present publication aims at clarifying a part of this vocabulary by examining nearly 400 Old Tibetan compounds In Part I an attempt has been undertaken to define a compound and to provide the first linguistic classification of Old Tibetan compounds Part II concentrates on a lexicological analysis of the compounds and strives to explain their etymology word formation and usage in Old Tibetan Contents of Volume 1 Introduction Indices References Part I Compounding in Old Tibetan

A memorable and vivid history lesson about a remote mysterious place that in terms of its sheer survival has implications for our own lives. The Times Picayune Over the course of three years, journalist Thomas Laird spent more than sixty hours with His Holiness the Dalai Lama in candid one-on-one interviews that ranged widely, covering not only the history of Tibet but science, reincarnation, and Buddhism. Laird brings these meetings to life in this vibrant, monumental work that outlines the essence of thousands of years of civilization, myth, and spirituality. Tibet's story is rich with tradition and filled with promise. It begins with the Bodhisattva Chenrizi, The Holy One, whose spirit many Tibetans believe resides within the Dalai Lama. We learn the origins of Buddhism and about the era of Great Tibetan Emperors whose reign stretched from southwestern China to Northern India. His Holiness introduces us to Tibet's greatest yogis and meditation masters and explains how the institution of the Dalai Lama was founded. Laird explores with His Holiness Tibet's relations with the Mongols, the Golden Age under the Great Fifth Dalai Lama, Tibet's years under Manchu overlords, modern independence in the early twentieth century, and the Dalai Lama's personal meetings with Mao just before His Holiness fled into exile in 1959. The Story of Tibet is a tenderly crafted study that is equal parts love letter, traditional history, and oral history. Publishers Weekly Captivating reading. Tricycle

Collectors, Commissioners, Curators Elina Gertsman, 2023-05-08 This volume celebrates the storied career of Stephen N. Liegel, the former Robert Bergman Curator of Medieval Art at the Cleveland Museum of Art (CMA). Authors of these essays, all leading curators in their fields, offer insights into curatorial practices by highlighting key objects in some of the most important medieval collections in North America and Europe: Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Louvre, the British Museum, Victoria and Albert Museum, the Getty, the Groeningemuseum, The Morgan Library, Vienna's Kunsthistorisches Museum, and of course the CMA, offering perspectives on the histories of collecting and display, artistic identity, and patronage, with special foci on Burgundian art, acquisition histories, and objects in the CMA. Scent from the Garden of Paradise: Musk and the Medieval Islamic World Anya H. King, 2017-01-09

Since antiquity, musk has been a valued perfume and medicine. Because the musk deer only lives in Central Eurasia, people in other locations had to trade for its musk. For medieval Islamic civilization, musk became the most important of all aromatics. The musk trade thus illuminates the nature of medieval Asian trade and musk's cultural effects on the Islamic world. Scent from the Garden of Paradise: Musk and the Medieval Islamic World examines the history of musk from its origins in Asia to its uses in the medieval Middle East, surveys the Islamic literature on musk, and discusses the roles of musk in perfumery and medicine, as well as the symbolic importance of musk in Islam. Scorpion Louise M. Pryke, 2016-06-15 No creature has quite the sting in our mythology and folklore as the scorpion. From the dawn of human civilization, they have been a dangerous figure in our imaginations: poisonous, precise, and deadly, quiet but as Louise M. Pryke shows in this book, their bad reputation has overshadowed many exceptional qualities. Scurrying across hundreds of millions of years and across every continent except Antarctica, this book gives the scorpion its due as one of nature's longest lasting survivors. Indeed, scorpions are older than dinosaurs. An ancient arthropod, their form notable for its pair of pincers and an elegant tail that holds a menacing stinger high in the air in a permanent striking position, hasn't changed since prehistoric times. Though today there are some 1700 different species, throughout our existence, scorpions have served as a powerful cultural and religious symbol, sometimes dangerous, sometimes protecting. From the Egyptian goddess Serket to Zodiac astrology to folk medicine, a fascinating tour that takes us from the art of North Africa to the American Civil War to the markets of Beijing. Scorpion is an homage to one of earth's oldest residents. The Museum on the Roof of the World Clare E. Harris, 2012-10-30 For millions of people around the world, Tibet is a domain of undisturbed tradition, the Dalai Lama a spiritual guide. By contrast, the Tibet Museum opened in Lhasa by the Chinese in 1999 was designed to reclassify Tibetan objects as cultural relics and the Dalai Lama as obsolete. Suggesting that both these views are suspect, Clare E. Harris argues in The Museum on the Roof of the World that for the past one hundred and fifty years, British and Chinese collectors and curators have tried to convert Tibet itself into a museum, an image some Tibetans have begun to contest. This book is a powerful account of the museums created by, for, or on behalf of Tibetans and the nationalist agendas that have played out in them. Harris begins with the British public's first encounter with Tibetan culture in 1854. She then examines the role of imperial collectors and photographers in representations of the region and visits competing museums of Tibet in India and Lhasa. Drawing on fieldwork in Tibetan communities, she also documents the activities of contemporary Tibetan artists as they try to displace the utopian visions of their country prevalent in the West, as well as the negative assessments of their heritage common in China. Illustrated with many previously unpublished images, this book addresses the pressing question of who has the right to represent Tibet in museums and beyond. The Diez Albums, 2016-11-14 The five Diez albums in Berlin, acquired by Heinrich Friedrich von Diez in Constantinople around 1789, contain more than 400 figurative paintings, drawings, fragments, and calligraphic works originating for the most part from Ilkhanid, Jalayirid, and Timurid workshops. Gonnella Weis and Rauch unite in this volume 21 essays that analyse their relation to their parent albums at the Topkapı Palace or examine specific works by reflecting upon their role in the larger history of book art in Iran. Other essays cover aspects such as the European and Chinese influence on Persianate art, aspects related to material and social culture, and the Ottoman interest in Persianate albums. This book marks an important contribution to the understanding of the development of illustrative imagery in the Persianate world and its later perception. Contributors are Serpil Baş, Barbara Brend, Massumeh Farhad, Julia Gonnella, Claus Peter Haase, Oliver Hahn, Robert Hillenbrand, Yuka Kadoi, Charles Melville, Gülru Necipoğlu, Bernard O'Kane, Filiz Akar, Phillip Yves Porter, Julian Raby, Christoph Rauch, Simon Rettig, David J.
