Watching The Wind Conflict Resolution During South Africa's Transition To Democracy:

Watching the Wind Susan Collin Marks, 2000 A compelling inspiring account of peacemaking in action Watching the Wind takes us to the front lines of South Africa's struggle to manage the tempestuous transition from apartheid to democracy When Mandela de Klerk and other political leaders launched the 1991 National Peace Accord in a far reaching effort to staunch political bloodshed and promote consultation and cooperation between bitter adversaries Susan Collin Marks was one of thousands of South Africans who committed themselves to making the peace process work where it mattered most at the local level Over the next three years Marks and other leaders of the conflict resolution movement adopted and adapted a vast array of tools and techniques they mediated facilitated and counseled they created forums for open discussion and trained community leaders they fostered community policing and they anticipated crises and stood between demonstrators and security forces And as Marks explains something extraordinary happened The international community had expected a bloodbath but what it saw instead was a near miraculous process of negotiation and accommodation With passion and eloquence the author captures the drama the personalities and the heroism of this grassroots peace process WATCHING THE WIND... CONFLICT RESOLUTION DURING SOUTH AFRICA'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY... U.S.

INSTITUTE OF PEACE. United States Institute of Peace, 2001* From Conflict Resolution to Peacebuilding Charles Hauss, 2019-11-05 From Conflict Resolution to Peacebuilding is designed to introduce students to the key concepts of conflict resolution from a real world perspective Covering both micro and macro sites of conflict it offers ways to resolve conflicts at all levels from the interpersonal to the international Starting with the notion that conflict is a fact of life but peacebuilding is not this text analyzes protracted conflicts and wicked problems and also tackles the harder task of how to resolve conflict and build peace Hauss approach to peace and conflict studies is deeply personal and richly informed Based on a strong research base and decades of experience in the field the book offers new paradigms for considering the intractable conflicts in our world Each chapter provides real world examples stories and cases that illustrating practical work at both the grass roots and elite levels In a world where conflict seems to be on the rise at home and abroad this text provides students with the tools to deal with conflict constructively in their daily lives as citizens and as future professionals in the growing field of conflict resolution Features Full suite of textboxes for study and application Key terms and references for further reading Conflict labs to help students apply concepts to real world situations Out on a Limb boxes ask readers to consider bold new ideas and paradigm shifts for analyzing conflict and building peace A dynamic range of open access instructor and student resources can be found at the author's website www.chiphauss.info including Videos of interviews Curated web links Updates on breaking news Author's weekly blog Reviews of new books documentaries and other publications A discussion forum in which students and faculty members can interact with each other and with the author on issues of their choosing Regular video office hours with the author Transitions to Democracy Kathryn Stoner, Michael

McFaul, 2013-04-15 Fifteen case studies by scholars and practitioners demonstrate the synergy between domestic and international influences that can precipitate democratic transitions As demonstrated by current events in Tunisia and Egypt oppressive regimes are rarely immune to their citizens desire for democratic government Of course desire is always tempered by reality therefore how democratic demands are made manifest is a critical source of study for both political scientists and foreign policy makers What issues and consequences surround the fall of a government what type of regime replaces it and to what extent are these efforts successful Kathryn Stoner and Michael McFaul have created an accessible book of fifteen case studies from around the world that will help students understand these complex issues Their model builds upon Guillermo O'Donnell Philippe C Schmitter and Laurence Whitehead's classic work Transitions from Authoritarian Rule using a rubric of four identifying factors that can be applied to each case study making comparison relatively easy Transitions to Democracy yields strong comparisons and insights For instance the study reveals that efforts led by the elite and involving the military are generally unsuccessful whereas mass mobilization civic groups and new media have become significant factors in supporting and sustaining democratic actors This collection of writings by scholars and practitioners is organized into three parts successful transitions incremental transitions and failed transitions Extensive primary research and a rubric that can be applied to burgeoning democracies offer readers valuable tools and information Peacemaking and Peacebuilding in South Africa Liz Carmichael, 2022 It is now 30 years since the National Peace Accord NPA was signed in South Africa bringing to an end the violent struggle of the Apartheid era and signalling the transition to democracy Signed by the ANC Alliance the Government the Inkatha Freedom Party and a wide range of other political and labour organizations on 14 September 1991 the parties agreed in the NPA on the common goal of a united non racial democratic South Africa and provided practical means for moving towards this end codes of conduct for political organizations and for the police the creation of national regional and local peace structures for conflict resolution the investigation and prevention of violence peace monitoring socio economic reconstruction and peacebuilding This book written by one of those involved in the process that evolved provides for the first time an assessment and in depth account of this key phase of South Africa's history The National Peace Campaign set up under the NPA mobilized the silent majority and gave peace an unprecedented grassroots identity and legitimacy The author describes the formulation of the NPA by political representatives with Church and business facilitators which ended the political impasse constituted South Africa's first experience of multi party negotiations and made it possible for the constitutional talks Codesa to start She examines the work of the Goldstone Commission which prefigured the TRC as well as the role of international observers from the UN EU Commonwealth and OAU Exploring the work of the peace structures set up to implement the Accord the National Peace Committee and Secretariat the 11 Regional Peace Committees and 263 Local Peace Committees and over 18 000 peace monitors Carmichael provides a uniquely detailed assessment of the NPA the on the ground peacebuilding work and the essential involvement of the people at its heart Filling

a significant gap in modern history this book will be essential reading for scholars students and others interested in South Africa's post Apartheid history as well as government agencies and NGOs involved in peacemaking globally

Religion, Tradition, and Restorative Justice in Sierra Leone Lyn S. Graybill, 2017-06-15 In this groundbreaking study of post conflict Sierra Leone Lyn Graybill examines the ways in which both religion and local tradition supported restorative justice initiatives such as the national Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC and village level Fambul Tok ceremonies Through her interviews with Christian and Muslim leaders of the Inter Religious Council Graybill uncovers a rich trove of perspectives about the meaning of reconciliation the role of acknowledgment and the significance of forgiveness Through an abundance of polling data and her review of traditional practices among the various ethnic groups Graybill also shows that these perspectives of religious leaders did not at all conflict with the opinions of the local population whose preferences for restorative justice over retributive justice were compatible with traditional values that prioritized reconciliation over punishment These local sentiments however were at odds with the international community's preference for retributive justice as embodied in the Special Court for Sierra Leone which ran concurrently with the TRC Graybill warns that with the dominance of the International Criminal Court in Africa there are currently eighteen pending cases in eight countries local preferences may continue to be sidelined in favor of prosecutions She argues that the international community is risking the loss of its most valuable assets in post conflict peacebuilding by pushing aside religious and traditional values of reconciliation in favor of Western legal norms

Globalizing International Theory A. Layug, John M. Hobson, 2022-09-30 Globalizing International Theory adds to the literature on non Western international relations IR theory by probing the question of what it means to globalize international theory The book starts with the premise that international theory is unfinished incomplete and homogenous because it provides a limited conception of the international which in turn derives from its partiality that reflects its narrow Western centric bias The contributors argue that the IR vision of the world is projected through a polarizing Western filtered lens Rather than utilizing an objective set of explanatory tools for explaining world politics the reality is that orthodox IR theory only tells us why the West is best and why the Rest should become like the West This means that international theory is not truly international In provincializing Western international theory this volume navigates beyond the Eurocentric and imperial frontier of the prevailing limited conception of the international to explore the hidden contributions to international theory which can be found in the non Western world Bringing in excluded non Western conceptions of international theory highlights a broader conception of the international The book provides a framework for theorizing globally exploring the fundamental problems with Western IR theory and how to overcome them This book will be used by advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students scholars researchers and IR theorists worldwide who are interested in non Western IR theory It will help navigate the problem of internationalness in the face of the grand theoretical problem of our time the use and misuse of international theory in making sense of and responding to

Democratization and Memories of Violence Mneesha Gellman, 2016-08-05 Ethnic minority communities make claims for cultural rights from states in different ways depending on how governments include them in policies and practices of accommodation or assimilation However institutional explanations don t tell the whole story as individuals and communities also protest using emotionally compelling narratives about past wrongs to justify their claims for new rights protections Democratization and Memories of Violence Ethnic minority rights movements in Mexico Turkey and El Salvador examines how ethnic minority communities use memories of state and paramilitary violence to shame states into cooperating with minority cultural agendas such as the right to mother tongue education Shaming and claiming is a social movement tactic that binds historic violence to contemporary citizenship Combining theory with empirics the book accounts for how democratization shapes citizen experiences of interest representation and how memorialization processes challenge state regimes of forgetting at local state and international levels Democratization and Memories of Violence draws on six case studies in Mexico Turkey and El Salvador to show how memory based narratives serve as emotionally salient leverage for marginalized communities to facilitate state consideration of minority rights agendas This book will be of interest to postgraduates and researchers in comparative politics development studies sociology international studies peace and conflict studies and area studies

The Israeli-Palestinian Peace Process Yair Hirschfeld, 2024-04-30 This book describes the evolution of the Israeli Palestinian peace seeking process from 1967 to the present Written from the perspective of Israel's most prominent peace activist it offers an unparalleled insider's account of a crucial set of negotiations intended to settle a seemingly endless conflict Hirschfeld's historical narrative provides a wealth of knowledge and experience that is indispensable to anyone seeking to seriously approach the Middle East conflict The book's thorough analysis of the successes and failures of all peace efforts since the Six Day War represents an essential asset for future negotiators politicians diplomats and peace activists alike Moreover the book shares pearls of human wisdom that anyone searching to resolve conflicts in general should take to heart The book is of burning topicality Not only with a view to the normalisation process between Israel and Arab countries that began with the recent Abraham Accords 2020 but also regarding the new age of war in Europe sparked by Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine The book includes a foreword by Jackson al Khoury a humanitarian based in Gaza during the 2023 war who offers a perspective for a younger Palestinian generation

What Is Not Sacred? Magea Laurenti, 2014-04-10 It is not for you to call profane what God counts clean Did Christianity replace traditional African religion with the arrival of European missionaries in past centuries Or did sub Saharan African cultures persist in maintaining their religious worldviews even after accepting the salvific message of Christianity In this compelling book Laurenti Magea argues that despite missionary Christianity's refusal to acknowledge the worth of traditional African religious culture the incarnational spirituality of those cultures remains vibrant and visible today and has much to offer and teach other cultures both Christian and not Dealing with Differences John Forester, 2009-08-06 Conflict and dispute pervade political and policy discussions Moreover unequal power relations tend to heighten levels of conflict In this context of contention figuring out ways to accommodate others and reach solutions that are agreeable to all is a perennial challenge for activists politicians planners and policymakers John Forester is one of America's eminent scholars of progressive planning and dispute resolution in the policy arena and in Dealing with Differences he focuses on a series of hard cases conflicts that appeared to be insoluble yet which were resolved in the end Forester ranges across the country from Hawaii to Maryland to Washington State and across issues the environment ethnic conflict and HIV Throughout he focuses on how innovative mediators settled seemingly intractable disputes Between pessimism masquerading as realism and the unrealistic idealism that we can all get along Forester identifies the middle terrain where disputes do actually get resolved in ways that offer something for all sides Dealing with Differences serves as an authoritative and fundamentally pragmatic pathway for anyone who has to engage in the highly contentious worlds of planning and policymaking NGOs at the Table Mari

Fitzduff, Cheyanne Church, 2004-04-02 The number of NGO's working in the area of conflict has increased dramatically over the last few decades and they are fast becoming a vital component of both local and international responses to conflicts As their influence rises many seek to more effectively impact the policy making and program development of governments and intergovernmental organizations But how can NGOs do this effectively without sacrificing their own independence and flexibility NGOs at the Table explores such challenges by examining a number of NGOs diverse in size location and financial means that have successfully influenced both policy and program development in conflicts throughout the world It explores why these organizations decided to embark upon a strategic campaign to influence the policy making process as well as outlines the issues addressed and the tactics used It examines the constraints faced in trying to penetrate the governmental process and discusses how these obstacles were overcome The book also includes analysis and reflections by a variety of experienced policy makers and academics working in the field A unique and much needed resource for NGO's wishing to extend their own capacities in the field of policy making this book will prove valuable for any policy maker wishing to take advantage of the unique capacities that NGOs contribute to the field of conflict prevention management and resolution

The Trouble with the Congo Séverine Autesserre, 2010-06-14 The Trouble with the Congo suggests a new explanation for international peacebuilding failures in civil wars Drawing from more than 330 interviews and a year and a half of field research it develops a case study of the international intervention during the Democratic Republic of the Congo's unsuccessful transition from war to peace and democracy 2003 2006 Grassroots rivalries over land resources and political power motivated widespread violence However a dominant peacebuilding culture shaped the intervention strategy in a way that precluded action on local conflicts ultimately dooming the international efforts to end the deadliest conflict since World War II Most international actors interpreted continued fighting as the consequence of national and regional tensions alone UN staff and diplomats viewed intervention at the macro levels as their only legitimate responsibility The dominant culture constructed local peacebuilding as such an unimportant unfamiliar and unmanageable task that neither shocking events nor resistance from select individuals could convince international actors to reevaluate their understanding of violence and intervention

The New Humanitarians Chris E. Stout Ph.D.,2008-11-30 From Braille Without Borders and Unite for Sight to Geekcorps and PeaceWorks humanitarian groups are working worldwide largely in undeveloped countries to better the lives of the residents Whether they are empowering people with schools for the blind prosthetic limbs the devices to understand and use technology or the information to work for civil peace the men and women of these agencies offer tremendous talent to their causes great dedication and sometimes even risk their lives to complete their missions Working in war or civil war zones humanitarians with nonprofits non governmental agencies and university connected centers and foundations have been injured kidnapped or killed Now terrorist events and war crimes are more and more often bringing these self sacrificing workers into the national spotlight by media headlines Their work is doubtless remarkable And so too are the stories of how they developed including the defining moments when their founders felt they could no longer stand by and do nothing In this set of books founders and top officials from humanitarian organizations established in the last 50 years spotlight how and why they began their organizations what their greatest victories and challenges have been and how they run the organizations down to where they get their funding and how they spend it to grow the group and its efforts Led by Chris E Stout named Humanitarian of the Year by the American Psychological Association the contributors here come from across training disciplines including psychology medicine technology science politics social work and business Stout who has worked in Latin American terrorist zones in Vietnam and along the Amazon in Ecuador with Flying Doctors of America has chosen to feature a sample of humanitarian groups across four primary areas medicine environment education and social justice He also concentrates on what he calls guerilla humanitarians those who step into unsafe or unhealthy conditions despite the dangers There is also a concentration on those that have been very successful with on the ground guerilla innovations without a lot of bureaucracy or baloney Above all They are rebels with a cause whose actions speak louder than mere words Stout explains They have all felt a moral duty to serve as vectors of change In addition to being psychologically insightful these volumes hold invaluable practical information

When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit,2018-07-27 In When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit develops a coherent and versatile theory of reconciliation as interdependence based on the assumption that a state s success is inextricably linked to their enemies and a policy of mutual well being is the surest and shortest path to prosperity and peace for both
