When Elephants Weep Masson, 2010-09-30 When Elephants Weep Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson, 2009-10-21 This national bestseller exploring the complex emotional lives of animals was hailed as a masterpiece by Elizabeth Marshall Thomas and as marvelous by Jane Goodall The popularity of When Elephants Weep has swept the nation as author Jeffrey Masson appeared on Dateline NBC Good Morning America and was profiled in People for his ground breaking and fascinating study Not since Darwin's The Expression of Emotions in Man and Animals has a book so thoroughly and effectively explored the full range of emotions that exist throughout the animal kingdom From dancing squirrels to bashful gorillas to spiteful killer whales Masson and coauthor Susan McCarthy bring forth fascinating anecdotes and illuminating insights that offer powerful proof of the existence of animal emotion Chapters on love joy anger fear shame compassion and loneliness are framed by a provocative re evaluation of how we treat animals from hunting and eating them to scientific experimentation Forming a complete and compelling picture of the inner lives of animals When Elephants Weep assures that we will never look at animals in the same way again

The Animal Manifesto Marc Bekoff, 2010 In this inspirational call to action Marc Bekoff the world's leading expert on animal emotions gently shows that improving our treatment of animals is a matter of rethinking our many daily decisions and expanding our compassion footprint He demonstrates that animals experience a rich range of emotions including empathy and compassion and that they clearly know right from wrong Driven by moral imperatives and pressing environmental realities Bekoff offers six compelling reasons for changing the way we treat animals whether they are in factory farms, labs, circuses or our vanishing wilderness. The result is a well researched, informative guide that will change animal and human lives for the better. My Animal, My Self Marta Williams, 2013-05-13 In this groundbreaking book, animal communicator Marta Williams brings into focus an unexamined dynamic in our relationships with our animals: the idea that our animals are often our mirrors. Deeply and inextricably connected to us on the physical, emotional, mental and spiritual levels, they can pick up and reflect back to us the issues and events of our lives. Through stories, exercises and an extensive questionnaire, you will gain unique insight into the healing and teaching roles of your companion animals, both past and current, and the profound gifts they offer. War Against Ourselves Jacklyn Cock, 2007-10 For many people, nature means wilderness and wild animals. It is experienced indirectly through magazines and television programs or through visiting the highly managed environments of national parks. Nature, however, is not external, separate from the world of people we live in; nature and interact with it daily. In this book, Jacklyn Cock describes how these intricate and complex interconnections, seen and unseen, are often ignored. Each of the ten chapters examines an aspect of our relationship with nature. The War Against Ourselves compels us to reexamine our relationship with nature to change our practices and dissolve present binary divisions such as people vs. animals, economic growth vs. environmental protection, nature vs. culture. It demonstrates the need for an inclusive politics which brings together peace, social and environmental justice activists who believe that another world is both possible and necessary. Book cover Animalities Michael Lundblad, 2017-05-24 New and cutting edge work in animality studies, human animal studies and posthumanism. Representations of animality continue to proliferate in various kinds of literary and cultural texts. This pioneering volume explores the critical interface between animal and animality studies, marking out the terrain in relation to twentieth century literature and film. The range of texts considered here is intentionally broad, answering questions like: how do contemporary writers such as Amitav Ghosh, Terry Tempest Williams and Indra Sinha help us to think about not only animals but also humans as animals? What kinds of creatures are being constructed by contemporary artists such as Patricia Piccinini, Alexis Rockman and Michael Pestel? How do animalities animate such diverse texts as the poetry of two women publishing under the name of a Michael Field or an early film by Thomas Edison depicting the electrocution of a circus elephant named Topsy? Connecting these issues to fields as diverse as environmental studies and ecocriticism, queer theory, gender studies, feminist theory, illness and disability studies, postcolonial theory and biopolitics, the volume also raises further questions about disciplinarity itself while hoping to inspire further work beyond the human in future interdisciplinary scholarship. Key Features: 10 provocative case studies focused on representations and discourses of animals and animality in twentieth and twenty first century literature, art and film in English. New work from both internationally renowned and emerging figures in the burgeoning fields of animality studies, human animal studies and posthumanism, suggesting innovative and significant new directions to explore.
