Where Flaubert Lies Chronology Mythology And History Cambridge Studies In French:

Where Flaubert Lies Claire Addison,1996-05-31 This book opens crucial new perspectives on the vexed question of chronology in Flaubert's work Claire Addison argues that Flaubert's manipulation of dates is deliberate and that what have previously been dismissed as inadvertent errors are in fact evidence of the strong presence of Flaubert's personal mythology in his work creating links between his family life events in historical Europe and events in the life of his literary characters Her reading sheds new light on the subtle and complex interplay between the life and work of the author A Gustave Flaubert Encyclopedia Laurence M. Porter,2001-03-30 Gustave Flaubert is probably the most famous novelist of nineteenth century France and his best known work Madame Bovary is read in numerous comparative literature and French courses His fiction set the standard to which other authors turned to learn their craft and his cult of art and his unrelenting search for stylistic perfection inspired many later writers such as Maupassant Proust Conrad Faulkner and Joyce His denunciation of materialistic corrupt society his fascination with altered states of consciousness his oscillation between metaphysical longings and a radical nihilism and his deep seated mistrust of the adequacy of words themselves anticipate the works of contemporary authors This reference is a convenient guide to his life and writings Included in this volume are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries on Flaubert's individual works and major characters historical persons and events that shaped his life the themes that run throughout his writings the critical approaches employed by scholars studying his works and related topics of interest Each entry is written by an expert contributor and most close with a brief bibliography All of his major works are treated at length and the volume mentions nearly every unpublished project of his that has a title The book concludes with a selected general bibliography of major studies History and Ideology in Proust Michael Sprinker,1994-11-03 This critical reinterpretation of Proust's Remembrance of Things Past offers a fresh socio historical analysis of the novel Nathalie Sarraute, Fiction and Theory Ann Jefferson,2000-07-03 Nathalie Sarraute 1900-99 is regarded as one of the major French novelists of the twentieth century Initially hailed as a leading theorist and exemplar of the nouveau roman she has come to be regarded as an important author in her own right with her own distinctive concerns In this major 2000 study of Sarraute the first in English since her death Ann Jefferson offers a fresh perspective on Sarraute's entire oeuvre her novels her outstanding autobiography Enfance and her influential critical writings by focusing on the crucial issue of difference which emerges as one of her central preoccupations Drawing on a variety of critical approaches Jefferson explores Sarraute's fundamental ambivalence to differences of various kinds including questions of gender and genre She argues that difference is simultaneously asserted and denied in Sarraute's work and that the notion of difference so often celebrated by other writers and thinkers is shown in Sarraute's work to be inseparable from ambiguity and anxiety Gender and Genre in Medieval French Literature Simon Gaunt,1995-05-11 Wide ranging study of gender and the underlying ideologies of Old French and Occitan literature New Approaches in Flaubert Studies Tony Williams,Mary

Orr,1999 A collection of critical essays on the work of Flaubert Nabokov, History and the Texture of Time Will Norman,2012 This book argues that the apparent evasion of history in Vladimir Nabokov's fiction conceals a profound engagement with social and therefore political temporalities While Nabokov scholarship has long assumed the same position as Nabokov himself that his works exist in a state of historical exceptionalism this study restores the content context and commentary to Nabokovian time by reading his American work alongside the violent upheavals of twentieth century ideological conflicts in Europe and the United States This approach explores how the author's characteristic temporal manipulations and distortions function as a defensive dialectic against history an attempt to salvage fiction for autonomous aesthetics Tracing Nabokov's understanding of the relationship between history and aesthetics from nineteenth century Russia through European modernism to the postwar American academy the book offers detailed contextualized readings of Nabokov's major writings exploring the tensions fissures and failures in Nabokov's attempts to assert aesthetic control over historical time In reading his response to the rise of totalitarianism the Holocaust and Cold War Norman redresses the commonly expressed admiration for Nabokov's heroic resistance to history by suggesting the ethical aesthetic and political costs of reading and writing in its denial This book offers a rethinking of Nabokov's location in literary history the ideological impulses which inform his fiction and the importance of temporal aesthetics in negotiating the matrices of modernism

Multicultural Writers from Antiquity to 1945 Alba Amoia,Bettina L. Knapp,2001-10-30 The final decades of the 20th century have seen an explosion of interest in multiculturalism But multiculturalism is more than an awareness of the different cultures comprising contemporary societies For centuries people from around the world have come in contact with cultures other than their own and their exposure to multiple cultures has fostered their creativity and ability to make lasting contributions to civilization The effects of multiculturalism are especially apparent in literature since writers tend to be particularly aware of their environments and record their experiences This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries for more than 100 world writers from antiquity to 1945 who were significantly influenced by cultures other than their own Included are entries for major canonical Ancient and Modern writers of the Western and Eastern worlds Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of multicultural themes and contexts a summary of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies By illuminating the shaping influence of multiculturalism on these writers the volume points to the lasting value of multiculturalism in the contemporary world
