

Driving in Bad Weather

Rain, fog, and snow conditions require a different driving technique because of reduced traction and visibility. Keep your car well-maintained and exercise great caution when you need to drive in bad weather.

Towing in Bad Weather, Towing a Trailer

Towing a Trailer

Your vehicle is not designed to tow a trailer.

In wet weather when towing, or being towed by, other vehicles, the extra load creates problems with traction and the need for extra caution on the road.

describes the Highway Design and Maintenance Standards model HDM III and its constituent components and provides a comprehensive discussion of the submodels their interaction and the operational parameters involved The HDM III is designed to make comparative cost estimates and economic evaluations of different construction and maintenance options including different time staging strategies either for a given road project on a specific alignment or for groups of links on an entire network The user can search for the alternative with the lowest discounted total cost and can call for rates of return net present values or first year benefits If the HDM is used in conjunction with the Expenditure Budgeting Model the set of design and maintenance options that would minimize total discounted transport costs or maximize net present value of an entire highway system under year to year budget constraints can be determined The HDM III model is not only a readily usable program for handling voluminous computations automatically it is also a repository of the most extensive and consistent set of empirical data on the subject The information includes the qualitative structure and quantitative parameters of relationships among construction standards maintenance traffic characteristics road deterioration and vehicle operating
