Integrating Computer Technology Into the Classroom Gary R. Morrison, Deborah L. Lowther, 2005 This book focuses on integrating computers into teaching through the use of an inquiry-based, easy-to-use model for creating lesson plans. Teachers can use this 10-step process to design student-centered learning environments in which computer technology is integrated as a tool for learning rather than as a delivery mechanism. In addition, this book provides many practical examples and tips throughout to facilitate student understanding of chapter content. Rethinking Computers and Instruction Integrating Technology for Inquiry The NTeQ Model Teacher as Designer I Teacher's Toolbox Teacher as Designer II Teacher's Lesson Planning Implementation From Plan to Action Teacher as Facilitator Managing the Classroom The Role of Assessment Word Processing Spreadsheets Databases Presentation of Results The Internet in the Classroom Educational Software Computers as a Tool for Teachers The American System of Criminal Justice George F. Cole, Christopher E. Smith, 2004 This classic best seller, commonly referred to as The Eagle, encourages students to become better citizens, to determine what justice means in our society, and what role individuals play. This text examines criminal justice as an interdisciplinary endeavor, sharing elements from criminology, sociology, law, history, psychology, and political science. It challenges students to balance the mechanics and system of criminal justice with the human side of the story. Cole and Smith present an exciting and relevant introduction to the field of criminal justice. The text combines solid research and intellectual rigor in an approachable manner, with detailed attention to current and compelling events to help students appreciate the many aspects of the discipline and how they can participate in the system as citizens of the United States.
