Unlikely Stories Mostly Canongate Classics By Gray Alasdair 2003 Paperback:

Reading the graphic surface Glyn White, 2018-02-28 This book critically engages with the visual appearance of prose fiction where it is manipulated by authors from alterations in typography to the deconstruction of the physical form of the book It reappraises the range of effects it is possible to create through the use of graphic devices and explores why literary criticism has dismissed such features as either unreadable experimental gimmicks or more recently as examples of the worst kind of postmodern decadence Through the examination of problematical texts which utilise the graphic surface in innovative and unusual ways including Samuel Beckett's Watt B S Johnson's Albert Angelo Christine Brooke-Rose's Thru and Alasdair Gray's Lanark this book demonstrates that an awareness of the graphic surface can make significant contributions to interpretation

Visual Devices in Contemporary Prose Fiction Simon Barton, 2016-01-26 This book acknowledges that the reader of a novel looks at and sees the page before they begin to read any text placed upon it Thus any disruptions to how a traditional page should look can have a large impact on the reading process The book critically engages with the visual appearance of graphically innovative contemporary prose fiction

British and Irish Short-fiction Writers, 1945-2000 Cheryl Alexander Malcolm, David Malcolm, 2006 Essays on British and Irish authors of short stories written between 1945 and 2000 that are traditional in subject matter and technique and cover social political and economic changes that occurred during this time The Irish contribution to short fiction in English is second to none Short fiction in languages other than English also plays a significant role in the postwar British and Irish literary world including the use of the working class Scottish dialect

Libraries in Literature Alice Crawford, Robert Crawford, 2022 A collection that explores how libraries have been represented in English language fiction drama and poetry from the early modern period to the present day This accessible volume covers literature from Don Quixote to the work of M R James Agatha Christie and Haruki Murakami and draws together original essays by prestigious contributors
