Urban Planning Today A Harvard Design Magazine Reader:

Urban Planning Today William S. Saunders, Urban Planning Today reports on projects in Atlanta Boston Chicago New York and Portland bringing perspectives of urban design city planning criticism and law to bear on the mixed bag of results observed in these cities Landscape as Urbanism Charles Waldheim, 2022-03-15 A definitive intellectual history of landscape urbanism It has become conventional to think of urbanism and landscape as opposing one another or to think of landscape as merely providing temporary relief from urban life as shaped by buildings and infrastructure But driven in part by environmental concerns landscape has recently emerged as a model and medium for the city with some theorists arguing that landscape architects are the urbanists of our age In Landscape as Urbanism one of the field's pioneers presents a powerful case for rethinking the city through landscape Charles Waldheim traces the roots of landscape as a form of urbanism from its origins in the Renaissance through the twentieth century Growing out of progressive architectural culture and populist environmentalism the concept was further informed by the nineteenth century invention of landscape architecture as a new art charged with reconciling the design of the industrial city with its ecological and social conditions In the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries as urban planning shifted from design to social science and as urban design committed to neotraditional models of town planning landscape urbanism emerged to fill a void at the heart of the contemporary urban project Generously illustrated Landscape as Urbanism examines works from around the world by designers ranging from Ludwig Hilberseimer Andrea Branzi and Frank Lloyd Wright to James Corner Adriaan Geuze and Michael Van Valkenburgh The result is the definitive account of an emerging field that is likely to influence the design of cities for decades to come Harvard Design Magazine, 2006 Encyclopedia of Urban Studies Ray Hutchison, 2009-09-15 The United Nations estimates that by 2030 more than two thirds of the total world population will live in urban areas Most of this increase will take place not in Europe or in the United States but in the megacities and newly emerging urban regions of what used to be called the developing world Urban studies is an expansive and growing field covering many disciplines and professional fields each with its own schedule of conferences journals and publication series These two volumes address the specific theories key studies and important figures that have influenced not just the individual discipline but also the field of urban studies more generally The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies is intended to present an overview of current work in the field and to serve as a guide for further reading in the field Key Features Includes important work and traditions from each of the urban disciplines including urban anthropology urban economics urban geography urban history urban politics urban psychology and urban sociology Addresses both the growth and expansion of urban areas urbanization and the nature and quality of urban life urbanism Demonstrates the international and interdisciplinary nature of the field with contributions from scholars in many different countries Confronts a number of important issues ranging from individual problems of poverty to societal problems of provision of adequate housing and social exclusion Provides entries on a number of cities including those in different historical periods and regions of the world and those that have been important in the development of urban studies

Key Themes Disciplinary Approaches in Urban Studies Urban Studies Topical Areas Urban Issues Urban Planning Urban Theory Urban Transportation Urban Culture Places Cities Persons

The Encyclopedia of Urban Studies serves as an introduction to topics of significance in urban studies for an audience that includes undergraduate students beginning graduate students of urban studies and the related urban disciplines a broader public that has an interest in the new urban world and even established teachers and scholars who are exploring new areas of study

Online Research Methods in Urban and Planning Studies: Design and Outcomes Silva, Carlos Nunes, 2012-01-31 This book provides an overview of online research methods in urban and planning studies exploring and discussing new digital tools and Web based research methods as well as the scholarly legal and ethical challenges associated with their use Provided by publisher

Is Landscape... ? Gareth Doherty, Charles Waldheim, 2015-10-08 Is Landscape surveys multiple and myriad definitions of landscape Rather than seeking a singular or essential understanding of the term the collection postulates that landscape might be better read in relation to its cognate terms across expanded disciplinary and professional fields The publication pursues the potential of multiple provisional working definitions of landscape to both disturb and develop received understandings of landscape architecture These definitions distinguish between landscape as representational medium academic discipline and professional identity Beginning with an inquiry into the origins of the term itself Is Landscape features essays by a dozen leading voices shaping the contemporary reading of landscape as architecture and beyond

The New Architectural Pragmatism William S. Saunders, 2007 In response to the contentious process surrounding the selection of a design for the World Trade Center site the use of spectacular buildings to brand cities and institutions and the dizzying transformations of the skylines of Shanghai and Dubai public awareness of architecture and design has perhaps never been higher At the same time architecture itself is undergoing an identity crisis as it confronts fundamental issues the effect of digital technology on design the pervasive impact of global capitalism and whether to embrace or resist popular media and taste The New Architectural Pragmatism collects the most provocative penetrating and influential attempts by leading theorists and practitioners in the field to define what architectural practice should be at the beginning of the twenty first century Written in the aftermath of modernism's utopian impulse and postmodernism's detached playfulness the essays gathered here express and critique a new spirit of cultural and political engagement with contemporary society Interrogating the architect's social responsibility the contributors deliberate about how much we should ask of architecture and suggest that in the coming century architecture must be at once flexible and robust responsive and self directed Contributors Stan Allen George Baird Lucy Bullivant James Corner Hal Foster Kenneth Frampton K Michael Hays Dave Hickey Robert Levit Evonne Levy Reinhold Martin Jorge Silveti Robert Somol Philippe Starck Roemer van Toorn Sarah Whiting Alejandro Zaera Polo William S Saunders is editor of Harvard Design Magazine and assistant dean for external relations at Harvard

University's Graduate School of Design He is the editor of four previous Harvard Design Magazine Readers published by Minnesota

MCM - Milan, Capital of the Modern Lorenzo Degli Esposti, 2021-04-15 MCM Milano Capital of the Modern edited by Lorenzo Degli Esposti is made up of texts and images from over 300 contributors from Europe and the US across three generations involved in the activities of the Padiglione Architettura in EXPO Belle Arti of Vittorio Sgarbi a programme by the Regione Lombardia hosted in the Grattacielo Pirelli during the EXPO 2015 They investigate the relationships between modern architecture the city of Milan Razionalismo reconstruction Tendenza Radical Design up to current research and the city in general between single and specific works and the large scale of the urban territory in the contradictions between architecture autonomy and its dependence on specific place and historical time The idea of MCM is that each capital of the Modern brings an original version of modernity in architecture in the specific Milanese case this kind of Modern is characterized by the simultaneous presence of abstract systematic and syntactic features and an ontological conception of both buildings and architectural and urban voids

New Geographies Stephen Ramos, Neyran Turan, 2009-09 New Geographies journal aims to examine the emergence of the geographic a new but for the most part latent paradigm in design today to articulate it and to bring it to bear effectively on the social role of design Although much of the analysis of this context in architecture landscape and urbanism derives from social anthropology human geography and economics the journal aims to extend these arguments to the impact of global changes on the spatial dimension whether in terms of the emergence of global spatial networks global cities or nomadic practices and how these inform design practices today Through essays and design projects the journal aims to identify the relationship between the very small and the very large and intends to open up discussions on the expanded role of the designer with an emphasis on disciplinary reframings repositionings and attitudes

Nature, Landscape, and Building for Sustainability William S. Saunders, 2008 The complexity and scale of the environmental problems confronting humanity today provoke a wide range of responses from indifference to anger to creativity Among a growing number of architects landscape architects and planners however these problems have inspired a new vision sustainability to guide their practices In Nature Landscape and Building for Sustainability a diverse group of contributors considers the concept of sustainability both philosophically and practically Some take a broad view of the divisions between nature and humanity exploring the incomprehensible scale of human intervention in the natural world the relationship between how we feel about nature and what we do about it and the commodification of the natural world Other essays focus on sustainable design practices sustainability's roots in the American conservation tradition its utility as a framework for future design practice and the necessity of moving beyond demonstration projects into the mainstream Together these essays suggest that the gap between the promise and reality of sustainable design although significant can be bridged through diligence and practice Contributors D Michelle Addington Yale U John Beardsley Harvard Graduate School of Design Albert Borgmann U of Montana Missoula Peter Buchanan Peter Del Tredici Harvard Graduate School of Design
