Global Perspectives on Recruiting International Students Belal Shneikat, Cihan Cobanoglu, Cem Tanova, 2021-06-01 Although many countries have created effective strategies to recruit more international students due to proven economic and social benefits recruiting international students as a field of research lacks coherence Filling this gap this book provides a holistic and comprehensive overview of this emerging research area

Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Elizabeth Balbachevsky, Yuzhuo Cai, Heather Eggins, Svetlana Shenderova, 2020-12-15 International cooperation in higher education is not new but gained new urgency in recent years with the expansion of the knowledge economy the easy flow of communications and the emulation created by international rankings In the European Union's countries international competition and the process of political and economic unification required national higher education institutions to give priority to international cooperation while large countries such as Russia China Brazil and South Africa intensified their effort to modernise their institutions and link them to the international flow of science technology and talent leading similar trends in other countries in their regions These global trends are shaped by the national culture and institutions of each country and the existing national and international cooperation policies and instruments on all sides In Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Challenges and Opportunities from Four Continents the authors look at how these interactions occur from the perspectives of the European Union and the countries involved and make recommendations on policies that could make international cooperation more fluid and beneficial to all parties involved

Universities and the Occult Rituals of the Corporate World Felicity Wood, 2018-04-17 Universities and the Occult Rituals of the Corporate World explores the metaphorical parallels between corporatised market oriented universities and aspects of the occult In the process the book shows that the forms of mystery mythmaking and ritual now common in restructured institutions of higher education stem from their new power structures and procedures and the economic and sociopolitical factors that have generated them Wood argues that universities have acquired occult aspects as the beliefs and practices underpinning present day market driven academic discourse and practice weave spells of corporate potency invoking the bewildering magic of the market and the arcane mysteries of capitalism thriving on equivocation and evasion Making particular reference to South African universities the book demonstrates the ways in which apparently rational features of contemporary Western and westernised societies have acquired occult aspects It also includes discussion of higher education institutions in other countries where neoliberal economic agendas are influential such as the UK the USA the Eurozone states and Australia Providing a unique and thought provoking look at the impact of the marketisation of Higher Education this book will be essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of higher education educational policy and neoliberalism It should also be of great interest to academics in the fields of anthropology folklore and cultural studies as well as business economics and management
