Tunnel And The Light Essential Insights On Living And Dying:

Tunnel and the Light Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, 1999-02-26 This is an engaging introduction to the beliefs work and life of psychiatrist Elisabeth Kubler Ross who declared war on the denial of death in America New York Times Based on her more than 30 years experience with the dying this book offers both challenge and hope The American Book of Living and Dying Richard F. Groves, Henriette Anne Klauser, 2015-12-16 For most people the thought of dying or caring for a terminally ill friend or family member raises fears and questions as old as humanity What is a good death What appropriate preparations should be made How do we best support our loved ones as life draws to its close In this nondenominational handbook Richard F Groves and Henriette Anne Klauser provide comfort direction and hope to the dying and their caregivers through nine archetypal stories that illustrate the most common end of life concerns Drawing from personal experiences the authors offer invaluable guidance on easing emotional pain and navigating this difficult final passage With a compelling new preface this edition also features an overview of the hospice movement a survey of Celtic Tibetan Egyptian and other historic perspectives on the sacred art of dying as well as various therapies techniques and rituals to alleviate suffering stimulate reflection and strengthen interpersonal bonds The American Book of Living and Dying gives us courage to trust our deepest instincts and reminds us that by telling the stories of those who have passed we remember honor and continue to learn from them On Loss and Living Onward Melissa Dalton-Bradford, 2014-05-06 After experiencing the loss of her first born son Melissa Dalton Bradford thrust herself into literature searching for those who have experienced similar devastating loss What she found was comfort and guidance to help her overcome the pain of losing a loved one and the faith to face her own life without him In On Loss and Living Onward she has compiled the best resources that will guide the living through the process of grief Superbly written essays by author and bereaved mother accompany each of five sections Life at Death Love at Death Living After Death Learning From Death Life Love and Light Over Death Quotes are from across history geography and the philosophical spectrum A substantial bibliography and suggested readings list is included Death and Dying John F. Szabo, 2009-11-02 While it can be traced to the 1700s the term thanatology has gained traction in recent decades to refer to the study of death Because of the breadth of the published material and the challenges of discovery in large bibliographic databases and catalogs finding and identifying monographic material on death dying grief and bereavement can be extremely challenging Although there have been several bibliographical resources published on thanatology those titles were incomplete limited in scope or leaned heavily toward one area of the field In Death and Dying An Annotated Bibliography of the Thanatological Literature John F Szabo provides more than 2 200 citations of monographs on the science and study of death and dying Among the areas this volume addresses are the psychological philosophical and attitudinal aspects coping and dealing with the burdens of caregiving and working in the helping professions instructional and educational topics for practitioners primarily health care providers cultural differences in bereavement rituals and grief mourning and loss In addition notable titles on or relating to death and dying in popular culture death themes in literature methods of death or specific ethical policy or public issues are also included when they contribute important information to subject areas on which the book focuses This book will be helpful to students researchers academics caregivers health care professionals psychologists social workers and anyone with an interest in death dying bereavement or the care of the terminally ill

Nothing Left but Love Glenda Rueger Payne, 2017-02-06 What you'll find when you open this book There may come a time when you have to see a family member slowly progress through the ravages of illness and imminent death Some of us may have the stressful and thankless responsibility of being a primary caregiver at the end of another's life How would you do if faced with this role especially if your family member was not someone who cared for you as you wanted to be nurtured and loved What if during childhood that person caused you great pain How loving could you really be How forgiving Could you be fully present for them during their time of pain and suffering This is the journey talented author Glenda Rueger Payne takes you on in her book Nothing Left But Love Glenda tells her powerful story through journal entries written during her mother's final days and reflections afterwards We feel the sweetness of Glenda's healing path to forgiveness She finds a way to give voice to those parts of herself that didn't have a voice as a child She offers a unique and personal daughter's perspective on the daily routine of the latter period of her mother's life as Alzheimers and congestive heart failure take over Reflections of her mother's decline are interspersed with moments of pure humor I recommend this book to anyone looking for a sense of how to come to terms with the past especially with a parent while building resilience and self empowerment Alina Frank Best selling author and EFT Matrix Reimprinting Trainer www.alinafrank.com

Only Love Remains Attilio Stajano, 2015-11-09 What happens to the dying in the final days and weeks of their lives What emotions come to the surface and what do they want to talk about Attilio Stajano a volunteer worker at the palliative care ward of a Brussels hospital presents a series of deeply moving personal encounters with seriously ill patients The dying he discovers have much to teach the living Whilst their stories are all different they share one thing in common in the end when all is said and done only love remains How should we respond to the challenge of death As a society and as individuals we can choose to be patient and sensitive giving dignity to those reaching the end of their lives even when those lives appear to have no further value The period leading to death can be full of profound experiences telling us much about the meaning of life and the abiding nature of love If we see the terminally ill as an inconvenience however we forego the possibility of finding unexpected resources in ourselves a tenderness a touch a readiness to assist that we did not know we were capable of Underlying this book is the momentous and very current debate over euthanasia In a comprehensive appendix the author reports on the provision of palliative care services and the laws governing euthanasia in European and English speaking countries around the world and the implications these have for the way we value and care for the dying

Spiritual Care Reflections from a Hospice Chaplain Jr. Charles J Lopez, 2015-10-13 From the good sisters and monks of the 11th century hospice care grew through the passions of 20th century people like Dame Cecily Saunders and Elizabeth Kubler Ross and into the recognized modality it is today of compassionate and palliative care for those who are on their final journey from this world Pastor Lopez rightly fills this name as he reaches out not only to patients and their families but the team of nurses doctors social workers and caregivers who offer their hands and hearts to those in need Within these pages you will find practical and compassionate words along with hands and a heart that knows the pain of loss and feet that are willing to accompany the reader on their journey

Toward More Family-Centered Family Sciences Howard M. Bahr, Kathleen S. Bahr, 2009-03-16 Much academic writing on families reflects the ideal of non involvement and distanced subject matter Toward More Family Centered Family Sciences suggests that the family sciences in their effort to be scientific have perpetuated this distance between researcher and subject to the detriment of both The authors argue that family and kinship ties are transcendent ties boundary crossing in numerous ways They place an emphasis on family love in contrast and in addition to romantic love and criticize current approaches for neglecting the importance of transcendent concepts such as love commitment respect and sacrifice in the development and well being of family structures Drawing from insights both inside and outside of academia the authors seek to reincorporate transcendent concepts into the study of the family as a unit of society They argue for a more collaborative family centered family science and offer recommendations for how family researchers might work to change the scientific monologue about families to a systemic dialogue with families

Precious Enemy Toby Jennings, 2017-04-17 King Solomon asserted love is as strong as death Song of Solomon 8 6 Solomon the wisest of all Israel's kings recognized that while every human would eventually succumb to death death is not ultimate in power The God whose essence is love designed and created both human life and death as instruments for the display of his own splendor and purposes Neither human life nor death then can deviate from God's ultimate purpose and good for the creature made in his own image Biblically death serves as the perfect foil to mark both the immeasurable value of human life and at the same time the relatively limited value of it Rather than either worshipping or desecrating this finite gift of human life we can value it rightly and also worship the God who in his literally infinite wisdom gives and takes away life in accord with his good and gracious purposes
