eThekweni's Green and Ecological Infrastructure Policy Landscape Richard Meissner, 2020-08-31 This book offers the reader a deeper understanding of the eThekweni Metropolitan Municipality s green and ecological infrastructure policy landscape The author utilises the PULSE3 analytical framework to conduct an in depth examination and to show how experts frame and implement the municipality s green and ecological infrastructure strategies and projects Although the initial purpose of this book was to investigate the role of green and ecological infrastructures in eThekweni s water security aspirations the author realised that climate change adaptation and mitigation play a more central role in motivating the municipality to develop and implement such science driven projects To be sure science that is informed by a positivist paradigm guides how where and when the municipality should develop green and ecological infrastructures Furthermore a positivistic stance is generated in this policy landscape where science and politics meet at a local government level and the book offers an insight into the science policy interface as well as the normative and value orientations that positivism often ignores The book also shows the usefulness of the PULSE3 framework and how it can assist scientists in all fields to gain a deeper understanding of the complications that are faced by humankind This book fills a market gap by providing a view of how scientists think about problems and how to solve them by using established paradigms and theories

A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger, 2019-11-28 Theatre is not part of our vocabulary Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981 the year of famous anti apartheid play Woza Albert prompts the response yes indeed it is A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances pageants concerts sketches workshops and performance art over the last hundred years Its coverage includes African responses to pro British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910 such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934 organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo through anti apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard Maishe Maponya Gcina Mhlophe and many others right up to the present dramatization of state capture inequality and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little Building on Loren Kruger's personal observations of forty years as well as her published research A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of

Empire through the apartheid era to the multi lateral and multi lingual networks of the 21st century The final chapters use the Constitution s injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre

Rethinking Khoe and San Indigeneity, Language and Culture in Southern Africa Julie Grant,Keyan G. Tomaselli,2022-09-19 The San hunter gatherers and Khoe herders of southern Africa were dispossessed of their land before during and after the European colonial period which started in 1652 They were often enslaved and forbidden from practicing their culture and speaking their languages In South Africa under apartheid after 1948 they were reclassified as Coloured which further undermined Khoe and San culture forcing them to reconfigure and realign their identities and loyalties Southern Africa is no longer under colonial or apartheid rule the San and Khoe however continue in the struggle to maintain the remnants of their languages and cultures and are marginalised by the dominant peoples of the region The San in particular continue to command very extensive research attention from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and linguistics to genetics They are however usually studied as static historical objects but they are not merely peoples of the past as is often assumed they are very much alive in contemporary society with cultural and language needs This book brings together studies from a range of disciplines to examine what it means to be Indigenous Khoe and San in contemporary southern Africa It considers the current constraints on Khoe and San identity language and culture constantly negotiating an indeterminate social positioning where they are treated as the inconvenient indigenous Usually studied as original anthropos but out of their time this book shifts attention from the past to the present and how the San have negotiated language literacy and identity for coping in the period of modernity It reveals that Afrikaans is indeed an African language incubated not only by Cape Malay slaves working in the kitchens of the early Dutch settlers but also by the Khoe and San who interacted with sailors from passing ships plying the West coast of southern Africa from the 14th century The book re examines the idea of literacy its relationship to language and how these shape identity The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies

Expanding Approaches to Bible Translation James A. Maxey, 2025-05-22 The assertion in this book included within the BPC series is that translation is as fundamental to biblical material as performance both in its history as well as in its research approaches Translation in this sense is more than a transferal of meaning from one linguistic system to another Bible translation highlights innovative connections and conceptions to biblical texts in their promulgation reception and ever changing nature A predominant theory used throughout this book is social semiotic multimodality This communication theory informs an approach to translation that expands beyond words to other semiotic resources Sign Language embodied performance social media theater materiality and many other types of multimodal communications inform translation It is important to understand that the Bible is a translated experience Translation reflects the various ways in which the Bible has been mediated and appropriated throughout history It follows therefore that Bible translation as a global activity has been and continues to be influenced by the political and economic flows of history Race class ethnicity gender sexual orientation and other elements of our social locations directly influence the enterprise and results of Bible translation

The Short Story after Apartheid Graham K. Riach, 2023-10-15 Honourable Mention in the 2023 British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies Monograph Prize The Short Story after Apartheid offers the first major study of the anglophone short story in South Africa since apartheid's end. By focusing on the short story, this book complicates models of South African literature dominated by the novel and contributes to a much needed generic and formalist turn in postcolonial studies. Literary texts are sites of productive struggle between formal and extra formal concerns, and these brief, fragmentary, elliptical, formally innovative stories offer perspectives that reframe or revise important concerns of post-apartheid literature: the aesthetics of engaged writing, the politics of the past, class and race, the legacies of violence, and the struggle over the land. Through an analysis of key texts from the period by Nadine Gordimer, Ivan Vladislavi, Zo Wicomb, Phaswane Mpe, and Henrietta Rose Innes, this book assesses the place of the short story in post-apartheid writing and develops a fuller model of how artworks allow and disallow forms of social thought.
