A Geography of Jihad Stephanie Zehnle, 2020-01-20 This book addresses the Jihad movement that created the largest African state of the 19th century, the Sokoto Caliphate, existing for 99 years from 1804 until its military defeat by European colonial troops in 1903. The author carves out the entanglements of jihadist ideology and warfare with geographical concepts at Africa's periphery of the Islamic world, geographical knowledge about the boundary between the Land of Islam and the Land of War, the pre-colonial construction of the Muslim and the unbeliever, and the transfer of ideas between political elites and mobile actors: traders, pilgrims, slaves, soldiers, whose reports helped shape new definitions of the African frontier of Islam. Research for this book is based on the study of a very wide range of Arabic and West African Hausa/Fulfulde manuscripts. Their policies reveal the persistent reciprocity of jihadist warfare and territorial statehood of Africa and the Middle East. Stephanie Zehnle is Assistant Professor/JProf of Extra-European History at Kiel University Christian Albrechts University. Her work on African and trans-continental history includes research on the history of Islam, human-animal relations, and comics in Africa.

Islamism and Social Movements in North Africa, the Sahel and Beyond Aurelie Campana, Cédric Jourde, 2018-12-07 As North African, Middle Eastern, and Sahelian societies adapt to the post-Arab Spring era and the rise of violence across the area, various groups find in Islam an answer to the challenges of the era. This book explores how Islamist social movements, Sufi brotherhoods, and jihadi armed groups, in their great diversity, elaborate their social networks and recruit sympathizers and militants in complicated times. The book innovates by transcending regional boundaries, bringing together specialists of the three aforementioned regions. First, it highlights how geographically dispersed religious groups define themselves as members of a larger universal Umma while evolving in deeply embedded local contexts. Second, its contributors prioritize in-depth fieldwork research, offering fine-grained original insights into the manifold mobilization of Islamist inspired social movements in Egypt Libya Tunisia Mali Senegal Mauritania Burkina Faso and Western Europe The book sheds light on the tense debates and competition taking place amongst the different trends composing the Islamist galaxy and between other groups that also claim an Islamic legitimacy including Sufi brotherhoods and ethnic and or tribal groups as well This book was originally published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics
