White Middle Class Identities And Urban Schooling Identity Studies In The Social Sciences:

White Middle-Class Identities and Urban Schooling D. Reay, G. Crozier, D. James, 2011-03-31 This book examines experiences and implications of against the grain school choices where white middle class families choose ordinary and low performing secondary schools for their children It offers a unique view of identity formation taking in matters like family history locality and whiteness

Upper Middle Class Social Reproduction María Luisa Méndez, Modesto Gayo, 2018-06-01 In the contemporary context of increasing inequality and various forms of segregation this volume analyzes the transition to neoliberal politics in Santiago de Chile Using an innovative methodological approach that combines georeferenced data and multi stage cluster analysis Méndez and Gayo study the old and new mechanisms of social reproduction among the upper middle class In so doing they not only capture the interconnections between macro and microsocial dimensions such as urban dynamics schooling demands cultural repertoires and socio spatial trajectories but also offer a detailed account of elite formation intergenerational accumulation and economic cultural and social inheritance dynamics

Elites and People Fredrik Engelstad, Trygve Gulbrandsen, Marte Mangset, Mari Teigen, 2019-10-07 This volume contains an Open Access chapter The present volume of Comparative Social Research offers a broad set of comparative studies of elites stretching from the Arab Spring in Tunisia and Egypt to women's political leadership in Brazil and Germany via attainment of elite positions among minorities in France and the US

Governance and Domestic Policy-Making in Saudi Arabia Mark C. Thompson, Neil Quilliam, 2022-03-24 Saudi Vision 2030 and the National Transformation Plan 2020 are governmental initiatives to diversify Saudi Arabia's economy and implement nationwide social changes Media and scholarly attention often describe the success or failure of these ambitious visions This book shifts the focus to instead examine and evaluate the actual processes of domestic policymaking and governance that are being mapped out to achieve them The book is unique in its breadth with case studies from across different sectors including labour markets defence health youth energy and the environment Each analyses the challenges that the country's leading institutions face in making shaping and implementing the tailored policies that are being designed to change the country's future In doing so they reveal the factors that either currently facilitate or constrain effective and viable domestic policymaking and governance in the Kingdom The study offers new and ground breaking research based on the first hand experiences of academics researchers policy makers and practitioners who have privileged access to Saudi Arabia At a time when analysis and reportage on Saudi Arabia usually highlights the high politics of foreign policy this book sheds light on the low politics to show the extent to which Saudi policy society economics and culture is changing

Feeding the Middle Classes Kate Gibson, 2023-11-20 Political and public stories about class and food rarely scrutinize how socio economic and cultural resources enable access to certain foods Tracing the symbolic links between everyday eating at home and broader social frameworks this book examines how classed relations play out in middle class homes to show why class is relevant to all understandings of food in Great Britain The author illuminates how good food and the identities configured through its consumption is associated with middle class lifestyles and why this relationship is often unquestioned and thus saliently normalized Considering food consumption in a wider social context the book offers an alternative understanding of class relations which extends academic political and public debates about privilege

Class, Trauma, Identity Giorgos Bithymitris, 2023-04-14 This book is a dialectic and multi perspective examination of classed traumas in late modernity The primary anchoring question is whether and how class becomes a condition of possibility for coping with traumas What does it mean to experience deindustrialization crises or domestic violence from a specific class position Do the coping mechanisms differ along the lines of class gender race age or ethnicity The text negotiates such questions travelling back and forth from psychoanalysis to sociology and from the global to the local while critically engaging with memories narratives and myths engraved into social and personal histories Through a dialogic quest for what is silenced and what is salient within oral written and visual testimonies it foregrounds what the upper classes prefer to neglect the traumatizing core of the new class divide Rather than idealizing or vilifying the dominated this study calls for an exploration of practices narrations and spaces whereby alienation and integration co exist antagonistically producing hybrid and fragmented but also potentially transformative subjectivities This book will be of interest to scholars of humanities and social sciences primarily for those studying social stratification and inequalities sociology of emotions identity theory trauma and memory political psychoanalysis labour history and ethnography

Privilege, Agency and Affect C. Maxwell, P. Aggleton, 2013-10-22 Drawing on a range of theoretical perspectives and engaging with new empirical evidence from around the world this collection examines how privilege agency and affect are linked and where possibilities for social change might lie

The Working Classes and Higher Education Amy E. Stich, Carrie Freie, 2015-12-22 Within the broader context of the global knowledge economy wherein the college for all discourse grows more and more pervasive and systems of higher education become increasingly stratified by social class important and timely questions emerge regarding the future social location and mobility of the working classes Though the working classes look very different from the working classes of previous generations the weight of a universal working class identity background amounts to much of the same economic vulnerability and negative cultural stereotypes all of which continue to present obstacles for new generations of working class youth many of whom pursue higher education as a necessity rather than a choice Using a sociological lens contributors examine the complicated relationship between the working classes and higher education through students distinct experiences challenges and triumphs during three moments on a transitional continuum the transition from secondary to higher education experiences within higher education and the transition from higher education to the workforce In doing so this volume challenges the popular notion of higher education as a means to equality of opportunity and social mobility for working class students

Middle-class School Choice in Urban Spaces Emma Rowe, 2016-12-01 Middle class School Choice in Urban Spaces examines government funded public schools from a range of perspectives and scholarship in order to examine the historical political and economic conditions of public schooling within a globalized post welfare context In this book Rowe argues that post welfare policy conditions are detrimental to government funded public schools as they engender consistent pressure in rearticulating the public school in alignment with the market produce tensions in serving the more historical conceptualizations of public schooling and are preoccupied by contemporary profit driven concerns Chapters focus on public schooling from different global perspectives with examples from Chile and the US to examine how various social movements encapsulate ideologies around public schooling Rowe also draws upon a rich five year ethnographic study of campaigns lobbying the Victorian State Government in Australia for a brand new local specific public school Critical attention is paid to the public school as a means to achieve empowerment and overcome discrimination and both a local and global lens are used to identify how parents choose the public school the values they attach to it and the strategies they use to obtain it Also considered however are how quality gaps distances and differences between public schools threaten to undermine the democracy of education as a means for individuals to be socially mobile and escape poverty This book makes an important contribution to our understanding of global social movements and activism around public education As such it will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the field of education specifically those working on school choice class and identity as well as educational geography

International Handbook of Research on Multicultural Science Education Mary M. Atwater, 2022-06-30 This handbook gathers in one volume the major research and scholarship related to multicultural science education that has developed since the field was named and established by Atwater in 1993 Culture is defined in this handbook as an integrated pattern of shared values beliefs languages worldviews behaviors artifacts knowledge and social and political relationships of a group of people in a particular place or time that the people use to understand or make meaning of their world each other and other groups of people and to transmit these to succeeding generations The research studies include both different kinds of qualitative and quantitative studies The chapters in this volume reflect differing ideas about culture and its impact on science learning and teaching in different K 14 contexts and policy issues Research findings about groups that are underrepresented in STEM in the United States and in other countries related to language issues and indigenous knowledge are included in this volume
