Whiteness Class And The Legacies Of Empire On Home Ground:

Whiteness, Class and the Legacies of Empire K. Tyler, 2012-04-11 This book explores why it is white ethnicity has been rendered invisible arguing that contemporary people's conceptions of themselves are conditioned by and derive from the unknown and forgotten legacy of a colonial past that cannot be confined to the past

A Moral Economy of Whiteness Steve Garner, 2015-08-14 A Moral Economy of Whiteness presents a working model for understanding the main ways in which white UK people make race through talking about immigration in the twenty first century Based on extensive empirical interviews Steve Garner establishes four overlapping frames through which white English people understand immigration This comprises a narrative of unequal treatment where equality is a dirty word because it is seen as an agenda for redistributing resources to undeserving ethnic minorities non integrating migrants and unproductive white people Political correctness is seen as the ideological glue binding this unfair system People are thus retreating from Britishness into a more exclusive Englishness Garner explores the context of these understandings the dominance of neoliberal market rationales in which the State deprioritises anti discrimination work He concludes that these frames only make sense in a social world where Britain's imperial past has no bearing on the present and where racism in popular and media culture becomes purely a story of individual deviancy This book generates numerous international points of comparison that deepen our understanding of the backlash against multiculturalism in the West It will appeal to scholars and students of sociology social policy anthropology political science immigration multiculturalism nationalism and British studies

Learie Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire Jeffrey Hill, 2018-12-13 Who was Learie Constantine And what can he tell us about the politics of race and race relations in 20th century Britain and the Empire Through examining the life times and opinions of this Trinidadian cricketer turned politician Learie Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire explores the centrality of race in British politics and society Unlike conventional biographical studies of Constantine this unique approach to his life and the racially volatile context in which it was lived moves away from the good man narrative commonly attributed to his rise to pre eminence as a spokesman against racial discrimination and as the first black peer in the House of Lords Through detailing how Constantine's idea of assimilation was criticized then later rejected by successive activists in the politics of race Jeffrey Hill offers an alternative and more sophisticated analysis of Constantine's contributions to and complex relationship with the fight against racial inequalities inherent in British domestic and imperial society

Echoes of Empire Kalypso Nicolaïdis, Berny Sebe, Gabrielle Maas, 2014-12-23 How does our colonial past echo through today's global politics How have former empire builders sought vindication or atonement and formerly colonized states reversal or retribution This groundbreaking book presents a panoramic view of attitudes to empires past and present seen not only through the hard politics of international power structures but also through the nuances of memory historiography and national and minority cultural identities Bringing together leading historians political scientists and international relations scholars from across the globe Echoes of Empire emphasizes Europe's colonial legacy whilst also highlighting the importance of non-European power centres Ottoman Russian Chinese Japanese in shaping world politics then and now Echoes of Empire bridges the divide between disciplines to trace the global routes travelled by objects ideas and people and forms a radically different notion of the term empire itself This will be an essential companion to courses on international relations and imperial history as well as a fascinating read for anyone interested in Western hegemony North South relations global power shifts and the longue duree

The Intersections of Whiteness Evangelia Kindinger, Mark Schmitt, 2019-01-04 Trumpism and the racially implied Islamophobia of the travel ban Brexit and the yearning for Britain's past imperial grandeur Black Lives Matter the public backlash against Merkel's refugee policies in Germany These seemingly national responses to the changing demographics in a multitude of Western nations need to be understood as effects of a global transnational crisis of whiteness The Intersections of Whiteness brings together scholars from different disciplines to shed light on these manifestations in the United States the United Kingdom South Africa and Germany Applying methodology stemming from critical race theory's investment in intersectionality the contributions of this edited collection focus on specific intersections of whiteness with gender class space affect and nationality Offering valuable insights into the contours of whiteness and its instrumentalisation across different nations societies and cultures this incisive volume creates transnational dialogue and will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as critical whiteness and race studies gender studies cultural studies and social policy

Ethnicity and Inclusion David G. Horrell, 2020-10-29 Some of today's problematic ideologies of racial and religious difference can be traced back to constructions of the relationship between Judaism and early Christianity New Testament studies which developed contemporaneously with Europe's colonial expansion and racial ideologies is David Horrell argues therefore an important site at which to probe critically these ideological constructions and their contemporary implications In Ethnicity and Inclusion Horrell explores the ways in which ethnic and religious characteristics feature in key Jewish and early Christian texts challenging the widely accepted dichotomy between a Judaism that is ethnically defined and a Christianity that is open and inclusive Then through an engagement with whiteness studies he offers a critique of the implicit whiteness and Christianness that continue to dominate New Testament studies today arguing that a diversity of embodied perspectives is epistemologically necessary

Port Cities and Global Legacies A. Mah, 2014-10-14 Port cities have distinctive global dynamics with long histories of casual labour large migrant communities and international trade networks This in depth comparative study examines contradictory global legacies across themes of urban identity waterfront work and radicalism in key post industrial port cities worldwide

Nation, Class and Resentment Robin Mann, Steve Fenton, 2017-01-20 This timely book provides an extensive account of national identities in three of the constituent nations of the United Kingdom Wales Scotland and England In all three contexts identity and nationalism have become questions of acute interest in both academic and political commentary The authors take stock of a wealth of empirical material and explore how attitudes to nation and state can be understood by relating them to changes in contemporary capitalist economies and the consequences for particular class fractions The book argues that these changes give rise to a set of resentments among people who perceive themselves to be losing out concluding that class resentments depending on historical and political factors relevant to each nation can take the form of either sub state nationalism or right wing populism Nation Class and Resentment shows that the politics of resentment is especially salient in England where the promotion of a distinct national identity is problematic Students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology and politics will find this study of interest

Reflections on Polarisation and Inequalities in Brexit Pandemic Times
Katharine Tyler,Susan Banducci,Cathrine Degnen,2025-03-05 This is the first interdisciplinary edited collection that examines the manifestation of social inequalities and polarisations in Britain throughout the dual crises of the Brexit vote and the Covid 19 pandemic The volume demonstrates that Brexit and the pandemic are not self contained events but rather are major ongoing processes that have impacted all aspects of British social and political life Drawing on an array of empirical case studies conducted in the wake of the Brexit vote and during pandemic lockdowns chapters trace how these processes illuminate consolidate and amplify existing and entrenched social inequalities and polarisations that shape the fabric of British society including racial ethnic class migrant national and gendered inequalities The volume is divided into three parts centred on a the nation b the community and c the media Each section draws on diverse analytical frameworks and methodological approaches from across the social sciences arts and humanities to provide empirically grounded critiques of reductive media led narratives with the goal of accounting for and explaining the reproduction of social inequalities and emergence of polarisations in these Brexit pandemic times In so doing the case studies include critical analysis of lockdown novels the speeches of political elites from across the political spectrum ordinary people s everyday traditional and social media practices as well as their opinions based on the findings of large scale surveys and in depth place based ethnographic fieldwork conducted across rural urban and suburban areas of England Each chapter also includes artwork by contemporary artist Helen Snell that complements develops and extends the book s core themes and arguments This collection will be insightful reading for students and academics across the social sciences arts and humanities especially from the disciplines of sociology politics social anthropology human geography sociolinguistics contemporary art and literature concerned with questions of social inequality and polarisation Chapters 1 2 7 and 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

New Directions in Race, Ethnicity and Crime Coretta Phillips,Colin Webster,2013-10-08 The disproportionate criminalisation and incarceration of particular minority ethnic groups has long been observed though much of the work in criminology has been dominated by a somewhat narrow debate This debate has concerned itself with explaining this disproportionality in terms of structural inequalities and socio economic disadvantage or discriminatory criminal justice processing This book offers an accessible and innovative approach including chapters on anti-Semitism social cohesion in London Bradford and Glasgow as well as an exploration of policing Traveller communities Incorporating current empirical research and new departures in methodology and theory this book also draws on a range of contemporary issues such as policing terrorism immigration detention and youth gangs In offering minority perspectives on race crime and justice and white inmate perspectives from the multicultural prison the book emphasises contrasting and distinctive influences on constructing ethnic identities It will be of interest to students studying courses in ethnicity crime and justice
