Lanza, 2016-04-22 Looking especially at widows of master craftsmen in early modern Paris this study provides analysis of the social and cultural structures that shaped widows lives as well as their day to day experiences Janine Lanza examines widows in early modern Paris at every social and economic level beginning with the late sixteenth century when changes in royal law curtailed the movement of property within families up to the time of the French Revolution The glimpses she gives us of widows running businesses debating remarriage and negotiating marriage contracts offer precious insights into the daily lives of women in this period Lanza shows that understanding widows dramatically alters our understanding of gender not only in terms of how it was lived in this period but also how historians can use this idea as a category of analysis Her study also engages the historiographical issue of business and entrepreneurship particularly women s participation in the world of work and explicitly examines the place of the law in the lived experience of the early modern period How did widowed women use their newly acquired legal emancipation How did they handle their emotional loss How did their roles in their families and their communities change How did they remain financially solvent without a man in the house How did they make decisions that had always been made by the men around them These questions all touch upon the experience of widows and on the ways women related to prevalent structures and ideologies in this society Lanza s study of these women the ways they were represented and how they experienced their widowhood challenges many historical assumptions about women and their roles with respect to the law the family and economic activity Veterans' Information Guide ,1948 A Widow's

Hope Julie Escalante Ortiz, 2023-03-21 A Widow s Hope shares a unique story as a young widow with children who shares the raw relatable ways she dug her way out of the trenches and back to the land of the living There are many books about widowhood and grief While helpful when the time is right the shock and the aftermath of such a traumatic experience can make it difficult to find the time and motivation to read them while surviving the daily obstacles that zap your energy Right now the widow is too busy surviving funeral planning endless calls and texts from family tireless efforts to obtain the death certificate meetings with social security arrangements to be ironed out with banks mortgagors and debts Not to mention the practical things like ensuring the children have been fed arranging who will take them to school while you deal with the horrible details such as picking out his casket or helping your children with things only you can help with And then it hits her How will I even tell them that their father is dead They don t even know what dead means Just thinking of the unending list of things to be done can leave the widow feeling smothered and breathless Now is not the time for a novel now is the time for a
