Pollock, 2001 "School in the Clouds" Phil Dow, 2003 During the 20th Century Sub Saharan Africa experienced a sweeping cultural transformation Between 1900 and

2000 the Christian population in Kenya alone grew from less than one percent to approximately eighty percent Behind this astonishing cultural revolution were the evangelical missionary movement and the critical support network that gave the movement its energy and staying power Central to this network were the schools established around Africa for the children of missionaries School in the Clouds is the story of the oldest and largest missionary boarding school in Africa However as a driving force behind this dramatic larger narrative the history of the Rift Valley Academy is more than the story of an institution and the lives that made it up It is a microcosm of one of the most remarkable cultural transformations in world history Back cover

Third Culture Teacher Lucy Bailey, 2020-08-10 Dr Lucy Bailey presents a concise and coherent guide for those who are interested in pursuing a teaching career internationally This book covers all the things you should consider as well as the advantages and disadvantages of living and working in an entirely new culture and country that you might face If you've ever considered taking the big leap looking for a new adventure and relocating to a completely different country continent or time zone then this book will guide you through the steps and help you answer all the big questions to figure out if it's really for you This is a book that is applicable both for those who are looking to take the journey on their own or with their immediate family Written by someone who has made the move herself and lived in over four different countries with her husband who is an international school headteacher and their four daughters Dr Lucy Bailey provides essential key information and more than useful advice

The Writer and the Overseas Childhood Antje M. Rauwerda, 2014-01-10 What does Ian McEwan have in common with Barbara Kingsolver Or The Shack's William Paul Young with The Way the Crow Flies Ann Marie MacDonald All four spent significant portions of their formative years overseas as expatriates all four are third culture kids These authors share experiences of cultural and geographical displacement that fracture constructions of home and identity as their fiction attests This study surveys 17 authors with expat backgrounds to define third culture literature a burgeoning yet unrecognized branch of international writing characterized by expressions of dislocation loss and disenfranchisement By explicating how the shared cultural details of these writers emerge in literary themes and images this work introduces third culture literature as a separate field reinterpreting the work of major writers from across the globe

Global Migration and Education Leah Adams, Anna Kirova, 2007 Global Migration and Education makes a notable contribution to understanding the issues faced by immigrant children their parents and educators as they interact in school settings and to identifying the common challenges to and successes in educational institutions worldwide as they cope with these issues Global in scope there are chapters from 14 countries It will help educators and others involved in these complex processes to see beyond the notion of problems created and experienced by recently arrived young children Rather this volume provides many concrete suggestions deriving from the success stories and voices of teachers parents and students It also offers evidence that diversity can be a condition for learning that when understood embraced and supported leads to rich learning opportunities for all involved that would not exist without diversity All of the authors offer recommendations about educational policy and practices to address and ultimately improve the education of all children including immigrant children The book is organized around five themes Multiple Global Issues for Immigrant Children and the Schools They Attend They Are Here Newcomers in the Schools Views and Voices of Immigrant Children Far from Home With Fluctuating Hopes and Searching for New Ways to Belong Intended for researchers students school professionals and educational policymakers and analysts around the world in the fields of multicultural education child psychology comparative and international education educational foundations educational policy and cross cultural studies this book is highly relevant as a text for courses in these areas
