Wolf Really Autobiography Exploring Dominance:

The Wolf The Wolf, 2015-08-13 Sexual dominance is not a work of fiction a paperback novel or 50 shades of anything for me it s my life From a very young age I felt an overwhelming sometimes crippling urge to dominate girls and women To take to own to push them until they show me who they really are But that urge was countered by an equally powerful desire to protect and cherish them This book is a collection of true life short stories from my early years grappling with the duality of what I often regarded as my twisted being into adulthood when I finally learnt to embrace and revel in it It details some of the amazing sexual encounters I ve enjoyed with the spectacular women I ve known and my often conflicted thought processes throughout them

Animal Traditions Eytan Avital, Eva Jablonka, 2000-11-23 Animal Traditions maintains that the assumption that the selection of genes supplies both a sufficient explanation of the evolution and a true description of its course is despite its almost universal acclaim wrong Eytan Avital and Eva Jablonka contend that evolutionary explanations must take into account the well established fact that in mammals and birds the transfer of learnt information is both ubiquitous and indispensable The introduction of the behavioural inheritance system into the Darwinian explanatory scheme enables the authors to offer new interpretations for common behaviours such as maternal behaviours behavioural conflicts within families adoption and helping This approach offers a richer view of heredity and evolution integrates developmental and evolutionary processes suggests new lines for research and provides a constructive alternative to both the selfish gene and meme views of the world It will make stimulating reading for all those interested in evolutionary biology sociobiology behavioural ecology and psychology

Mapping the Contours of Oppression Owen Evans, 2006-01-01 Despite all the assertions towards the end of the twentieth century that the literary subject had expired along with the author the wave of autobiographies published in German after the Wende was a clear indication that on the contrary life stories were very much alive In this study Owen Evans examines the work of eight authors Ludwig Harig Uwe Saeger Ruth Kluger Gnter de Bruyn Gnter Kunert Christoph Hein Grete Weil and Monika Maron who all published personal texts after 1989 dealing either with life in Nazi Germany or the GDR and in some cases both By means of close textual analysis Evans explores the impact these regimes had on the individuals concerned and the contrasting ways in which the authors handle the autobiographical project They adopt varying textual strategies to render the self on the page with some employing overt fiction and yet in each case the project was clearly motivated by the need to treat psychological wounds inflicted on the self by totalitarianism In their mapping of the contours of oppression the texts at the heart of this study combine to offer a powerful defence of literary autobiography in Germany at least as a valuable means of tackling the legacy of totalitarianism

A Companion to World History Douglas Northrop, 2012-10-08 A COMPANION TOWORLD HISTORY This new volume offers insightful reflections by both leading and emerging world historians on approaches methodologies arguments and pedagogies of a sub discipline that has continued to be in flux as well as in need of defining itself as a relevant alternative to the traditional national regional or chronological fields of inquiry Choice The focus on the practicalities of how to do world history probably gives it its edge Its thirty three chapters are grouped into sections that address how to set up research projects in world history how to teach it how to get jobs in it how to frame it and how it is done in various parts of the globe It is an actual handbook in other words as opposed to a sample of exemplary work English Historical Review A Companion to World History offers a comprehensive overview of the variety of approaches and practices utilized in the field of world and global history This state of the art collection of more than 30 insightful essays including contributions from an international cast of leading world historians and emerging scholars in the field identifies continuing areas of contention disagreement and divergence while pointing out fruitful directions for further discussion and research Themes and topics explored include the lineages and trajectories of world history key ideas and methods employed by world historians the teaching of world history and how it draws upon and challenges traditional approaches and global approaches to writing world history By considering these interwoven issues of scholarship and pedagogy from a transnational interregional and world global scale fresh insights are gained and new challenges posed With its rich compendium of diverse viewpoints A Companion to World History is an essential resource for the study of the world's past

The Endings of Epochs Laurel Brake, 1995 These specially commissioned new essays consider a variety of imaginative articulations of the endings of epochs from the sixteenth century to the present day Their subjects are as diverse as Milton's twin vision of banishment and beginning Donna Haraway's A Cyborg Manifesto and DeLillo's version of the death of the author in Mao II The essays treat drama epic poetry the periodical press fiction and current theory principal authors include Milton An Collins Shakespeare John Fletcher Henry James Ella D Arcy Arthur Symonds Olive Schreiner Angela Carter bell hooks Donna Haraway Alasdair Gray Martin Amis Shena Mackay and Don DeLillo

The Feminist Encyclopedia of German Literature Friederike Eigler, Susanne Kord, 1997-02-28 Today a multiplicity of feminist approaches has become an integral part of the fields of German literary and cultural studies This comprehensive reference provides a much needed synthesis of the contribution women have made to German literature and culture In entries for more than 500 topics the volume surveys literary periods epochs and genres critical approaches and theories important authors and works female stereotypes laws and historical developments literary concepts and themes and organizations and archives relevant to women and women's studies Each entry offers a concise identification of the term a discussion of its significance and a bibliography of works for further reading Today a multiplicity of feminist approaches has become an integral part of the fields of German literary and cultural studies While biographical works on women writers exist this is the first reference to synthesize the wealth of feminist scholarship in German studies While existing reference works focus exclusively on women authors this volume contains numerous topical entries and covers the role of women in German literature and culture from the Middle Ages to the present day Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 500 topics While some entries are provided for important women writers and other individuals the bulk of the volume provides information on literary periods epochs and genres critical approaches and theories female stereotypes laws and historical developments literary concepts and themes and organizations and archives relevant to women and women's studies Each entry includes a brief identification of the subject a discussion of feminist thought on the topic and a brief bibliography Entries are written by numerous contributors and reflect a range of critical theoretical approaches

Seeing and Being Seen Hilary E. Kahn, 2010-01-01 The practice of morality and the formation of identity among an indigenous Latin American culture are framed in a pioneering ethnography of sight that attempts to reverse the trend of anthropological fieldwork and theory overshadowing one another In this vital and richly detailed work methodology and theory are treated as complementary partners as the author explores the dynamic Mayan customs of the Q'eqchi' people living in the cultural crossroads of Livingston Guatemala Here Q'eqchi' Ladino and Garifuna Caribbean coast Afro Indians societies interact among themselves and with others ranging from government officials to capitalists to contemporary tourists The fieldwork explores the politics of sight and incorporates a video camera operated by multiple people the author and the Q'eqchi' people themselves to watch unobtrusively the traditions rituals and everyday actions that exemplify the long standing moral concepts guiding the Q'eqchi' in their relationships and tribulations Sharing the camera lens as well as the lens of ethnographic authority allows the author to slip into the world of the Q'eqchi' and capture their moral social political economic and spiritual constructs shaped by history ancestry external forces and time itself A comprehensive history of the Q'eqchi' illustrates how these former plantation laborers migrated to lands far from their Mayan ancestral homes to co exist as one of several competing cultures and what impact this had on maintaining continuity in their identities moral codes of conduct and perception of the changing outside world With the innovative use of visual methods and theories the author's reflexive sensory oriented ethnographic approach makes this a study that itself becomes a reflection of the complex set of social structures embodied in its subject
