A. H. Alderson, 2017-12-22 Excerpt from With the Mounted Infantry And the Mashonaland Field Force 1896 On arriving home from South Africa in March last I had no intention whatever of writing a book and it was not till May when writing a brief account of the operations in Mashonaland in 1896 for the Intelligence Department of the War Office that it struck me that there were many points of general interest which had no place in an official account This idea assumed definite form when Colonel R S Baden Powell s book The Campaign in Matabeleland 1896 and Lieut Colonel Plumer s An Irregular Corps in Matabeleland appeared and the thought Why not Mashonaland too cropped up About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

A History of the Regular Mounted Infantry Paul Baker,2025-01-16 The Mounted Infantry had a short life spanning from the mid 1880 s until disbanded in 1913 To continue the camaraderie of the corps past surviving members formed the M I Club and in 1936 decided to publish a short history based on Regimental records and personal reflections An appeal elicited responses and work was begun by Major Tomlin The manuscript was almost complete at the start of the Second World War when an enthusiastic cull of papers by Tomlin s family during a wastepaper salvage drive included much of the work he had completed This would have been the end of the project but Brigadier Standish G Craufurd intervened and undertook to rewrite the work using what material remained and his own resources When the draft was substantially completed Sir Ian Hamilton then in his 91st year was approached to write the foreword he responded that he felt this was a makeshift history that would best be left until the end of the war when access to records would be easier and the manuscript could be improved upon This archive including the unpublished manuscript letters and reminiscences came up for sale on an online auction recently and provides a unique and interesting record of the Mounted Infantry Considering that history of this corps is sparsely documented it would be as Craufurd put it a great pity to let slip an account of a side issue of the old Army a very distinct phase just before the great change brought by the Great War
