L. Smith, 2004 Advanced Veterinary Topics in Elasmobranchs Natalie D. Mylniczenko, Alexa Delaune, Alisa Newton, 2025-05-22 Elasmobranchs are a unique group of fishes which are highly emphasized at aquariums they are a guest favourite and of high interest to the general public Veterinarians working with sharks rays and occasionally chimaeras find themselves challenged because of the wide diversity within the group and the lack of widely published information available in veterinary medicine This special edition aims to do several things 1 significantly contribute data to a generally low publication taxon 2 offer unique case series of disease to help clinicians with diagnosis of disease 3 increase the quality of diagnostics available to veterinarians to improve their case management 4 provide a central location for quality research on elasmobranch veterinary medicine Elasmobranch veterinary care is a poorly published topic yet there are many clinicians doing quality work in shark and ray medicine This special topic provides an impetus for those clinicians to contribute their research with other colleagues in a single resource that veterinarians can easily access Reaching out to those veterinarians and offering them an opportunity to publish in a quality open access journal will be very appealing An initial survey with an aquatic veterinary listserv indicated that at least 10 institutions were interested in collaborating which suggests that the content is there and possibly others have similar research that can be tapped into for this special edition Frontiers in Veterinary Science is offering a special edition for Advanced Veterinary Topics in Elasmobranchs This opportunity will collect multiple topics in shark and ray medicine which will include important baseline data in clinical pathology evaluation of diagnostics that can be accurately used in patient care descriptions of diseases that have not been previously published and sharing techniques with colleagues to elevate the capacity of veterinarians to make diagnoses Manuscripts of interest include Retrospective surveys of disease Baseline data on species previously unpublished bloodwork imaging other Techniques that can advance diagnosis of disease Test and assay validation in elasmobranchs Treatments and strategies for conditions encountered in sharks and rays Reviews of topics that can be helpful for a veterinarian extant topics are largely research or field based Contributions of Zoos and Aquariums to the Advancement of Marine Science Steven T. Kessel, Charles Knapp, Tracy A. Romano, Alistair Dove, Heather Jane Koldewey, 2025-02-13 As zoological organizations evolve in the twenty first century to address the biodiversity extinction crisis and proactively demonstrate relevance in a changing public opinion landscape their conservation science portfolios continue to expand Public zoos and aquariums address these issues directly by conducting both ex and in situ research designed to advance our understanding of species while also detecting diagnosing and halting population declines in the wild In particular the distinct nature of zoological organizations uniquely positions them to make significant contributions to marine science The ability to care for and access a diverse suite of marine species provides the opportunity to understand their behavior biology physiology which can inform ex situ investigations Moreover the broad skillsets of staff facilitate extensive collaborative research opportunities These ongoing contributions to marine science have remained relatively underappreciated by others outside the community Here we intend to raise awareness about these contributions and initiate further collaborative research opportunities Building on an increasing body of literature our goal is to curate a diverse portfolio of research that represents the contributions of zoos and aquariums to the field of marine science and to highlight the novel qualities of these conservation based organizations These can broadly be divided into four main categories i Infrastructure extensive capacity to care for a wide variety of animals extensive veterinarian hospital spaces and equipment advanced water quality and microbiology labs research vessels and the generation of funds through ticket sales and contributions ii Animal care expertise in maintaining animals under professional human care including breeding diverse veterinary expertise development of species specific research techniques relevant to the study of wild populations iii Dedicated research programs personnel typically focused on wild populations ecosystems and iv Education and social science policy and advocacy education and outreach large audiences to educate engage on conservation issues and inspiring the next generation of conservation champions biologists This will serve to further bring zoos and aquariums to the forefront as potential collaborators for other marine scientists conducting both in situ and ex situ research particularly those studies that would benefit from the unique opportunities and rare and endangered species zoos and aquariums provide Wildlife
