The Winona Laduke Reader The Winona Laduke Reader:

The Winona LaDuke Reader Winona LaDuke, 2002 The first collection of LaDuke's speeches, articles, and more. This collection will resonate with people interested in issues critical to Native Americans and indigenous peoples worldwide.

Library Journal Honor the Earth Phil Bellfy, 2022 The Great Lakes Basin is under severe ecological threat from fracking, bursting pipelines, sulfide mining, abandonment of government environmental regulation, invasive species, warming, and lowering of the lakes, etc. This book presents essays on Traditional Knowledge, Indigenous Responsibility, and how Indigenous people, governments, and NGOs are responding to the environmental degradation which threatens the Great Lakes. This volume grew out of a conference that was held on the campus of Michigan State University on Earth Day 2007. All of the essays have been updated and revised for this book. Among the presenters were Ward Churchill, author and activist; Joyce Tekahnawiiaks King, Director, Akwesasne Justice Department; Frank Ettawageshik, Executive Director of the United Tribes of Michigan; Aaron Payment, Chair of the Sault Sainte Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians; and Dean Sayers, Chief of the Batchewana First Nation. Winona LaDuke, author, activist, twice Green Party VP candidate, also contributed to this volume.

Adapted from the Introduction by Dr. Phil Bellfy: The elements of the relationship that the Great Lakes ancient peoples had with their environment developed over the millennia was based on respect for the natural landscape, pure and simple. The original people of this area not only maintained their lives, they thrived within the natural boundaries established by their relationship with the natural world. In today's vocabulary, it may be something as simple as an understanding that if human beings take care of the environment, the environment will take care of them. The entire relationship can be summarized as harmony and balance based on respect.

American Voices Bernard K. Duffy, Richard Leeman, 2005-08-30 Contemporary public speaking remains an important part of our national life and a substantial force in shaping current events. Many of America's most important moments and issues, such as wars, scandals, election campaigns, September 11, 2001, have been defined by oratory. Here, over 50 essays cover a substantial and interesting group of major American social, political, economic, and cultural figures from the 1960s to the present. Each entry explains the biographical forces that shaped a speaker and his or her rhetorical approach, focuses mainly on a discussion of the orator's major speeches within the context of historical events, and concludes with an appraisal of the speaker and his or her contribution to American political and social life. All entries incorporate chronologies of major speeches, bibliographies including primary sources, biographies, and critical studies, and archival collections or Web sites appropriate for student research. Entries include high-profile individuals such as John D. Ashcroft, Elizabeth Dole, Jerry Falwell, Anita Hill, Ralph Nader, Ronald Reagan, Janet Reno, Gloria Steinem, Malcolm X, and many others. Excerpts of major speeches and sidebars complement the text. Ideal for researchers and students in public speaking classes, American history classes, American politics classes, contemporary public address classes, and rhetorical theory/criticism classes.

The Strange Death of Liberal America Ralph Brauer,2006-05-30 Ralph Brauer defines Liberal America as a place where government exists to keep the playing field level The success of the American experiment he argues depends on how well we maintain this equity and its four cornerstones economic justice educational equity voting rights and media fairness His book is both a political and intellectual history examining the various threats to these cornerstones and a social and cultural chronicle Touching on music television movies and sports Brauer's thesis is underscored by a historical discussion that begins with the New Deal and works its way to the present ending with Global Warming and the Iraq War Arguing that the patient is in intensive care Brauer identifies three reasons for the decline of the level playing field 1 a Republican counterrevolution dedicated to rolling back the values of the New Deal 2 an inability of both parties to answer questions raised by decades of Civil Rights revolutions and 3 the transformation of suburban America from a place of opportunity created by government programs to a battleground These three ideas form the basis for the book's three sections Part One follows the development of the Counterrevolutionary Coalition beginning with the Southern Strategy and ending with a chapter on America's politicized media Part Two focuses on questions that have been raised by people of color and by women and treats the Democratic Party's failure to answer those questions as illustrated by events like the Nader LaDuke campaign and the 1964 Atlantic City convention Part Three details the impact of suburban America on the cornerstones
