

WORLD WAR II WAR IN THE PACIFIC

BACKGROUND

In the 1930's, Japan's emperor, Isoroku Hirohito, began taking over neighboring countries in order to gain control of their import markets in order to improve the Japanese economy. Japan and the United States had never been great allies, but they had managed a functional trade relationship for many years. However, tensions began to escalate when Japan invaded Manchuria in 1931. In 1937, Japan also declared war on China, a country that the U.S. had established a strong relationship with. This became known as the Second Sino-Japanese War. America enforced a series of economic sanctions and trade embargoes to try to put a halt to Japanese expansionism. This only made Japan angry and more determined.

On September 1, 1939, Germany invaded Poland as part of Hitler's aggressive expansionist foreign policy. Two days later, France and Britain declared war against Germany and were later joined by the United States to form the Allies. On September 27, 1940, Japan, Nazi Germany, and Fascist Italy signed the Tripartite Pact, in which they agreed to mutually protect each other if any of them were attacked by a country not already involved in the war. The three nations became known as the Axis Powers.

KEY FIGURES

Hirohito – As Emperor of Japan from December 1926 to his death in January 1989, Hirohito was the leader of Japan during a period of increased expansionism and militarism, culminating in Japan's participation in World War II.

Isoroku Yamamoto – As the commander-in-chief of the Combined Fleet of the Imperial Japanese Navy during World War II, Yamamoto devised the initial plan to attack Pearl Harbor. He remained commander-in-chief until he was killed when his plane was shot down by American forces on April 18, 1943.

Mitchener,2021-07-28 On November 20 1943 the U S military invaded the Tarawa Atoll of the Gilbert Islands as part of the first American offensive in the Central Pacific region during World War II This invasion marked more than one first as it was also the introductory test of a doctrine developed during the interwar years to address problems inherent in situations in which amphibious assaults required support by naval gunfire rather than land based artillery In this detailed study Donald K Mitchener documents and analyzes the prewar development of this doctrine as well as its application and evolution between the years 1943 1945 The historical consensus is that the test at Tawara was successful and increased the efficiency with which U S forces were able to apply the doctrine in the Pacific theater for the remainder of the Second World War Mitchener challenges this view arguing that the reality was much more complex He reveals that strategic concerns often took precedence over the lessons learned in the initial engagement and that naval planners failure to stay up to date with the latest doctrinal developments and applications sometimes led them to ignore these lessons altogether U S Naval Gunfire Support in the Pacific War presents an important analysis that highlights the human cost of misinterpreting strategic and tactical realities The Pacific ,1915 Paradise of the Pacific ,1944 Defenselessness of the Pacific Coast; a Speech in the House of Representatives by Hon.
