The Will And The Way Paul R Williams Architect:

The Will and the Way Karen E. Hudson, 1994 Williams the first African American Fellow of the American Institute of Architects designed over three thousand buildings including Beverly Hill estates and the Los Angeles Airport

Biographical Dictionary of African Americans, Revised Edition Rachel Kranz, 2021-01-01 For centuries African Americans have made important contributions to American culture From Crispus Attucks whose death marked the start of the Revolutionary War to Oprah Winfrey perhaps the most recognizable and influential TV personality today black men and women have played an integral part in American history This greatly expanded and updated edition of our best selling volume The Biographical Dictionary of Black Americans Revised Edition profiles more than 250 of America's important influential and fascinating black figures past and present in all fields including the arts entertainment politics science sports the military literature education the media religion and many more Work-Life Balance in Architecture Igea

Troiani, 2024-03-04 This book seeks to improve the work lives of architects of diverse demographics who do not fit or want to replicate the traditional 24/7 white male architect lifestyle Aimed at a workforce whose life and career expectations have changed drastically in recent years it helps readers of different generations to make informed choices about their careers enabling students educators and professionals to prioritise wellbeing and offer their design and practice voice to enhance a built environment for all Work Life Balance in Architecture examines what it means to play the game of architecture to choose to study and pursue a career in architecture rather than another profession The book shows the economic social and professional structures within which architectural education and practice operate and reveals the impact of a corporate neoliberal big business mentality on wellbeing After setting out the context exacerbating work life imbalance the book discusses the paths an architect may take whether this leads to a career in practice or not in architecture at all and how alternative gameplay moves can advantage or disadvantage those of different gender class ethnicity race or age at different career stages It concludes by examining how the places in which an architect works the time available to work and critiques of perpetual neoliberal economic growth can enhance the lives of all architects today Reconstructing Architecture

Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst Mann, 1996 Reconstructing Architecture was first published in 1996 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities our differences the world around us much of what we know of institutions the distribution of power social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment Historically architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field one that attempts to alter existing social power relations Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project feminism social theory environmentalism cultural studies race and ethnic studies and critical theory The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth destroying global ecology homogenizing culture and privatizing the public realm Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation Contributors Sherry Ahrentzen U of Wisconsin Milwaukee Bradford C Grant California Polytechnic State U San Luis Obispo Richard Ingersoll Rice U Margaret Soltan George Washington U Anthony Ward U of Auckland New Zealand Thomas A Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University Ohio He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education 1991 and is associate editor of the Journal of Architectural Education Lian Hurst Mann is an architect and editor of Architecture California A founding member of the Labor Community Strategy Center in Los Angeles she is editor of its bilingual quarterly Ahora Now and a coauthor of Reconstructing Los Angeles from the Bottom Up 1993

The Coveted Westside Jennifer Mandel, 2022-03-29 From the middle of the nineteenth century as Euro Americans moved westward they carried with them long held prejudices against people of color By the time they reached the West Coast their new settlements included African Americans and recent Asian immigrants as well as the indigenous inhabitants and descendants of earlier Spanish and Mexican settlers The Coveted Westside deals with the settlement and development of Los Angeles in the context of its multiracial multiethnic population especially African Americans Mandel exposes the enduring struggle between Whites determined to establish their hegemony and create residential heterogeneity in the growing city and people of color equally determined to obtain full access to the city and the opportunities including residential that it offered Not only does this book document the Black homeowners fight against housing discrimination it shares personal accounts of Blacks efforts to settle in the highly desirable Westside of Los Angeles Mandel explores the White derived social and legal mechanisms that created this segregated city and the African American led movement that challenged efforts to block access to fair housing
