Understanding Leadership An Arts And Humanities Perspective:

Understanding Leadership Robert M McManus, Gamaliel Perruci, 2015-04-10 Lao Tzu Marx the Buddha Ibsen Machiavelli these are just a few of the world's great thinkers who have weighed in on the subject of leadership over the centuries. Yet the contemporary student of leadership often overlooks many of these names in favour of more recent theorists hailing from the social sciences. Understanding Leadership An Arts and Humanities Perspective takes a different angle, employing the works of the great philosophers, authors and artists found in world civilization and presenting an arts and humanities perspective on the study of leadership. The authors build their conceptual framework using The Five Components of Leadership Model which recognizes the leader, the followers, the goal, the environmental context and the cultural values and norms that make up the leadership process. Supporting the text are a wealth of case studies which reflect on works such as Ayn Rand's novella Anthem, Eugène Delacroix's painting Liberty Leading the People, Charlie Chaplin's film Modern Times, Athol Fugard's play Master Harold and the Boys, Lao Tzu's poetic work Tao Te Ching and Antonín Dvořák's New World Symphony. The authors also introduce studies from various world cultures to particularly illustrate the role cultural values and norms play in leadership. This illuminating framework promotes the multidimensional thinking that is necessary for understanding and problem solving in a complex world. Understanding Leadership An Arts and Humanities Perspective will be a valuable textbook for both undergraduate and postgraduate leadership students while leadership professionals will also appreciate the book's unique liberal arts and cultural approach.

practice The Handbook of Climate Change Leadership in Organisations Doug MacKie, 2023-11-27 Climate change is one of the most significant and challenging problems we face today and many organisations have recognised their responsibility in reducing emissions and environmental degradation and regenerating biodiversity. However, conventional leadership has failed to respond adequately to the magnitude of the threat and a profound change in corporate leadership is required to substantively cut emissions and change climate policy to minimise further destructive environmental impact. This book sets out the qualities and approaches needed by leaders to successfully develop and implement climate change mitigation and adaptation policies. Bringing together the foremost experts in climate change leadership from business, leadership psychology and coaching backgrounds, this book addresses the failures of current leadership practice and proposes a variety of models of how climate change leadership capabilities can be effectively developed in organisations. It is structured around four concepts: foundations which includes models of environmental, ecological and evolutionary leadership transitions; which looks at transformational and ethical models that are being repurposed for the age of sustainability; progressions which explores innovative models that are being developed for the current age including systems adaptation and maturity-based models of leadership and actions; which includes models of sustainable goal setting and climate leadership coaching and development. The book is written for corporate leaders, researchers and educators and will be an invaluable addition to the leadership curriculum and executive development programmes to help the next generation of leaders respond to global challenges.
