and Body Maital Neta, Ingrid J. Haas, 2019-11-18 As the 66th volume in the prestigious Nebraska Series on Motivation this book focuses on understanding emotion and motivation as two factors that not only influence social and cognitive processes but also shape the way we navigate our social world Research on emotion has increased significantly over the past two decades pulling from scholarship in psychology neuroscience medicine political science sociology and even computer science This volume is informed by the growing momentum in the resulting interdisciplinary field of affective science and examines the role of emotion and motivation in our perceptions decision making and social interactions and attempts to understand the neurobiological mechanisms that support these processes across the lifespan in both healthy and clinical populations Included among the chapters Emotion concept development from childhood to adulthood Evolving psychological and neural models for the regulation of emotion Pathways to motivational impairments in psychopathology A valuation systems perspective on motivation Reproducible generalizable brain models of affective processes Emotion in the Mind and Body is a comprehensive and compelling rendering of the current state of the interdisciplinary field of affective science and will be of interest to researchers and students working in psychology and neuroscience as well as medicine political science and sociology

Human Motivation and Emotion Ross Buck, 1976 This revision of the successful text draws on the latest research in all areas of the field including biology and biochemistry neurology psychology and sociology Presenting the concepts of motivation and emotion as related aspects of the same general phenomena it examines the basic biological and physiological systems underlying motivational and emotional responses emphasizing how these interact with cognitive and other higher order processes This background is applied to a series of specific types of motives and behavior patterns such as aggression sexuality emotional expression and competence Goes on to examine the interaction between cognitive and physiological factors leading to a discussion of the central theme of the book that increasingly complex social influences have in the course of human evolution liberated most human behavior from direct biological physiological control This thoroughly revised and updated edition includes coverage of studies on the human brain via radioactive elements a section on the facial feedback hypothesis and an expanded treatment of the implications of right versus left hemisphere research Also provides a critical review of psychosurgery and physiological control including a discussion of the CIA's involvement in this area an examination of the effect of erotic films on aggressive behavior and much more

Motivation Lambert Deckers, 2022-03-30 Motivation provides an accessible introduction to motivation and emotion combining classic studies with current research and uses numerous real world examples to engage the student and make often difficult theoretical concepts come to life By understanding and applying the principles of motivation described in the text students will not only discover insights into what motivates their own behavior but also how to instigate self change through goal setting Throughout the book the author adopts an evolutionary approach to explore the effect of interpersonal relationships food preferences fear music and the emotions on motivation at the same time considering how personality traits and psychological needs are essential for understanding why people are motivated by different things The motivation of compulsive behavior from addictions such as drugs gambling Internet gaming and obsessive exercise is also considered providing a truly comprehensive overview of biological psychological and environmental sources of motivation The sixth edition has been thoroughly updated throughout and is accompanied by an instructor s manual that contains multiple choice questions essay questions with answers websites related to motivation and emotion power point slides in class activities and discussion questions It is an essential read for all students of motivation Motivation, Emotion, and Cognition David Yun Dai,Robert J. Sternberg,2004-07-13

The central argument of this book is that cognition is not the whole story in understanding intellectual functioning and development To account for inter individual intra individual and developmental variability in actual intellectual performance it is necessary to treat cognition emotion and motivation as inextricably related Motivation Emotion and Cognition Integrative Perspectives on Intellectual Functioning and Development represents a new direction in theory and research on intellectual functioning and development portrays human intelligence as fundamentally constrained by biology and adaptive needs but modulated by social and cultural forces and encompasses and integrates a broad range of scientific findings and advances from cognitive and affective neurosciences to cultural psychology addressing fundamental issues of individual differences developmental variability and cross cultural differences with respect to intellectual functioning and development By presenting current knowledge regarding integrated understanding of intellectual functioning and development this volume promotes exchanges among researchers concerned with provoking new ideas for research and provides educators and other practitioners with a framework that will enrich understanding and guide practice Motivation and Emotion Philip Gorman,2004-08-02

Motivation and Emotion provides an explanation of emotional experience and aspects of human behaviour using psychological physiological and alternative approaches The brain mechanisms that govern motivations are discussed and questions such as Why don t we eat ourselves to death and How do we know we are thirsty are answered Phil Gorman is an A Level teacher at Stafford College UK and a chief examiner for the Edexcel A Level Examination Board The Routledge Modular Psychology series is a completely new approach to introductory level psychology tailor made for the new modular style of teaching Each book covers a topic in more detail than any large textbook can allowing teacher and student to select material exactly to suit any particular course or project Especially written for those students new to higher level study whether at school college or university the books include the following designed features to help with technique practise essays with specialist commentary to show how to achieve a higher grade chapter summaries and summaries of key research glossary and further reading progress and review exercises Series editors Cara Flanagan is a Reviser for AS and A2 level Psychology and an experienced teacher and examiner Philip Banyard is Associate Senior Lecturer in Psychology at Nottingham Trent University and a Chief Examiner for AS and A2 level Psychology Motivation and Emotion (PLE: Emotion) Phil Evans,2014-11-20 Originally published in 1989 this title provided a wide ranging and up to date review of a traditional area of psychology It will be of great interest to all those who wish to discover what governs human behaviour and feeling in other words what makes people tick Phil Evans explores the influences that determine a range of behaviour from those with clear biological links such as eating sleeping and sexual activity to those specifically human concerns such as the need to achieve success or approval He also analyses the feelings and emotions that often guide behaviour He gives a detailed outline of various theoretical perspectives on what it is to be a human being whether a biological organism with biological needs a responder to environmental signals of pleasure or a cognitively aware agent continuously processing information regarding current circumstances His review of both cognitive and biosocial approaches conveys the liveliness of debate and argument within psychology at the time and demonstrates that an understanding of all views is necessary to illuminate fully the complex nature of human behaviour

Motivation and Emotion Thomas Young,1961 Psychology of Motivation and Emotion Johnmarshall Reeve,2018 Motivation Eva Dreikurs Ferguson,Beth Eva Ferguson Wee,2000

Motivation A Biosocial and Cognitive Integration of Motivation and Emotion shows how motivation relates to biological social and cognitive issues A wide range of topics concerning motivation and emotion are considered including hunger and thirst circadian and other biological rhythms fear and anxiety anger and aggression achievement attachment and love Goals and incentives are discussed in their application to work child rearing and personality This book reviews an unusual breadth of research and provides the reader with the scientific basis for understanding motivation as a major variable in human and animal life It also offers insights that can be applied to immediate and practical problems Various areas are examined in depth such as the relationships between reward incentives and motivation The discussion of biological rhythms shows that humans and animals are more alert at certain times than others and these rhythms also affect performance The topics in the book span the ways in which motivation connects with many aspects of contemporary psychology Basic issues of design and methodology details of research procedures and important aspects of definition and measurement are discussed throughout the book Motivation A Biosocial and Cognitive Integration of Motivation and Emotion examines the way motivation functions and how it interacts with other important variables physiological processes learning attention and memory rewards and stressors the role of culture as well as species characteristics The presentation makes clear in what important ways motivation as a construct contributes to the scientific understanding of behavior The book offers advanced undergraduate and graduate students a broad overview of motivation It also is of value for the professional psychologist who seeks an integrated overview of the classical and contemporary literature in the field of motivation The book provides information on a broad range of issues and thus can be used also as supplementary reading for courses on cognition and biological as well as social psychology

Motivation and Emotion ,1964 Curious Emotions Ralph D. Ellis,2005-01-01 Emotion drives all cognitive processes largely determining their qualitative feel their structure and in part even their content Action initiating centers deep in the emotional brain ground our understanding of the world by enabling us to imagine how we could act relative to it based on endogenous motivations to engage certain levels of energy and complexity Thus understanding personality cognition consciousness and action requires examining the workings of dynamical systems applied to emotional processes in living organisms If an object's meaning depends on its action affordances then understanding intentionality in emotion or cognition requires exploring why emotion is the bridge between action and representational processes such as thought or imagery and this requires integrating phenomenology with neurophysiology The resulting viewpoint enactivism entails specific new predictions and suggests that emotions are about the self initiated actions of dynamical systems not reactive responses to external events consciousness is more about motivated anticipation than reaction to inputs Series A
