Understanding Knowledge As A Commons From Theory To Practice:

Understanding Knowledge as a Commons Charlotte Hess, Elinor Ostrom, 2007 Looking at knowledge as a shared resource experts discuss how to define protect and build the knowledge commons in the digital age Research Handbook on the Economics of Intellectual Property Law Ben Depoorter, Peter Menell, David Schwartz, 2019 Both law and economics and intellectual property law have expanded dramatically in tandem over recent decades This field defining two volume Handbook featuring the leading legal empirical and law and economics scholars studying intellectual property rights provides wide ranging and in depth analysis both of the economic theory underpinning intellectual property law and the use of analytical methods to study it Expanding Perspectives on Open Science: Communities, Cultures and Diversity in Concepts and Practices L. Chan, F. Loizides, 2017-06-20 Twenty one years ago the term electronic publishing promised all manner of potential that the Web and network technologies could bring to scholarly communication scientific research and technical innovation Over the last two decades tremendous developments have indeed taken place across all of these domains One of the most important of these has been Open Science perhaps the most widely discussed topic in research communications today This book presents the proceedings of Elpub 2017 the 21st edition of the International Conference on Electronic Publishing held in Limassol Cyprus in June 2017 Continuing the tradition of bringing together academics publishers lecturers librarians developers entrepreneurs users and all other stakeholders interested in the issues surrounding electronic publishing this edition of the conference focuses on Open Science and the 27 research and practitioner papers and 1 poster included here reflect the results and ideas of researchers and practitioners with diverse backgrounds from all around the world with regard to this important subject Intended to generate discussion and debate on the potential and limitations of openness the book addresses the current challenges and opportunities in the ecosystem of Open Science and explores how to move forward in developing an inclusive system that will work for a much broader range of participants It will be of interest to all those concerned with electronic publishing and Open Science in particular The Utopian Human Right to Science and Culture Dr Anna Maria Andersen Nawrot, 2014-04-28 This book explores the question of whether the ideal right to science and culture exists It proposes that the human right to science and culture is of a utopian character and argues for the necessity of the existence of such a right by developing a philosophical project situated in postmodernity based on the assumption of thinking in terms of excedence The book brings a novel and critical approach to human rights in general and to the human right to science and culture in particular It offers a new way of thinking about access to knowledge in the postanalogue postmodern society Inspired by twentieth century critical theorists such as Levinas Gadamer Bauman and Habermas the book begins by using excedence as a way of thinking about the individual speech and text It considers paradigms arising from postanalogue society revealing the neglected normative content of the human right to science and culture and proposes a morality dignity and solidarity situated in a postmodern context Finally the book concludes by responding to questions on happiness dignity and that which is social Including an Annex which presents the author s private project related to thinking in the context of the journey from myth to reason this book is of interest to researchers in the fields of philosophy and the theory of law human rights intellectual property and social theory Governing Knowledge Commons Brett M. Frischmann, Michael J. Madison, Katherine J.

Strandburg, 2014-08-05 Knowledge commons describes the institutionalized community governance of the sharing and in some cases creation of information science knowledge data and other types of intellectual and cultural resources It is the subject of enormous recent interest and enthusiasm with respect to policymaking about innovation creative production and intellectual property Taking that enthusiasm as its starting point Governing Knowledge Commons argues that policymaking should be based on evidence and a deeper understanding of what makes commons institutions work It offers a systematic way to study knowledge commons borrowing and building on Elinor Ostrom s Nobel Prize winning research on natural resource commons It proposes a framework for studying knowledge commons that is adapted to the unique attributes of knowledge and information describing the framework in detail and explaining how to put it into context both with respect to commons research and with respect to innovation and information policy Eleven detailed case studies apply and discuss the framework exploring knowledge commons across a wide variety of scientific and cultural domains Motives and Functions of Patenting in Public Basic Science Michael Neumann, 2021-07-05 Taking German public basic research as an example this book explores how the ongoing implementation of knowledge and technology transfer as the Third Mission of academic science creates not only new incentives for academic patenting but also triggers new patenting motives and strategies of researchers and organizations Analyzing these motives and strategies the book highlights how the complex regulatory interplay of the patent system research policy and self governed academic communities creates a situation in which new patent functions emerge beyond their intended function as a protection for upstream inventions patents become a signaling device for scientists to communicate their commitment and competence in the Third Mission As an exploratory study this book combines qualitative empirical research with concepts and insights from multiple fields such as economics law political sciences and regulation In consequence the book addresses anyone interested in patenting incentives and motives and their impact on the functional change and regulatory effectiveness of patents in polycentric regulatory environments Cultural Commons

Enrico Erardo Bertacchini, 2012-01-01 The concept of the commons as a shared resource capable of yielding collective benefits to people is a well established one in the social sciences but its extension to jointly owned cultural resources is relatively new This pioneering book explores the idea of a cultural commons as it can be applied in a wide range of areas including landscapes art and design gastronomy heritage the performing arts and the online world Although the book s chapters are written mainly from the perspective of cultural economics the scope of the volume is truly interdisciplinary the book is more than just a comprehensive introduction to the topic It is also a source of original ideas that will act as a stimulus to further research in the field David Throsby Macquarie University Australia This compelling book offers a fresh and novel approach to study cultural and artistic expression from the perspective of the commons It demonstrates how identifying cultures as shared resources is useful in eliciting the main factors and social dilemmas affecting the production and evolution of cultural expression Adopting the unifying perspective of the cultural commons the chapters provide in depth analysis of a wide range of cultural resources including traditional cultural expression heritage gastronomy and cultural content in virtual worlds Taking an interdisciplinary perspective and gathering contributions from economic sociological and legal fields this timely book proposes a new and complementary research agenda Scholars and postgraduate students of cultural economics cultural studies and sociology of culture will find this authoritative and essential book invaluable

Development Outreach ,2011 Protecting Future Generations Through Commons Saki Bailey,Gilda Farrell,Ugo Mattei,Salvatore Settis,Michele Spanò,Anna Di Robilant,Tine de Moor,Gustavo Zagrebelsky,Héloïse Miereanu,Burns H. Weston,David Bollier,Filippo Valguarnera,Andrea Baranes,Tommaso Fattori,Mayo Fuster Morell,Luigi Russi,2013 The recent austerity measures currently adopted in numerous European countries assume that a rise in public debt should automatically result in cuts to social programmes and the privatisation of inefficiently managed resources This type of reasoning is being used to justify the destruction of social rights of citizens for the profit of the private sector resulting in more limited access to the most fundamental resources such as water nature housing culture knowledge and information mainly for the most vulnerable members of society Such a view informed solely by short term growth and profit cycles is endangering access to those resources not only for current generations but for future ones as well This book is an attempt to go beyond liberal approaches to intergenerational and distributive justice It emphasises the role of commons and communities of the commons driven by the desire to defend and perpetuate those fundamental resources under the threat of expropriation by the state and the market This book also offers policy makers and citizens who wish to accept their political responsibility by being active and refusing corporate ideology some best practices as well as methods and solutions for renewing the configurations of societal relationships through commons thereby integrating the interests of future generations in the European Community's decision making processes and institutions This is a contribution by the Council of Europe and the International University College of Turin to the protection of the dignity of every person especially of those who even though unable to enjoy existing social rights have the right to benefit from choices and policies that ensure that human life remains unspoiled

The Idea of Order ,2010 This document explores the transition from an analog to a digital environment for knowledge access preservation and reconstitution and the implications of this transition for managing research collections The volume comprises three reports The first Can a New Research Library be All Digital By Lisa Spiro and Geneva Henry explores the degree to which a new research library can eschew print The second On the Cost of Keeping a Book by Paul Courant and Matthew Buzzy Nielsen argues that from the perspective of long term storage digital surrogates offer a considerable cost savings over print based libraries The final report Ghostlier Demarcations examines how well large text databases being created by Google Books and other mass digitization efforts meet the needs of scholars and the larger implications of these projects for research teaching and publishing The reports are introduced by Charles Henry the volume includes a conclusion by Roger Schonfeld and an epilogue by Charles Henry Individual articles contain tables figures and footnotes College & Research Libraries News ,2007 Library & Information Science Abstracts ,2008 Bulletin of the American Society for Information Science and Technology ,2007 Teaching Information Literacy Online Thomas P.
