Difficult Economic Times Paola Mattei, 2014-04-02 Financial sustainability is one of the key challenges confronting Europe s universities today Despite the fact that universities are at the centre of knowledge creation and development which itself is seen as one of the main engines of economic growth public funding of higher education in most countries is not increasing or at least not increasing enough in real terms Democratisation of higher education has led to the fact that the higher education budgets per student are relatively low in most European countries compared to Europe s competitors Despite declarations of intent to increase spending on higher education and research it is not very likely that public expenditure will grow significantly on average in Europe and therefore be able to keep up with rapidly inflating costs in the years to come One of the reasons for this is that higher education and research have to compete with other priorities in public budgets e g security health etc Furthermore the recent economic downturn has contributed to the decision in many European countries to decrease the levels of investment in higher education and research Such trends are particularly worrisome for universities across Europe whose continuing dependence on public funding puts their future sustainability under pressure New funding schemes and incentives have been discussed and introduced in many European higher education systems including competitive funding schemes for research under the name of excellence policies Despite the different national institutional configurations in Europe higher education systems face similar demands of promoting sustainable funding models maintaining high academic standards and equality Thus financial sustainability is not an end in itself it aims to ensure that the public university s goals are reached by guaranteeing that the institution produces sufficient income to enable it to invest in high quality education and produce equitable outcomes For these reasons this book analyses funding reforms from a multidimensional approach Higher Education in Societies Gaële Goastellec, France Picard, 2014-09-11 Universities are not only economic engines but societal ones This book interrogates the embeddedness of Higher Education HE systems in national social contracts and discusses how their renegotiation is at play in the organisation of students access to universities Structured around the central concept of the social contract the growing recognition of the role of HE in its implementation and regulations governing both individual and collective access Higher Education in Societies A Multiscale Perspective explores the shifting mission of HE over the years from one thought to produce an elite to one of distributive justice by presenting research at the macro meso and micro levels In bringing together researchers from different countries continents and disciplines to study the same issue through a multiscale analysis this book forms the starting line for further theoretical and methodological debate on the value of weaving together different approaches to the study of HE including historical comparative sociological organisational institutional quantitative and qualitative

Challenges to Teacher Education in Difficult Economic Times Joan Stephenson, Lorraine Ling, 2013-10-23 Teacher education in a financial crisis what are the consequences and how can probity be maintained Education like most other parts of everyday life is experiencing the challenges brought about by global financial constrictions This book presents the experiences and views of practising teacher educators from multiple countries and continents on how the melt down in world economics has affected and will continue to affect teacher education and concomitant experiences in schooling The ramifications are seen to extend into every aspect of teacher preparation continuing staff development and teacher support and there are significant implications for the quality of teaching and learning and the ethos and standing of the process of education as a whole Drawing on educational theory and social political and economic discourses the book addresses issues such as policy philosophy organisation funding resources modes of teaching and learning curricular change recruitment and retention amongst others and provides a snap shot across diverse contexts It aims to provide an evaluative analytical but reflective picture of teacher education in the light of the world economic crisis whilst exploring good practice and suggesting future strategies to develop the quality of teacher education and professional support teaching and learning The volume provides an insight into the need for a new paradigm for teacher education one that involves teacher educators in devising a discourse of positive and radical change It will be a valuable resource for teacher educators educational leaders policy makers educational commentators and teachers seeking to engage with the scholarship of teaching as a means to engage in continuous professional development

Evidence-Based Policy Analysis Chong-Bum An An, 2025 Evidence Based Policy Analysis investigates the insights learned from case studies of evidence based policy evaluation and the policymaking process across the five distinct policy domains representing a pioneering effort within this sphere of research Several chapters use Korea's experience as the focus of analysis for example on responses to a rapidly aging population along with its low and declining birth rates while taking care that the lessons drawn are applicable to many other emerging nations especially those in Asia as they develop sets of policies to address similar issues in their own particular contexts The book features eminent scholars addressing critical domestic issues through an international and comparative lens focused on a major Asian society offering lessons for other similar societies and nations

Improving Public Services Douglas J. Besharov, Karen J. Baehler, Jacob Alex Klerman, 2017 This volume spotlights recent advances in the worldwide use of quantitative performance measures in the public sector especially approaches that incorporate program evaluation techniques Chapters include single country case studies multi country comparisons and thoughtful essays on the challenges of making performance measurement and management work in diverse settings

Adjusting to a World in Motion Douglas J. Besharov, Mark Hugo López, 2016 International migration has reached new heights since the 1960s Altogether some 215 million people live in countries other than their countries of birth and according to surveys another 700 million say they would leave their homes and move to another country if they could Nations both sending and receiving have responded to this growing international migrant flow with new laws and domestic programs In receiving countries they include laws and programs to control entry encourage high skilled immigration develop refugee policy and speed assimilation In sending countries governments are implementing and experimenting with new policies that link migrant diasporas back to their home countries culturally or economically or both This volume contains a series of thoughtful analyses of some of the most critical issues raised in both receiving and sending countries including US immigration policy European high skilled labor programs the experiences of migrants to the Gulf States the impact of immigration on student educational achievement and how post conflict nations connect with their diasporas This volume will help readers draw lessons for their own countries and is thus offered in the spirit of mutual learning within a continued international dialogue of research and analysis on migration

The Korean Welfare State Kyungbae Chung, Neil Gilbert, 2024 This book examines the evolution of the Korean welfare state over the last several decades and the challenges it currently faces as a rapidly aging society Since the turn of the 21st century the Korean welfare state along with the economy has rapidly matured increasing both the scope of social welfare coverage and the fiscal capacity to pay for these benefits

Youth Labor in Transition Jacqueline O'Reilly, Janine Leschke, Renate Ortlieb, Martin Seeleib-Kaiser, Paola Villa, 2018-11-07 Exacerbated by the Great Recession youth transitions to employment and adulthood have become increasingly protracted precarious and differentiated by gender ethnicity and socioeconomic status Youth Labor in Transition examines young people's integration into employment alongside the decisions and consequences of migrating to find work and later returning home The authors identify key policy challenges for the future related to NEETS overeducation self employment and ethnic differences in outcomes This illustrates the need to encompass a wider understanding of youth employment and job insecurity by including an analysis of economic production and how it relates to social reproduction of labor if policy intervention is to be effective The mapping and extensive analysis in this book are the result of a 3 year European Union funded research project Strategic Transitions for Youth Labour in Europe or STYLE <http://www.style-research.eu> coordinated by Jacqueline O'Reilly With an overall budget of just under 5 million euros and involving 25 research partners an international advisory network and local advisory boards of employers unions and policymakers and non governmental organizations from more than 20 European countries STYLE is one of the largest European Commission funded research projects to exist on this topic Consequently this book will appeal to an array of audiences including academic and policy researchers in sociology political science economics management studies and more particular labor market and social policy policy communities and bachelor s and master s level students in courses on European studies or any of the aforementioned subject areas

The Politics of Welfare in the Global South Sattwick Dey Biswas, Cleopas Gabriel Sambo, Sony Pellissery, 2024-09-17 This book is a comprehensive reference for conducting political analyses of emerging welfare systems in the Global South It places a central emphasis on decolonizing social policy literature by developing empirically grounded theories and concepts illuminating societies in both the Global South and North These case studies contribute to theoretical generalizations capable of explaining universal principles that are relevant to both the Global South and North

Activation or Workfare? Governance and the Neo-Liberal Convergence Ivar Lodemel, Amilcar Moreira, 2014-09-29 The last decade of the 20th century was marked by a shift in how welfare states deal with those at the bottom of the income ladder This shift involved the introduction strengthening of work obligations as a condition for receiving minimum income benefits which in some countries was complemented by efforts to help recipients return to the labour market namely through the investment in active labour market policies ALMP Based on case studies of developments in the US and eight European nations UK Norway Denmark Netherlands Germany France Portugal and the Czech Republic this book argues that this first set of reforms was followed by a second wave of reforms that whilst deepening the path towards the focus on work brings important innovations be it the tools used to help recipients back to the labour markets ex financial incentives and in how activation policies are delivered ex integration of benefit and employment services Looking at the array of developments introduced during this period we discern two key trends The first concerns the strengthening of the role of the market in the governance of activation which is visible in the strengthening of the focus on work or the marketisation of employment services The second concerns a move towards the individualisation of service delivery visible in the expansion of the use of personal action plans or in efforts to streamline service delivery Finally we show that the onset of the sovereign debt crisis in Europe has triggered a new wave of reforms Whilst tentative only our analysis points to a worrying trend of the curtailment or benefits Portugal and activation services Netherlands Czech Republic to minimum income recipients and in parallel a further deepening of the focus on work conditionality UK and Norway

Caring for a Living Francesca Degiuli, 2016-05-06 Today s world is aging at a great speed and although increased longevity represents one of the greatest achievements of the last century the extension of life expectancy does not necessarily correspond to an extension of healthy lives Aging populations particularly those with a high percentage of the oldest old are often burdened with chronic conditions that require extended long term care Deciding who provides said care and in what forms are key problems that will soon affect a growing number of post industrial high and mid income countries

Caring for a Living contributes to this debate by exploring the organization of long term care in Italy a country already in the midst of an eldercare crisis There the answer to this problem has taken the shape of home eldercare assistance an arrangement whereby long term care services are bought in the market in the form of private and individualized assistance by families sometimes with economic support provided by the State The providers of these services commonly known as badanti minders are for the most part im migrant women coming from different areas of the world Caring for a Living analyzes the emergence and development of this arrangement and the role that the state Italian families and workers themselves play in shaping and in defining it The author provides timely insights on the nature of long term care and its requirements the specific needs of families facing this issue the changing role of the neoliberal State and the ways in which global political and economic processes influence and shape an apparently individually based solution to long term care This book is ideal for graduate courses in sociology and anthropology specifically in courses related to gender and migration work and women social inequality and immigration studies

Decent Incomes for All Bea Cantillon, Tim Goedemé, John Hills, 2019

For more than a decade organizations such as the IMF OECD and the ILO have issued concerns about the trend of increased inequality in rich welfare states while influential thinkers and think tanks have come to agree on at least one central point globalization and technological progress have exacerbated the existing inequities in social market economies Across Europe despite high social spending and work related welfare reforms poverty remains a largely intractable problem for policymakers and the persistent reality for citizens In Decent Incomes for All the authors shed new light on recent poverty trends in the European Union and the corresponding responses by European welfare states They analyze the effect of social and fiscal policies before during and after the recent economic crisis and study the impact of alternative policy packages on poverty and inequality The book also explores how social investment and local initiatives of social innovation can contribute to tackling poverty while recognizing that there are indeed structural constraints on the increase of the social floor and difficult trade offs involved in reconciling work and poverty reduction Differences across countries are however stark which suggests that there are lessons to be learned and policy changes to be applied if the political will exists
