Facilitating Problem-Based Learning Maggi Savin-Baden,2003-06-16 The book is written in a lively engaging conversational style without compromising on empirical rigour to substantiate its claims All practitioners of problem based learning will benefit from the multipronged perspectives on pbl facilitation contained here British Journal of Educational Technology Interest in problem based learning continues to flourish worldwide To date there has been relatively little to help staff to examine the complex issues relating to facilitating the implementation of problem based learning and the ongoing development of staff students and the curriculum This book explores a broad range of issues about facilitation in particular understandings of facilitation that have emerged from the author s recent research and ways of equipping and supporting staff in terrestrial and virtual contexts It also questions how students are assessed and suggests ways of preventing plagiarism in problem based learning It examines what it might mean to be an effective facilitator and suggests ways of designing problem based curricula that enhance learning Empowering Readers Mary L. Hoch, Jana L.

McNally, 2019-12-11 To address Common Core State Standards CCSS for reading and language today s educators strive to help their students develop higher level understanding with challenging materials In this book we share our method for implementing an integrated strategy approach for helping readers understand expository text This approach can be used to accompany and extend text structure instruction on the five most commonly used expository text structures compare and contrast cause and effect problem and solution description and sequence Within this approach we designed a method for using key vocabulary in a way that helps readers think about the structure of the text To aid in the development of higher level understanding with challenging materials this approach integrates other essential reading comprehension components that foster understanding such as predicting and summarizing The Structure Sort integrated approach embeds these essential strategies before during and after reading to empower students to make connections and build comprehension at all stages of reading Text Relevance and Learning from Text Gregory Schraw, Matthew T. McCrudden, Joseph P.

Magliano, 2011-08-01 Why do people from similar backgrounds who read the same text construct different meanings Is there a question behind every reading goal such that reading is an interactive process of asking and answering of questions Do people who believe that knowledge is dynamic construct meaning differently than those who believe that knowledge is certain This volume addresses questions such as these and presents cutting edge research and theory that explores how readers determine text relevance i e the different values they assign to information as they read how relevance affects understanding and the implications of these studies for theories of text comprehension This volume documents in a compelling manner the ongoing international effort to understand how text relevance affects reading and comprehension Contributing authors represent major academic institutions on three continents and nine countries demonstrating the multinational interest in text relevance Why is there so much interest in text relevance Learners are inundated with unprecedented amounts of information and increased research regarding how readers process non traditional texts e g documents on the web and multiple documents for example underscores the importance of understanding how readers determine the relevance of text information for personal academic or professional goals which can enable educators to design learning situations that help learners get the most out of reading
