Troubled Waters Borders Boundaries And Possession In The Timor Sea:

Troubled Waters Ruth Balint, 2005-06-01 The dramatic transformation of Australia's northern seas from an ignored backwater to the most militarized and fiercely guarded waters in the region is chronicled in this fascinating volume. Once a bridge between two coastlines and two cultures in the last years of the 20th century, the Timor Sea has become Australia's frontline against the threat of invasion. When Australia expanded its territorial boundaries by 200 nautical miles in 1979, its territory reached the doorstep of eastern Indonesia, an occupation driven by the concept of mare nullius, the idea that the sea was empty and that no one would suffer for their claims. But for the traditional fishermen of West Timor, these waters represented the source of their livelihood, and this powerful story includes the struggles of a people evicted from their seas.

Water, Sovereignty and Borders in Asia and Oceania Devleena Ghosh, Heather Goodall, Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, 2009-01-21 This book restores water, both fresh and salt, to its central position in human endeavour, ecology, and environment. Water access and the environmental and social problems of development are major issues of concern in this century. Drawing on water's many formations in debating human relationship with a major source of life and a major factor in contemporary politics, this book covers oceans and rivers, to lagoons, billabongs, and estuaries in Asia, Oceania, and the West Pacific. In an interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary analysis of the water problem, the contributors address the physical descriptors of water and water flow, and they interrogate the politicised administrations of water in closely corresponding regions. Water, Sovereignty and Borders in Asia and Oceania identifies new discursive possibilities for thinking about water in theory and in practice. It presents those discourses that seem most useful in addressing the multiple crises the region is facing and thus should be of interest to scholars of Asian Studies, Geography, Environmental, and Cultural Studies.

Frontiers in International Environmental Law: Oceans and Climate Challenges Richard Barnes, Ronán Long, 2021-03-15 Frontiers in International Environmental Law explores how law and legal scholarship has responded to some of the most important oceans and climate governance challenges of our time. Using the concept of the frontier, each contributor provides a unique perspective on the way that we can understand and can shape the development of law and legal institutions to better protect our marine environment and climate system and reduce conflicts in areas of legal uncertainty. The authors show how different actors influence legal development and how legal transitions occur in marine spaces and how change influences existing legal regimes. They also consider how change creates risks for the protection of vulnerable environment but also opportunities for creative thinking and better ways of governing our environment. Hope, Solidarity and Death at the Australian Border Michelle Jasmin Dimasi, 2022-01-25 Forced displacement affects millions annually as they search for safety, yet how many of us take the time to truly understand the asylum seeker experience? Not only confronted with the risks of irregular migration, asylum seekers must navigate border politics imposed by countries seeking to deter and punish those in need. Nameless bodies who wash up on the shores globally have become a contemporary norm. As humans are all deeply connected a moral responsibility exists to comprehend why asylum seekers seek refuge even if the stakes of death are high When understanding prevails compassion and welcome often follow However policies of deterrence signalling to refugees that they are not welcome have overshadowed an appreciation to understand Despite asylum seeker deaths being well publicised government policies that focus on preventing illegal immigration often resonate with the populous The question arises as to why a lack of understanding and hospitality is the dominant discourse Possible clues are found on faraway Christmas Island an Australian outpost located in the Indian Ocean situated much closer to Indonesia than Australia This book the result of extensive research reveals how Australia's asylum seeker policy plays out at the Australian border It examines how Christmas Islanders responded to asylum seekers and provides insights into why humans respond to strangers in need or turn them away It opens the aperture for future discussions around the global complexities of welcoming asylum seekers host communities and immigration border policies and encourages replacing asylum seeker border deaths with hope and solidarity

Historical Dictionary of East Timor Geoffrey C. Gunn, 2010-12-18 East Timor also known as Timor Leste comprises the eastern half of the island of Timor located at the eastern end of the Indonesian archipelago East Timor was among the last of colonial territories to become independent and it actually had to be liberated twice First after more than four centuries of Portuguese colonial rule it achieved independence in 1975 only to be invaded and occupied by Indonesia After a blood soaked occupation of 24 years and following intense international pressure the Jakarta regime only grudgingly allowed East Timor to form a nation of its own in 1999 Since then the new state has faced further armed clashes and is only now able to seriously engage in nation building Historical Dictionary of East Timor relates the turbulent history of this country through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of East Timor history from the earliest times to the present

The Pearl Frontier Julia T. Martínez, Adrian Vickers, Clem Guthrie, 2015-05-31 Remarkable for its meticulous archival research and moving life stories The Pearl Frontier offers a new way of imagining Australian historical connections with Indonesia This compelling view from below of maritime mobility demonstrates how in the colonial quest for the valuable pearl shell Australians came to rely on the skill and labor of Indonesian islanders drawing them into their northern pearling trade empire From the 1860s onward the pearl shell industry developed alongside British colonial conquests across Australia's northern coast and prompted the Dutch to consolidate their hold over the Netherlands East Indies Inspired by tales of pirates and priceless pearls the pearl frontier witnessed the maritime equivalent of a gold rush with traders entrepreneurs and willing workers coming from across the globe But like so many other frontier zones it soon became notorious for its reliance on slave-like conditions for Indigenous and Indonesian workers These allegations prompted the imposition of a strict regime of indentured labor migration that was to last for almost a century before giving way to international criticism in the era of decolonization The Pearl Frontier invites the reader to step outside the narrow confines of national boundaries to see seafaring peoples as a continuous population moving and in communication in spite of the obstacles of politics warfare and language Instead of the mythologies of racial purity propagated by settler colonies and European empires this book dissects the social and economic life of the port cities around the Australian Indonesian maritime zone and lays open the complex cosmopolitan relationships which shaped their histories and their present situations Julia Martínez and Adrian Vickers bring together their expertise on Australian and Indonesian history to challenge the isolationist view of Australia's past This book explores how Asian migration and the struggle against the restrictive White Australia policy left a rich legacy of mixed Asian Indigenous heritage that lives on along Australia's northern coastline This book is an important contribution to studies of the coastal or Pasisir culture of Southeast Asia that situates the local cultures in a regional context and demonstrates how Indonesian maritime peoples became part of global migration flows as indentured laborers It offers a hitherto untold story of Indonesian diaspora in Australia and reveals a degree of Indian Pacific interconnectedness that forces us to rethink the construction of regional boundaries and national borders

Indigenous Diplomacies J. Beier, 2009-12-21 This volume explores broad conceptual questions raised by the discovery of indigenous peoples as increasingly important global political actors questions made all the more urgent by the sudden recognition that indigenous diplomacies are not at all new but merely newly noticed

The Blue Frontier Ronald C. Po, 2018-08-23 Argues that Qing China was not just a continental empire but a maritime power protecting its interests at sea

A Higher Authority: Indigenous Transnationalism and Australia Ravi De Costa, 2012 This important book recovers the long tradition of indigenous transnationalism contact with external people institutions ideas throughout Australia's history from before white settlement to the present

Troubled Transit Antje Missbach, 2016-04-29 Troubled Transit considers the situation of asylum seekers stuck in limbo in Indonesia from a number of perspectives It presents not only the narratives of many transit migrants but also the perceptions of Indonesian authorities and of representatives of international and non government organizations responsible for the care of transiting asylum seekers Fascinated by the extraordinary and seemingly limitless resilience shown by asylum seekers during their often lengthy and dangerous journeys the author highlights one particular fragment of their journeys their time in Indonesia which many expect to be the last stepping stone to a new life While they long for their new life to unfold most asylum seekers become embroiled in the complexities of living in transit Indonesia a vast archipelago of more than 17 000 islands is more than a location where people spend time waiting it is a nation state that interacts with transiting asylum seekers and formulates policies that have a profound impact on their experience in transit there Troubled Transit tries to explain the complexities faced by the transiting migrants within the context of the Indonesian government and its political challenges including its relationship with Australia The Australia centric view of recent asylum seeker issues has tended to ignore the larger socio political context of the migratory routes and the perspectives of transit states towards asylum seekers stuck in transit This book hopes to direct the Australia centric gaze northwards to take Indonesian policies and policymaking into account thereby giving Indonesia more relevance as a transit country and as an important partner in regional protection schemes and migration management Even though some Indonesian policies and practices are less than favourable for asylum seekers and even reprehensible from a human rights perspective more attention must be paid to ongoing developments that impact on transiting asylum seekers in Indonesia if any of the hardships they suffer there are to be alleviated

traces the persistence across two centuries of a regional idea expressed variously as Australasia the Malay Archipelago and the Islands The book explores the manifestations of this idea in trade travel investment and diplomatic interactions between Australia and its island neighbors from the early years of British colonization to the present day Uncertain Lives Jon Stratton, 2011-08-08 Uncertain Lives is the first book to examine the impact of neoliberal policies on everyday life in Australia Going beyond the discussions of multiculturalism that dominated the 1980s and 1990s Uncertain Lives examines the persistence of race and racism in the Australian experience While the governments of John Howard followed the rhetoric of neoliberalism in suggesting that market forces dominated social relations in reality the racism that had been founded in the White Australia policy became again increasingly acceptable and accepted in a society no longer subject to the values of multiculturalism Uncertain Lives tracks this racism from its pervasiveness in everyday life to the ways race influenced decisions about who would and would not be allowed into Australia From discussions of asylum seekers to migrants to the ways that thinking about the border itself has been transformed Uncertain Lives charts the recent history of the Australian experience Uncertain Lives ranges over events such as the Cronulla Riots of 2005 and the 2006 Beaconsfield mine rescue and uses a variety of recent films to highlight the impact of race in a society where liberal and social democratic values have been replaced by neoliberal ideology Ethnic Groups of South Asia and the Pacific James B. Minahan, 2012-08-30 This comprehensive guide to the Pacific and South Asia provides detailed and enlightening information about the many ethnic groups of this increasingly important region of the world Ideally suited for high school and undergraduate students studying subjects such as anthropology geography and social studies Ethnic Groups of South Asia and the Pacific An Encyclopedia provides clear detailed and up to date information on each major group in South Asian and Pacific Island countries including India Nepal Indonesia Pakistan Singapore Australia Tonga Samoa and the Solomon Islands Organized alphabetically by ethnic group each entry provides an introduction followed by accessible descriptions of the origins early history cultural life political life and modern history of the ethnicity Alternate names major population centers primary languages and religions and other important characteristics of each group are also covered Beyond being a valuable resource for student research this book will be enlightening and entertaining for general readers interested in South Asia and the Pacific Segregation Carl H. Nightingale, 2012-05-01 When we think of segregation what often comes to mind is apartheid South Africa or the American South in the age of Jim Crow two societies fundamentally premised on the concept of the separation of the races But as Carl H Nightingale shows us in this magisterial history segregation is everywhere deforming cities and societies worldwide Starting with segregation's ancient roots and what the archaeological evidence reveals about humanity's long standing use of urban divisions to reinforce political and economic inequality Nightingale then moves to the world of European colonialism It was there he shows segregation based on color and eventually on race took hold the British East India Company for example split Calcutta into White Town and Black Town As we follow Nightingale's story around the globe

we see that division replicated from Hong Kong to Nairobi Baltimore to San Francisco and more The turn of the twentieth century saw the most aggressive segregation movements yet as white communities almost everywhere set to rearranging whole cities along racial lines Nightingale focuses closely on two striking examples Johannesburg with its state sponsored separation and Chicago in which the goal of segregation was advanced by the more subtle methods of real estate markets and housing policy For the first time ever the majority of humans live in cities and nearly all those cities bear the scars of segregation This unprecedented ambitious history lays bare our troubled past and sets us on the path to imagining the better more equal cities of the future

Genocide Perspectives IV Colin Tatz,2012-01-01 Genocide isn t past tense and the Nazi and Bosnian eras are not yet closed The demonising of people as unworthy and expendable is ever present and the consequences are all too evident in the daily news These fourteen essays by Australian scholars confront the issues the need for a measuring scale that encompasses differences and similarities between seemingly divergent cases of the crime the complicity of bureaucracies the healing professions and the churches in this crime of crimes the quest for historical justice for genocide victims generally following the Nuremberg Trials the fate of children in the Nazi and postwar eras the worthiness of Armenians Jews and Romani people in twentieth century Europe and the imperative to tackle early warning signs of an incipient genocide Colin Tatz is a founding director of the Australian Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies visiting fellow in Politics and International Relations at the Australian National University and honorary visiting fellow at the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies He teaches and publishes in comparative race politics youth suicide migration studies and sports history

Destination Elsewhere Ruth Balint,2021-11-15 In this unique history from below Destination Elsewhere chronicles encounters between displaced persons in Europe and the Allied agencies who were tasked with caring for them after the Second World War The struggle to define who was a displaced person and who was not was a subject of intense debate and deliberation among humanitarians international law experts immigration planners and governments What has not adequately been recognized is that displaced persons also actively participated in this emerging refugee conversation Displaced persons endured war displacement and resettlement but these experiences were not defined by passivity and speechlessness Instead they spoke back creating a dialogue that in turn helped shape the modern idea of the refugee As Ruth Balint shows what made a good or convincing story at the time tells us much about the circulation of ideas about the war the Holocaust and the Jews Those stories depict the emerging moral and legal distinction between economic migrants and political refugees They tell us about the experiences of women and children in the face of new psychological and political interventions into the family Stories from displaced persons also tell us something about the enduring myth of the new world for people who longed to leave the old Balint focuses on those persons whose storytelling skills became a major strategy for survival and escape out of the displaced persons camps and out of the Europe Their stories are brought to life in Destination Elsewhere alongside a new history of immigration statelessness and the institution of the postwar family

Renovation Nation Fiona R. Allon, 2008 This is an intelligent savvy account of home in all its manifestations It s about our fetish for home and ownership Why are Australians so obsessed with interest rates home ownership home beautification investment properties real estate Fiona Allon looks at our own homes why we renovate why shows like The Block were so incredibly popular why housing affordability has become one of the key political and social issues and finds that we have become more inward looking than ever She also looks at the national home and at why we became so anxious about keeping some people out of the country or away from places some thought they owned like Cronulla Beach Provided by publisher
