Bertrand, 2000 In Race Rock and Elvis Michael T. Bertrand contends that popular music specifically Elvis Presley's brand of rock n roll helped revise racial attitudes after World War II Observing that youthful fans of rhythm and blues rock n roll and other black inspired music seemed more inclined than their segregationist elders to ignore the color line Bertrand links popular music with a more general relaxation led by white youths of the historical denigration of blacks in the South The tradition of southern racism successfully communicated to previous generations failed for the first time when confronted with the demand for rock n roll by a new national commercialized youth culture In a narrative peppered with the colorful observations of ordinary southerners Bertrand argues that appreciating black music made possible a new recognition of blacks as fellow human beings Bertrand documents black enthusiasm for Elvis Presley and cites the racially mixed audiences that flocked to the new music at a time when adults expected separate performances for black audiences and white He describes the critical role of radio and recordings in blurring the color line and notes that these media made black culture available to appreciative whites on an unprecedented scale He also shows how music was used to define and express the values of a southern working class youth culture in transition as young whites many of them trying to orient themselves in an unfamiliar urban setting embraced black music and culture as a means of identifying themselves By adding rock n roll to the mix of factors that fed into civil rights advances in the South Race Rock and Elvis shows how the music with its rituals and vehicles symbolized the vast potential for racial accord inherent in postwar society Annual Review Of Nursing Research, Volume 20, 2002 Joyce J. Peiper's Last Gamble Danny S Parker,2025-02-28 By the autumn of 1944 Hitler s plans for the conquest of Europe were in disarray The F hrer s much vaunted Third Reich facing an Allied onslaught from the east and west was slowly collapsing Desperate to seize the initiative on the Western Front Hitler seeing himself as a beleaguered modern day Frederick the Great looked for some bold counterattack that could change his fortunes Hitler s wish had at least one clear result for as even as early as 19 August 1944 he had instructed Alfred Jodl to consider a bold counter stroke in the west in November Hitler s generals therefore set about drawing up plans for an offensive in the area of the Ardennes Forest It was to be an attack that would enable German forces to cross the Meuse and decisively breaking through the Allied front line advance on Antwerp Given the limitations he and his forces faced Hitler knew he would need panzer leaders capable of a delivering a Blitzkrieg advance perhaps one that took advantage of night time hours One of the German officers who was tasked with delivering this audacious victory was the battle hardened veteran SS Obersturmbannf hrer Jochen Peiper A Waffen SS officer and one of the most celebrated heroes of Hitler s armies Peiper and the SS Panzer Division Leibstandarte as a whole were already on his mind A long time adjutant of Heinrich Himmler and completely dedicated to the Nazi cause Peiper had fought in every major campaign of the Second World War However having been wounded in Normandy following the D Day landings Peiper also ailing from a combination of battle fatigue and hepatitis had been evacuated to a field hospital and then back Germany in August 1944 It was while he was recuperating at the SS Reserve Hospital 501 overlooking Lake Tegernsee in Bavaria that Peiper learnt of his part in the forthcoming offensive Though his skin had a sickly ochre cast from jaundice and three years of front line combat too many days of coffee and cigarettes followed by nights of fighting and frustration and the fact that his nerves were shot he had been selected as one of the men who would lead the F hrer s final great gamble Comprising some 4 800 men and 600 vehicles including a number of the powerful Tiger II heavy tanks Kampfgruppe Peiper played a central part in the Ardennes Offensive or the Battle of the Bulge as it is commonly known which was unleashed on 16 December 1944 It is a role that is explored here by Danny S Parker who reveals the successes defeats and war crimes that Kampfgruppe Peiper was involved in before the Ardennes Offensive ended in failure in January 1945

Bringing Fieldwork Back In Elijah Anderson,2012-06-21 In 2001 the first of a series of ethnographic conferences took place in Los Angeles with an emphasis on fieldwork Since then the field has gained a much larger disciplinary footprint While the increase in substantial research in the field has risen dramatically ethnographic styles of writing have emerged that fail to include much discernible fieldwork This volume of The Annals broaches the subject of improving fieldwork in the ethnographic spectrum through old fashioned or shoe leather fieldwork At a more recent ethnographic conference at Yale University in 2010 with a follow up in June 2011 emerging ethnographers were mentored by senior scholars in which they presented an informal yet supportive setting where ethnographic fieldwork could be constructively critiqued This volume is a product of those collective efforts The articles in this volume include insight into relations among affluent minorities the status system we find in today's sports and a portrait of an employer of undocumented workers among other articles This volume will appeal to both undergraduate and graduate students with a wide range of interests including sociology education anthropology and race and gender conflicts and problems
