Truth About Stories Thomas King:

The Truth About Stories Thomas King, 2003-11-01 Winner of the 2003 Trillium Book Award Stories are wondrous things award winning author and scholar Thomas King declares in his 2003 CBC Massey Lectures And they are dangerous Beginning with a traditional Native oral story King weaves his way through literature and history religion and politics popular culture and social protest gracefully elucidating North America's relationship with its Native peoples Native culture has deep ties to storytelling and yet no other North American culture has been the subject of more erroneous stories The Indian of fact as King says bears little resemblance to the literary Indian the dying Indian the construct so powerfully and often destructively projected by White North America With keen perception and wit King illustrates that stories are the key to and only hope for human understanding He compels us to listen well The Truth about Stories Thomas King, 2005 Explores how stories shape who we are how we understand and interact with other people and how Native American culture ties into storytelling from creation stories to personal experiences historical anecdotes to social injustices racist propaganda to works of contemporary Native American literature The Anansi Reader Lynn Coady, 2007 In 1967 then unknown writers David Godfrey and Dennis Lee founded a small press they grandly named The House of Anansi after an African trickster spider god Their goal was to publish groundbreaking new Canadian work in three core genres literary fiction poetry and topical nonfiction Forty years later Anansi is not only going strong but enjoying a fascinating creative renaissance bolstered by both its important backlist and its renewed commitment to seeking out the best new writers and ideas to publish alongside its established ones Assembled by award winning writer Lynn Coady The Anansi Reader features excerpts from ten of the best books from each decade of the existence of the press for a total of 40 entries Samples from Lynn Crosbie's Queen Rat Northrop Frye's The Educated Imagination and Kevin Connolly's Drift are among the treasures included In a thoughtful coda Coady shows readers the future with selections from seven exciting works in progress coming from Anansi in the next two years Thomas King Eva Gruber, 2012 Thomas King is one of North America's foremost Native writers best known for his novels including Green Grass Running Water for the Dreadful Water mysteries and for collections of short stories such as One Good Story That One and A Short History of Indians in Canada But King is also a poet a literary and cultural critic and a noted filmmaker photographer and scriptwriter and performer for radio His career and oeuvre have been validated by literary awards and by the inclusion of his writing in college and university curricula Critical responses to King's work have been abundant yet most of this criticism consists of journal articles and to date only one book length study of his work exists Thomas King Works and Impact fills this gap by providing an up to date comprehensive overview of all major aspects of King's oeuvre as well as its reception and influence It brings together expert scholars to discuss King's role in and impact on Native literature and its processes of canonization and to offer in depth analyses of his multifaceted body of work The volume will be of interest to students and scholars of literature English and Native American studies and to King aficionados The Nature of Inquisitorial Processes in Administrative Regimes Laverne Jacobs, Sasha Baglay, 2016-03-03 Inquisitorial processes refers to the inquiry powers of administrative governance and this book examines the use of these powers in administrative law across seven jurisdictions The book brings together recent developments in mixed inquisitorial adversarial administrative decision making on a hitherto neglected area of comparative administrative process and institutional design Reaching important conclusions about their own jurisdictions and raising questions which may be explored in others the book's chapters are comparative They explore the terminology and scope of the concept of inquisitorial process justifications for the use of inquiry powers the effectiveness of inquisitorial processes and the implications of the adoption of such powers The book will set in motion continued dialogue about the inherent challenges of balancing policy goals fairness resources and institutional design within administrative law decision making by offering theoretical practical and empirical analyses This will be a valuable book to government policy makers administrative law decision makers lawyers and academics

[Re]Gained in Translation, Volume 1-2 Sabine Dievenkorn, Shaul Levin, 2024-02-26 Volume 1 Translations of the Bible take place in the midst of tension between politics ideology and power With the theological authority of the book as God's Word not focusing on the process of translating is stating the obvious Inclinations fluency and zeitgeist play as serious a role as translators' person faith and worldview as do their vocabulary poetics and linguistic capacity History has seen countless retranslations of the Bible What are the considerations according to which Biblical retranslations are being produced in current 21st century contexts From retranslations of the Hebrew Bible to those of the Old and New Testaments to mutual influences of Christian and Jewish translational traditions the papers collected here all deal with the question of what is to be re-gained with the production of a new translation where at times many a previous one has already existed Volume 2 Times are changing and with them the norms and notions of correctness Despite a wide spread belief that the Bible as a sacred original only allows one translation if any new translations are constantly produced and published for all kinds of audiences and purposes The various paradigms marked by the theological political and historical correctness of the time group and identity and bound to certain ethics and axiomatic norms are reflected in almost every current translation project Like its predecessor the current volume brings together scholars working at the intersection of Translation Studies Bible Studies and Theology all of which share a special point of interest concerning the status of the Scriptures as texts fundamentally based on the act of translation and its recurring character It aims to breathe new life into Bible translation studies unlock new perspectives and vistas of the field and present a bigger picture of how Bible re-translation works in society today

Rethinking Who We Are Paul U. Angelini, 2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Rethinking Who We Are takes a non-conventional approach to understanding human difference in Canada Contributors to this volume critically re-examine Canadian identity by rethinking who we are and what we are becoming by scrutinizing the totality of difference Included are analyses on the macro differences among Canadians such as the disparities produced from unequal treatment under Canadian law human rights legislation and health care Contributors also explore the diversities that are often treated in a non traditional manner on the bases of gender class sexuality disAbility and Indigeniety Finally the ways in which difference is treated in Canada s legal system literature and the media are explored with an aim to challenge existing orthodoxy and push readers to critically examine their beliefs and ideas particularly in an age where divisive racist and xenophobic politics and attitudes are resurfacing

The Cambridge Companion to the American Short Story Michael J. Collins,Gavin Jones,2023-05-25 This Companion offers students and scholars a comprehensive introduction to the development and the diversity of the American short story as a literary form from its origins in the eighteenth century to the present day Rather than define what the short story is as a genre or defend its importance in comparison with the novel this Companion seeks to understand what the short story does how it moves through national space how it is always related to other genres and media and how its inherent mobility responds to the literary marketplace and resonates with key critical themes in contemporary literary studies The chapters offer authoritative introductions and reinterpretations of a literary form that has re emerged as a major force in the twenty first century public sphere dominated by the Internet

Religion and Migration Andrea Bieler,Isolde Karle,HyeRan Kim-Cragg,Ilona Nord,2019-10-31 This volume explores religious discourses and practices of hospitality in the context of migration It articulates the implied ambivalences and even contradictions as well as the potential to contribute to a more just world through social interconnection with others The book features contributors from diverse national denominational cultural and racial backgrounds Their essays reveal a dichotomy of hospitality between guest and host while tackling the meaning of home or the loss of it interrogating both the peril and promise of the relationship between religion chiefly Christianity and hospitality and focusing on the role of migrants vulnerability and agency by drawing from empirical theological sociological and anthropological insights emerged from postcolonial migration contexts With contributions by Andrea Bieler Jione Havea Claudia Hoffmann HyeRan Kim Cragg Claudia Janel Isolde Karle Buhle Mpofu Armin Nassehi Ilona Nord Henrietta Nyamnjoh Regina Polak Ludger Pries Thomas Reynolds Harsha Walia Julia Well and Birgit Weyel

Shakespeare and Canada Irena R. Makaryk,Kathryn Prince,2017-03-08 Shakespeare in Canada is the result of a collective desire to explore the role that Shakespeare has played in Canada over the past two hundred years but also to comprehend the way our country's culture has influenced our interpretation of his literary career and heritage What function does Shakespeare serve in Canada today How has he been reconfigured in different ways for particular Canadian contexts The authors of this book attempt to answer these questions while imagining what the future might hold for William Shakespeare in Canada Covering the Stratford Festival the cult CBC television program Slings and Arrows major Canadian critics such as Northrop Frye and Marshall McLuhan the influential acting teacher Neil Freiman the rise of Qu'becois and First Nation approaches to Shakespeare and Shakespeare's place in secondary schools today this collection reflects the diversity and energy of Shakespeare's afterlife in Canada Collectively the authors suggest that Shakespeare continues to offer Canadians remembrance of ourselves This is a refreshingly original and impressive contribution to Shakespeare studies a considerable achievement in any work on the history of one of the central figures in the western literary canon Published in English

The Creator's Game Allan Downey, 2018-02-15 A gift from the Creator that is where it all began The game of lacrosse has been a central element of many Indigenous cultures for centuries but once non Indigenous players entered the sport it became a site of appropriation then reclamation of Indigenous identities Focusing on the history of lacrosse in Indigenous communities from the 1860s to the 1990s The Creator's Game explores Indigenous non Indigenous relations and Indigenous identity formation While the game was being stripped of its cultural and ceremonial significance and being appropriated to construct a new identity for the nation state of Canada it was also being used by Indigenous peoples for multiple ends to resist residential school experiences initiate pan Indigenous political mobilization and articulate Indigenous sovereignty and nationhood on the world stage The multilayered story of lacrosse serves as a potent illustration of how identity and nationhood are formed and reformed Engaging and innovative The Creator's Game provides a unique view of Indigenous self determination in the face of settler colonialism

Where Happiness Dwells Robin Ridington, Jillian Ridington, 2013-02-25 The Dane'zaa people have lived in BC's Peace River area for thousands of years Elders documented their peoples history and worldview passing them on through storytelling Language loss however threatens to break the bonds of knowledge transmission At the request of the Doig River First Nations anthropologists Robin and Jillian Ridington present a history of the Dane'zaa people based on oral histories collected over a half century of fieldwork These powerful stories not only preserve traditional knowledge for future generations they also tell the inspiring story of how the Dane'zaa learned to succeed and flourish in the modern world

Racism in Southern Alberta and Anti-racist Activism for Change Caroline Hodes, Glenda Tibe Bonifacio, 2023-04-18 Drawing on reflective personal narrative experiential research and critical theoretical engagement this collection connects localized experiences with broader structural and systemic forms of intersectional racism These detailed examinations of the various forms of racism faced by immigrants and Indigenous people living and working in Southern Alberta reveal how institutional racism continues to saturate modern Canadian culture and practice

defined and often contested through stories Scholars have long recognized that two foundational sets of stories narratives of contact and narratives of arrival helped to define settler societies We are only beginning to understand how ongoing issues of migration and settlement are linked to issues of indigenous settler contact Storied Communities disrupts the assumption in many works that indigenous and immigrant identities fall into two separate streams of analysis The authors do not attempt to build a new master narrative they instead juxtapose narratives of contact and arrival as they explore key themes narrative and narrative form the nature and hazards of storytelling in the political realm and the institutional and theoretical implications of foundation narratives and storytelling By bringing to light the links between narratives of contact and narratives of arrival this volume opens up new ways to imagine sustain and transform political communities

ohpikinâwasowin / Growing a Child Leona Makokis, Ralph Bodor, Avery Calhoun, Stephanie

Tyler, 2020-08-26T00:00:00Z Western theory and practice are over represented in child welfare services for Indigenous peoples not the other way around Contributors to this collection invert the long held colonial relationship between Indigenous peoples and systems of child welfare in Canada By understanding the problem as the prevalence of the Western universe in child welfare services rather than Indigenous peoples efforts to understand and support Indigenous children and families are fundamentally transformed Child welfare for Indigenous peoples must be informed and guided by Indigenous practices and understandings Privileging the iyiniw First people people of the land universe leads to reinvigorating traditional knowledges practices and ceremonies related to children and families that have existed for centuries The chapters of ohpikin wasowin Growing a Child describe wisdom seeking journeys and service provision changes that occurred in Treaty 6 Treaty 7 and Treaty 8 territory on Turtle Island Many of the teachings are nehiyaw Cree and some are from the Blackfoot people Taken together this collection forms a whole related to the Turtle Lodge Teachings which expresses nehiyaw stages of development and works to undo the colonial trappings of Canada's current child welfare system Teaching Social Justice Using Postcolonial Texts Geraldine Balzer, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Anne Burke, 2023-07-28 This book explores how teachers can re examine their emotional investments in enacting dominant settler values through changing their text selection and teaching practices Based on a longitudinal qualitative research study conducted by a national team of literacy scholars in collaboration with practicing literacy teachers at eight sites across Canada the book investigates how groups of teachers working collaboratively in inquiry groups develop and implement curriculum to promote their own and their students understandings of social justice in postcolonial and settler spaces In particular the book highlights the rich and dynamic landscape of postcolonial authors illustrators and texts the development of culturally sensitive curricula and critical pedagogies possible in addressing contemporary and historical issues both local and global This book is primarily of interest to literacy scholars literacy instructors teacher educators in teacher education programs educational leaders practicing teachers from the K 12 spectrum and school district staff and policy makers with responsibilities for or interests in the potential of literacy and literature engagement for social justice education The book is also be of interest to postsecondary educators and teacher educators wishing to use literature in social justice anti racist and anti oppressive courses

Methodological Challenges in Nature-Culture and Environmental History Research Jocelyn Thorpe,Stephanie Rutherford,L. Anders Sandberg,2016-11-10 This book examines the challenges and possibilities of conducting cultural environmental history research today Disciplinary commitments certainly influence the questions scholars ask and the ways they seek out answers but some methodological challenges go beyond the boundaries of any one discipline The book examines how to account for the fact that humans are not the only actors in history yet dominate archival records how to attend to the non visual senses when traditional sources offer only a two dimensional non sensory version of the past how to decolonize research in and beyond the archives and how effectively to use sources and means of communication made available in the digital age This book will be a valuable resource for those interested in environmental history and politics sustainable development and historical geography

Affect, Embodiment, and Place in Critical Literacy Kimberly Lenters,Mairi McDermott,2019-08-22 This book explores the impact of sensation affect ethics and place on literacy learning from early childhood through to adult education Chapters bridge the divide between theory and practice to consider how contemporary teaching and learning can promote posthuman values and perspectives By offering a posthuman approach to literacy research and pedagogy Affect Embodiment and Place in Critical Literacy re works the theory practice divide in literacy education to emphasize the ways in which learning is an affective and embodied process merging in a particular environment Written by literacy educators and international literacy researchers this volume is divided into four sections focussing on Moving with sensation and affect becoming worldmakers with ethics and difference relationships that matter in curriculum and place before drawing together everything in a concise conclusion Affect Embodiment and Place in Critical Literacy is the perfect resource for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of literacy education and philosophy of education as well as those seeking to explore the benefits of a posthumanism approach when conceptualising theory and practice in literacy education

Autonomy and the Situated Self Rachel Haliburton,2013-11-26 Bioethics tells a heroic story about its origins and purpose The impetus for its contemporary development can be traced to concern about widespread paternalism in medicine mistreatment of research subjects used in medical experimentation and questions about the implication of technological developments in medical practice Bioethics then began as a defender of the interests of patients and the rights of research participants and understood itself to play an important role as a critic of powerful interests in medicine and medical practice Autonomy and the Situated Self argues that as bioethics has become successful it no longer clearly lives up to these founding ideals and it offers a critique of the way in which contemporary bioethics has been co opted by the very institutions it once sought with good reason to criticize and transform In the process it has become mainstream moved from occupying the perspective of a critical outsider to enjoying the status of a respected insider whose primary role is to defend existing institutional arrangements and its own privileged position. The mainstreaming of bioethics has resulted in its domestication; it is at home in the institutions it would once have viewed with skepticism and a central part of practices it would once have challenged. Contemporary bioethics is increasingly dominated by a conception of autonomy that detaches the value of choice from the value of the things chosen, and the central role occupied by this conception makes it difficult for the bioethicist to make ethical judgments. Consequently, despite its very public successes, contemporary bioethics is largely failing to offer the ethical guidance it purports to be able to provide. In addition to providing a critique, this book offers an alternative framework that is designed to allow bioethicists to address the concerns that led to the creation of bioethics in the first place. This alternative framework is oriented around a conception of autonomy that works within the ethical guidelines provided by a contemporary form of virtue ethics and which connects the value of autonomous choice to a conception of human flourishing.

Children's Ministry in the Way of Jesus David M. Csinos, Ivy Beckwith, 2013-09-30. Attract kids to church the logic often goes and you get parents in the pews. All that's left is to get the kids out of the way. Here children's ministers David Csinos and Ivy Beckwith draw on research in human development and spiritual formation to show how children become disciples and churches become centers of lifelong discipleship.
