Air U.S. Air Force, 2015-03-19 USAF Plans and Policies R D For Southeast Asia 1965 1967 is the most recent publication by the Office of Air Force History AFCHO dealing with the war in Vietnam The author first considers within the context of the U S Southeast Asian policy the evolution of limited war R D concepts prior to 1965 and then shows how these influenced USAF research and development programs in this area during 1965 1967 He examines the changes that the Air Force had to make in its R D funding procedures organization and policies as it made the transition from peacetime to a war situation He also reviews the development of conventional weapons and munitions as the Air Force shifted its emphasis from nuclear to limited war R D The War in South Vietnam John Schlight, 1988 United States Air Force in Southeast Asia Documents the Air Force s support of the ground war in South Vietnam from 1965 to early 1968 Includes sections on the air campaign conducted during the Communists siege of the Marine camp of Khe Sanh Also contains several appendices a glossary and bibliographical notes

Gradual failure : the air war over North Vietnam 1965-1966 Jacob Van Staaveren, 2002 Of the many facets of the American war in Southeast Asia debated by U S authorities in Washington by the military services and the public none has proved more controversial than the air war against North Vietnam The air war s inauguration with the nickname Rolling Thunder followed an eleven year American effort to induce communist North Vietnam to sign a peace treaty without openly attacking its territory Thus Rolling Thunder was a new military program in what had been a relatively low key attempt by the United States to win the war within South Vietnam against insurgent communist Viet Cong forces aided and abetted by the north The present volume covers the first phase of the Rolling Thunder campaign from March 1965 to late 1966 It begins with a description of the planning and execution of two initial limited air strikes nicknamed Flaming Dart I and II The Flaming Dart strikes were carried out against North Vietnam in February 1965 as the precursors to a regular albeit limited Rolling Thunder air program launched the following month Before proceeding with an account of Rolling Thunder its roots are traced in the events that compelled the United States to adopt an anti communist containment policy in Southeast Asia after the defeat of French forces by the communist Vietnamese in May 1954 To Hanoi and Back Wayne

Thompson, 2014-07-15 After nearly eighteen months of the largely unsuccessful bombing campaign called Operation Rolling Thunder the US Air Force began to look for ways to overcome technological geographical and political challenges in North Vietnam and use limited air power more effectively In 1972 the two Linebacker campaigns joined with other air operations to make a dramatic although temporary difference While they unleashed powerful B 52 area bombers the campaigns also demonstrated the efficacy of newly developed laser guided precision bombs Drawing upon twenty years of research in classified records Wayne Thompson integrates operational political and personal detail to present a full history of the Air Force role in the war against North Vietnam He provides an unprecedented view of the motivations and actions of the people involved from aircrews to generals to politicians in every phase of the air campaigns He outlines for instance the political reasons for President Johnson s reluctance to use B 52 bombers against major North Vietnamese targets He also examines how the media influenced US policy and how US prisoners became the war s most celebrated heroes The war in Southeast Asia ultimately pushed the Air Force toward adopting more flexible tactics and incorporating increasingly sophisticated weapons that would shape later conflicts Development and Employment of Fixed-wing Gunships, 1962-1972 Jack S.
