Monocots: Systematics and Evolution Karen L Wilson, David A Morrison, 2000-05-19 Monocots Systematics and Evolution presents leading work from around the world on non grass monocotyledons and includes reviews and current research into their comparative biology phylogeny and classification The papers are based on presentations at the Second International Conference on the Comparative Biology of the Monocotyledons Monocots II held in Sydney Australia in late 1998 Many were subsequently updated or extended to take into account new information All 72 papers have been peer reviewed

Cancer Research, 2007-11 Cellular and molecular mechanisms of motor neuron death in amyotrophic lateral sclerosis Ricardo Tapia, 2015-02-11 Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis ALS which was described since 1869 by Jean Martin Charcot is a devastating neurodegenerative disease characterized by the selective and progressive loss of upper and lower motor neurons of the cerebral cortex brainstem and the spinal cord The cognitive process is not affected and is not merely the result of aging because may occur at young ages The only known cause of the disease is associated with genetic mutations mainly in the gene encoding superoxide dismutase 1 familial ALS whereas there is no known cause of the sporadic form of ALS SALS which comprises 90% of cases Both ALS types develop similar histopathological and clinical characteristics and there is no treatment or prevention of the disease Because effective treatments for ALS as for other neurodegenerative diseases can only result from the knowledge of their cellular and molecular pathophysiological mechanisms research on such mechanisms is essential Although progress in neurochemical physiological and clinical investigations in the last decades has identified several mechanisms that seem to be involved in the cell death process such as glutamate mediated excitotoxicity alterations of inhibitory circuits inflammatory events axonal transport deficits oxidative stress mitochondrial dysfunction and energy failure the understanding of the origin and temporal progress of the disease is still incomplete and insufficient Clearly there is a need of further experimental models and approaches to discern the importance of such mechanisms and to discover the factors that determine the selective death of motor neurons characteristic of ALS in contrast to other neurodegenerative diseases such as Parkinson s and Alzheimer s disease Whereas studies in vitro in cell cultures tissue slices or organotypic preparations can give useful information regarding cellular and molecular mechanisms the experiments in living animal models obviously reflect more closely the situation in the human disease provided that the symptoms and their development during time mimics as close as possible those of the human disease It is necessary to correlate the experimental findings in vitro with those in vivo as well as those obtained in genetic models with those in non genetic models aiming at designing and testing therapeutic strategies based on the results obtained

Jacaranda Core Science Stage 4 New South Wales Australian Curriculum, 3e learnON and Print Paul Arena,2025-01-28 The Software Encyclopedia ,1988 Introduction to Human Anatomy and Physiology Eldra Pearl Solomon,2015-08-26 Students learn best when they can relate what they are studying to familiar issues problems and experiences and Introduction to Human Anatomy and Physiology 4th Edition does just that With a clear and concise focus on anatomy and physiology this new edition explains the normal structure of the human body and how it functions to maintain a state of balance and health and covers need to know principles in an easy to understand manner It focuses on how tissues organs and body systems work together to carry out activities such as maintaining body temperature regulating blood pressure learning and responding to stress Completely updated with a brand new art program this engaging user friendly text clarifies concepts that are often difficult for various career level health professions students to grasp through reading only Development of the Ocular Lens Frank J. Lovicu,Michael L. Robinson,2011-02-17 This book provides a comprehensive view of research in lens developmental biology emphasising technical and molecular breakthroughs Elucidation of the mechanisms that govern lens development has enabled us to understand how the normal lens forms and how developmental processes are involved in the maintenance of its normal structure function and growth throughout life This knowledge is fundamental to our understanding of many lens disorders The ocular lens has also become a model for understanding the developmental biology of more complex organ systems In this 2004 book leading experts in lens cell biology and development discuss lens evolution induction morphology the regulation of the lens cell cycle and fiber cell differentiation as well as lens regeneration This book is an authoritative treatment of the subject that will serve as a reference for graduate students and research scientists in developmental biology and in the visual sciences as well as for ophthalmologists
