Thoughts From Yesterday Glen Thomas Hierlmeier, 2013-01-24 My life has been so rich owing to the people who I have been blessed to know who have provided the substance to write about and I have been in so many wonderful places Once I capture a theme I mull it over for days or weeks and months sometimes years I may write several drafts in my mind before I write a single word Sometimes the first writing of a story will come out in more or less final draft form I tend to be very serious in my writing I choose serious subjects then I try to honor my commitment that a good story should make you laugh and cry and relate to the people places and things in the story Unfortunately there is often much more crying than laughing I ll keep working on that You should know that I have cried first As I write I relive my stories there are some I have read many times and I have cried over them every time as much the last as the first As my subtitle relates this is an unfinished work There are many more stories and essays letters poems and such that I still have in mind to write I hope to get to many more of them so we can share the special people places and things of our lives I have been encouraged to go ahead with what I have knowing that I will keep writing and keep crying and laughing some too The Red Chestnut Bookstore Don Light, 2011-02 The book is a novel about the consequences of a large increase in fees imposed on students by the administration of the University of California as a result of severe cuts in funding by the State Legislature Thousands of students demonstrate against the fee hike Also other forms of protest take place such as students blocking the entrances to the administration building The main emphasis is on the role of a few students in leading the protests and a telling of their love affairs
