What The Twilight Says Essays:

What the Twilight Says Derek Walcott, 1998 The first collection of essays by the Nobel Laureate includes Walcott's moving and insightful examinations of the paradoxes of Caribbean culture including his noted Nobel lecture and his reckoning of the work and significance of such poets as Robert Lowell Joseph Brodsky Robert Frost Seamus Heaney and Ted Hughes

Derek Walcott Paula Burnett, 2017-08-08 An important contribution to the study of Walcott's poetry and plays Modernism modernity Walcott Burnett says has assimilated western tradition to his own project using it to create a new plural world of open ended possibilities A book that should be of interest to any student of Walcott's literature Times Higher Education Supplement This ambitious book takes in the full corpus of Walcott plays essays interviews etc as well as the poetry and argues the essential unity of his humanistic vision Wasafiri Burnett is very good on Walcott's aesthetic and technical strategies particularly the mythopoeic framework of his thought and the epic form which he frequently employs New West Indian Guide Convincingly suggests that Walcott's art radiates outward from St Lucia to the West Indies the Caribbean Latin America and the Americas becoming an art that honors and enlarges the English language and its multiple histories and usages World Literature Today

History, Trauma, and Healing in Postcolonial Narratives O.

Ifowodo, 2013-11-18 What would it mean to read postcolonial writings under the prism of trauma Ogaga Ifowodo tackles these questions through a psycho social examination of the lingering impact of imperialist domination resulting in a refreshing complement to the cultural materialist studies that dominate the field

Black Theatre Paul Carter Harrison, Victor Leo Walker, Gus Edwards, Walker II Victor Leo, 2002-11 An insider's view of Black theatres of the world and how they reflect their culture concerns and history

Shakespearean Adaptation, Race and Memory in the New World Joyce Green MacDonald, 2020-08-24 As readers head into the second fifty years of the modern critical study of blackness and black characters in Renaissance drama it has become a critical commonplace to note black female characters almost complete absence from Shakespeare's plays Despite this physical absence however they still play central symbolic roles in articulating definitions of love beauty chastity femininity and civic and social standing invoked as the opposite and foil of women who are fair Beginning from this recognition of black women's simultaneous physical absence and imaginative presence this book argues that modern Shakespearean adaptation is a primary means for materializing black women's often elusive presence in the plays serving as a vital staging place for historical and political inquiry into racial formation in Shakespeare's world and our own Ranging geographically across North America and the Caribbean and including film and fiction as well as drama as it discusses remade versions of Othello Romeo and Juliet Antony and Cleopatra and The Taming of the Shrew Shakespearean Adaptation Race and Memory in the New World will attract scholars of early modern race studies gender and performance and women in Renaissance drama

Exile and Return as Poetics of Identity in Contemporary Anglo-Caribbean Literature

Eleonora Natalia Ravizza, 2019-11-25 In contemporary Anglo Caribbean literature the dialectic interrelations of exile and return are essential for conveying meta reflections on literature and language as well as the role they play in the construction of personal and collective identities While this volume focuses on the specificity of a cultural area whose history is marked by colonialism diaspora slavery and racial conflicts it also raises epistemological questions surrounding the complexity of literature and its function in a world which is ever more composite hybrid and transcultural By developing a new systematic approach which combines post colonial studies theories of intertextuality and philosophy of language it explores how contemporary literary texts reflect elaborate and redefine the experiences of societies that are currently dealing with ever growing global interdependencies and newly formed cultural and semiotic context
