Transforming Tales Rewriting Metamorphosis In Medieval French Literature:

Transforming Tales Miranda Griffin, 2015-08-27 Transforming Tales argues that the study of transformation is crucial for understanding a wide range of canonical work in medieval French literature. From the lais and Arthurian romances of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries through the Roman de la Rose and its widespread influence to the fourteenth century Ovide moralis and the vast prose cycles of the late Middle Ages, metamorphosis is a recurrent theme resulting in some of the best known and most powerful literature of the era. Transforming Tales is the first book in English to explore in detail the importance of ideas of metamorphosis in French literature from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries. This book's purpose is twofold: it traces a series of figures—the werewolf, the snake woman, the nymph, the magician, amongst others—as they are transformed within individual texts, and it also examines the way in which the stories of transformation themselves become rewritten during the course of the Middle Ages. Griffin's approach combines close readings and comparisons of literary texts with readings informed by modern critical theories which are grounded in many of the ideas raised by medieval metamorphosis: the body, gender, identity, and categories of life. Literary depictions and reworkings of transformation raise questions about medieval understandings of the differences between human and animal, man and woman, God and man, life and death; these are the questions explored in Transforming Tales.

Rewriting Medieval French Literature Leah Tether, Keith Busby, 2021-07-05 Jane H. M. Taylor is one of the world's foremost scholars of rewriting or écriture. Her focus has been on literature in medieval and Renaissance France, but rewriting, including continuation, translation, and adaptation, lies at the heart of literary traditions in all vernaculars. This book explores both the interdisciplinarity of rewriting and Taylor's remarkable contribution to its study. The rewriting and reinterpretation of narratives across chronological, social, and/or linguistic boundaries represents not only a crucial feature of text transmission but also a locus of cultural exchange. Taylor has shown that the adaptation of material to conform to the expectations, values, or literary tastes of a different audience can reveal important information regarding the acculturation and reception of medieval texts. In recent years, numerous scholars across disciplines have thus turned to this field of enquiry. This collection of studies dedicated to the rewriting of medieval French literature from the twelfth to the twenty-first centuries by Taylor's friends, colleagues, and former students offers not only a fitting tribute to Taylor's career but also a timely consolidation of the very latest research in the field, which will be vital for all scholars of medieval rewriting. With contributions from Jessica Taylor, Keith Busby, Leah Tether, Logan E. Whalen, Mireille S. Guy, Christine Ferlampin Acher, Ad Putter, Anne Salamon, Patrick Moran, Nathalie Koble, Bart Besamusca, Frank Brandsma, Richard Trachsler, Carol J. Chase, Maria Colombo Timelli, Laura Chuhan Campbell, Joan Tasker, Grimbart Jean, Claude M. Hlethaler, Michelle Szkilnik, Thomas Hinton, Elizabeth Archibald.

Narcissism and Selfhood in Medieval French Literature Nicholas Ealy, 2019-09-30 This book offers analyses of texts from medieval France influenced by Ovid's myth of Narcissus, including the Lay of Narcissus, Alain de Lille's Plaint of Nature, Ren d'Anjou's Love Smitten Heart, Chr tien de

Troyes's Story of the Grail and Guillaume de Machaut's Fountain of Love Together these texts form a corpus exploring human selfhood as wounded and undone by desire Emerging in the twelfth century in Western Europe this discourse of the wounded self has survived with ever increasing importance informing contemporary methods of theoretical inquiry into mourning melancholy trauma and testimony Taking its cue from the moment Narcissus bruises himself upon learning he cannot receive the love he wants from his reflection this book argues that the construct of the wounded self emphasizes fantasy over reality and that only through the world of the imagination of literature itself can our narcissistic injuries seemingly be healed and desire fulfilled

Fantastic histories Victoria Flood, 2024-05-28 Fantastic Histories explores the political and cultural contexts of the entry of fairies to the historical record in twelfth century England and the subsequent uses of fairy narratives in both insular and continental history and romance It traces the uses of the fairy as a contested marker of historicity and fictionality in the histories of Gerald of Wales and Walter Map the continental mirabilia of Gervase of Tilbury and the fourteenth and fifteenth century French M lusine romances and their early English reception Working across insular and continental source material Fantastic Histories explores the practices of history writing fiction making and the culturally determined boundaries of wonder that defined the limits of medieval history

The Medieval French Ovide Moralisé K. Sarah-Jane Murray, Matthieu Boyd, 2023 Ovid's Metamorphoses and the Environmental Imagination Giulia Sissa, Francesca Martelli, 2023-07-27 This book positions Ovid's Metamorphoses as a foundational text in the western history of environmental thought The poem is about new bodies Stones springs plants and animals materialize out of human origins to create a world of hybrid objects which retain varying degrees of human subjectivity while taking on new physical form In bending the boundaries of known categories of being these hybrid entities reveal both the porousness of human and other agencies as well as the dangers released by their fusion Metamorphosis unsettles the category of the human within the complex ecologies that make up the world as we know it Drawing on a range of modern environmental theorists and approaches the contributors to this volume trace how the Metamorphoses models the relationship between humans and other life forms in ways that resonate with the preoccupations of contemporary eco criticism They make the case for seeing the worldview depicted in Ovid's poem as an exemplar of the premodern ecological mindset that contemporary environmental thought seeks to approximate They also highlight critical moments in the history of the poem's ecological reception including reflections by a contemporary poet as well as studies of Medieval and Renaissance responses to Ovid

history of the myth of Hercules and his wife killer Deianira The book poses and attempts to answer two important and related questions First why have artists across two millennia felt compelled to revisit this particular myth to express anxieties about violence at both a global and domestic level Secondly from the moment that Sophocles disrupted a myth about the definitive exemplar of masculinity and martial prowess and turned it into a story about domestic abuse through to a 2014 production of Handel's Hercules that was set in the context of the war on terror the reception history of this myth has been one of discontinuity and conflict how and why does each culture reinvent this narrative to address its own concerns and discontents and how does each generation speak to qualify or annihilate the certainties of its predecessors in order to understand contain or exonerate the aggression with which their governors of state and of the household so often enforce their authority and the violence to which their nations and their homes are perennially vulnerable
