Equity-Driven Leadership in School Counseling Caroline Lopez-Perry, E.C.M. Mason, 2025-09-26 Drawing from the authors experience as former school counselors their research on school counselor leadership and advocacy and their professional advocacy work this book provides insights and strategies to develop school counselors leadership skills This book is divided into two parts The first part focuses on self reflection and critical consciousness for school counselors It challenges their understanding of leadership and urges them to critically examine whether their personal definition of leadership aligns with the needs of diverse students and the broader educational context Chapter topics include leadership and liberation the limits of traditional leadership theories leading with emotional intelligence and the courage to confront systems of oppression The second part calls the reader toward critical action and engagement in social and political activity and advocacy with the intent to disrupt and change perceived inequalities Specific topics include developing political skills addressing resistance to change and developing collaborative relationships School counselors will find this book filled with the necessary knowledge and skills to effect change in schools districts and the public arena for the benefit of P 12 students particularly those from historically marginalized populations

What Is Sustainable Richard Adrian Reese, 2011-09-03 A hurricane called Peak Everything is rapidly approaching and we are not prepared for it Looking through doom colored glasses the future appears turbulent and chaotic for obvious reasons But when we switch to rose colored glasses it s thrilling to see that dawn is breaking out all over A dysfunctional way of life is dying and this opens up a wide variety of new possibilities some of which could lead to a genuinely sustainable future No matter what we do the Earth will heal It will heal if we self destruct and it will heal if we remember healthy values and lifestyles Are we capable of intelligent change Yes But problems that took centuries to create will not be resolved in a single generation The purpose of this book is to encourage the healing process to propose important questions and to examine our reality from a different perspective One thing is certain the future demands a radically more intelligent worldview and skill set and a genuinely healthy future will have little in common with the way we live today The four directions of this book are sustainable population sustainable worldview sustainable food and reconnection with our past our ancestors and our non human relatives the living world Subjects discussed include ecological history domestication voluntary simplicity collapse materialism peak energy peak food peak population antibiotics aquaculture and agroforestry

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity Using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating

polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway the most northern point of mainland Europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming By combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies

Eco-Informed Practice Tracey A. Laszloffy, Markie L. C. Twist, 2019-04-17 This innovative book examines how family health and well being have been impacted by increased alienation from the natural world and calls for greater incorporation of ecological issues into therapeutic practice Positioning environmental activism as a critical social justice issue the book highlights the unique opportunities for family therapists to promote reconnection healing and sustainability by integrating attention to nature and the environment into their work Contributors also recommend clinical ideas strategies and interventions that can be employed as part of this approach to therapy research and teaching Among the topics covered Developmental benefits of childhood experiences with nature Applications of indigenous healing methods in Western practice Wilderness and adventure therapy immersion Clinical educational and supervisory applications of an eco informed approach to therapy The first work of its kind to address the overlap in environmental and family sustainability in the field of family therapy Eco Informed Practice Family Therapy in an Age of Ecological Peril fills a significant gap in family therapy literature Students and professionals in mental health fields will find this book an enlightening perspective on family therapy as well as a set of useful guidelines for implementing this exciting new approach in clinical practice

Out Of The Woods Char Miller, Hal Rothman, 2014-08-13 Through the pages of Environmental History Review now Environmental History an entire discipline has been created and defined over time through the publication of the finest scholarship by humanists social and natural scientists and other professionals concerned with the complex relationship between people and our global environment Out of the Woods gathers together the best of this scholarship Covering a broad array of topics and reflecting the continuing diversity within the field of environmental history Out of the Woods begins with three theoretical pieces by William Cronon Carolyn Merchant and Donald Worster probing the assumptions that underlie the words and ideas historians use to analyze human interaction with the physical world One of these the concept of place is the subject of a second group of essays The political context is picked up in the third section followed by a selection of some of the journal s most recent contributions discussing the intersection between urban and environmental history Water s role in defining the contours of the human and natural landscape is undeniable and forms the focus of the fifth section Finally the global character of environmental issues emerges in three compelling articles by Alfred Crosby Thomas Dunlap and Stephen Pyne Of interest to a wide range of scholars in environmental history law and politics Out of the Woods is intended as a reader for course use and a benchmark for the field of environmental history as it continues to develop into the next century

Liturgies with Young People Donal

Neary,2017-10-16 Liturgies with Young People presents material suitable for liturgies Eucharistic and non Eucharistic in schools and other youth centres A group of experienced chaplains and catechists have put together 20 liturgies suitable for young people in the post primary age group These texts take into account the spiritual development and interest of the 16 25 age group best used by priests teachers and young people in preparing liturgy together They may select a theme themselves or may even pick and choose between readings from different themes Like any liturgical book it may be adapted to the age and level of understanding of the group Available in both paperback and hardback presider edition Sustainability, Midwifery and Birth Lorna Davies,Rea Daellenbach,Mary Kensington,2010-10-18 Environmental awareness and sustainability are vitally important concepts in the twenty first century and as a low environmental impact healthcare profession midwifery has the potential to stand as a model of excellence This innovative volume promotes a sustainable approach to midwifery practice philosophy business administration and resource management Drawing on an interdisciplinary body of knowledge this international collection of experts explores the challenges inviting readers to critically reflect on the issues and consider how they could move to effect changes within their own working environments Divided into three parts the book discusses The politics of midwifery and sustainability Midwifery as a sustainable healthcare practice Supporting an ecological approach to parenting Sustainability Midwifery and Birth identifies existing models of sustainable midwifery practice such as the continuity of care model and highlights the potential for midwifery as a role model for ecologically sound health care provision This unique book is a vital read for all midwives and midwifery students interested in sustainable practice Contributors include Sally Baddock Carol Bartle Ruth Deery Nadine Pilley Edwards Ina May Gaskin Megan Gibbons Carolyn Hastie Mary Kensington Mavis Kirkham Nicky Leap Ruth Martis Zo Meleo Erwin Jenny Meyer Jo Murphy Lawless Mary Nolan Sally Pairman and Sally Tracy Title 6 Ways of the easy rider Raymond Lees,2022-01-01 6 ways of the easy rider A cool and laid back way of life Experienced by banishing wasted effort and maximizing life s peaks and rides The authors ways and personal insights will take you on a wild ride with shortcuts and great manoeuvres towards effort less living The Hippies John Anthony Moretta,2017-01-26 Among the most significant subcultures in modern U S history the hippies had a far reaching impact Their influence essentially defined the 1960s hippie antifashion divergent music dropout politics and make love not war philosophy extended to virtually every corner of the world and remains influential The political and cultural institutions that the hippies challenged or abandoned mainly prevailed Yet the nonviolent egalitarian hippie principles led an era of civic protest that brought an end to the Vietnam War Their enduring impact was the creation of a 1960s frame of reference among millions of baby boomers whose attitudes and aspirations continue to reflect the hip ethos of their youth Relationality Arturo Escobar,Michal Osterweil,Kriti Sharma,2024-05-16 This important new book argues that at the root of the contemporary crisis of climate energy food inequality and meaning is a certain core presupposition that structures the ways in which we live think act and design the assumption of dualism or the fundamental separateness of things The authors contend that the key to constructing livable worlds lies in the cultivation of ways of knowing and acting based on a profound awareness of the fundamental interdependence of everything that exists what they refer to as relationality This shift in paradigm is necessary for healing our bodies ecosystems cities and the planet at large The book follows two interwoven threads of argumentation on the one hand it explains and exemplifies the modes of operation and the dire consequences of non relational living on the other it elucidates the nature of relationality and explores how it is embodied in transformative practices in multiple spheres of life The authors provide an instructive account of the philosophical scientific social and political sources of relational theory and action with the aim of illuminating the transition from living within seemingly ineluctable toxic loops of unrelational living based on ontological dualism to living within relational weaves which we might co create with multiple human and nonhuman others

Conversations with Plants Nikki Darrell, 2020-03-31 In some parts of the world plant medicine is still taught at the kitchen table by the cooking fire or in the fields passed down from parent to child and woven through the fabric of the culture In many places it has been severely eroded but it has not been lost This book helps us reclaim and restore a hugely important part of our heritage our plant medicine path Conversations with Plants reminds us of the intimate bond that has always existed between people and plants and encourages us to bring them back into our daily lives It includes instructions on how to develop these connections by using essential oils gardening and growing herbs medicine making and gathering wild food It is an invitation to step into your own relationship with plants their stories and meanings feel into their medicine and understand how to work with them by bringing your own medicine into the conversation It is for practitioners students and anyone wishing to deepen their knowledge of the green world i-Converge: Changing Dimensions of the Built Environment Anjali Krishan

Sharma,Aanchal Sharma,Shraddha Bahukhandi,2023-11-09 The conference presented a multidisciplinary interactive forum to researchers students academicians industry professionals policymakers and scientists focusing on three key tracks namely Architecture and Built Environment Planning and Practices and Design and Society Presenters shared experiences research results and scholarly contributions and discussed the practical challenges encountered and solutions to be adopted The selected contributions are enclosed within the proceedings Homesick Lyla Yastion,2018-09-15 Human induced climate change is emerging as the most critical issue of the modern era Ninety seven percent of climate scientists now confirm that human extraction and burning of fossil fuels along with rampant deforestation is causing a rapid build up of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases in air and water These emissions heat up the planet and may be pushing Earth s capacity beyond the threshold at which equilibrium can be restored Global warming is sustained by a global capitalist economy dependent upon the fossil fuel industry and agribusiness both of which are unsustainable The toxic effects of air pollution ocean acidification and soil degradation are harming the health of all species Through an interdisciplinary approach that brings in the perspectives of the physical sciences psychology anthropology economics cultural history and spirituality Homesick investigates the evolutionary path by which human beings have arrived at this precarious juncture It proposes that this perilous detour in human cultural evolution arises from a fallacious belief that the human species unlike other species is not bound by ecological laws but has a special right to control and master the natural world Human beings suffer from the illusion that they are separate from the Earth their planetary home which is perceived as an object a commodity to exploit through technology They have forgotten what indigenous peoples still remember humanity is part of not apart from the natural world Homesick argues that cultural transformation towards a sustainable future is possible when human beings reawaken to Nature as partner and provider As memory of their embeddedness in the natural world is aroused they will experience love and respect for the interdependent web of life that sustains them This reawakening incrementally induces a radical change in thinking within society and sets in motion a paradigm shift Cultural institutions are then reshaped to match this new benign worldview
