Contemporary Issues in Development Economics B. N. Ghosh,2001 This brand new collection of articles looks at both traditional concerns in economic development such as aid debt and the role of the IMF but also at gender brain drain military expenditure and postcolonial theory Eurocentrism: a marxian critical realist critique Nick Hostettler,2013-05-07 The political and social structures of modernity are dominated by really eurocentric forms and relations yet the theorisation of the eurocentricity of modernity remains barely developed At the same time modern political and social theory is fundamentally eurocentric yet the critique of eurocentrism remains marginal to marxian and critical realist theory Addressing the eurocentrism of both modernity and modern theory Eurocentrism A Marxian Critical Realist Critique discloses the deeply embedded constraints it imposes on historical and social reflexivity Building on the insights of post structuralism and post colonialism Eurocentrism shows how the powerful anti eurocentric tendencies of the marxian critique of civil society and the critical realist critique of philosophy have been misunderstood or ignored It develops the latent potential of these traditions to develop a systematically anti eurocentric approach to understanding and explaining modernity Towards A Fair Global Labour Market Ozay Mehmet,Errol Mendes,Robert Sinding,2013-01-11 This book answers the question of how to maintain effective labour regulation as the market for labour moves towards globalization This issue is addressed from legal economic social and cultural perspectives The authors consider the effects of free trade and investment with and without labour standards on employment competitiveness wages and working conditions in the global economy Deriving and analysing policy options they seek ways in which principles of labour regulation can operate at an international level The work concludes with a call for a rule based global trading system in which core labour standards play a significant part

Development Theory Jan Nederveen Pieterse, 2001-03-20 This study is a critical commentary connecting issues of development with the latest thinking in sociology critical theory and social science It addresses questions such as the connections with globalization and culture and modernity

Postcolonial Europe? Essays on Post-Communist Literatures and Cultures, 2015-07-28 This collective monograph analyzes post 1989 Central and Eastern Europe through the paradigm of postcoloniality Based on the assumption that both Western and Soviet imperialism emerged from European modernity the book is a contribution to the development of a global postcolonial discourse based on a more extensive and nuanced geohistorical comparativism It suggests that the inclusion of East Central Europe in European identity might help resolve postcolonialism's difficulties in coming to terms with both postcolonial and neo colonial dimensions of contemporary Europe Analyzing post communist identity reconstructions under the impact of transformative political economic and cultural experiences such as changes in perception of time and space landscapes cityscapes migration and displacement collective memory and trauma objectifying gaze cultural self colonization and language as a form of power the book facilitates a mutually productive dialogue between postcolonialism and post communism Together the studies map the rich terrain of contemporary East Central European creative writing and visual art the latter highlighted through accompanying illustrations

Gender, Nutrition, and the Human Right to Adequate Food Anne C. Bellows, Flavio L.S. Valente, Stefanie Lemke, María Daniela Núñez Burbano de Lara, 2015-12-07 This book introduces the human right to adequate food and nutrition as evolving concept and identifies two structural disconnects fueling food insecurity for a billion people and disproportionately affecting women children and rural food producers the separation of women's rights from their right to adequate food and nutrition and the fragmented attention to food as commodity and the medicalization of nutritional health Three conditions arising from these disconnects are discussed structural violence and discrimination frustrating the realization of women's human rights as well as their private and public contributions to food and nutrition security for all many women's experience of their and their children's simultaneously independent and intertwined subjectivities during pregnancy and breastfeeding being poorly understood in human rights law and abused by poorly regulated food and nutrition industry marketing practices and the neoliberal economic system's interference both with the autonomy and self determination of women and their communities and with the strengthening of sustainable diets based on democratically governed local food systems The book calls for a social movement led reconceptualization of the right to adequate food toward incorporating gender women's rights and nutrition based on the food sovereignty framework

Development as Theory and Practice David Simon, Anders Narman, 2014-09-25 The first book in the DARG series Development as Theory and Practice provides the only student textbook which addresses broad contemporary perspectives and debates on development and development cooperation It introduces the notions of development and what it means from different perspectives i e from the point of view of academics in the wake of the New World Order regional specialists detached from the field Third World students of development and development practitioners The second part of the book focuses on development aid and examines the changing relationship between donors and recipients and the effects of these relationships on the wider communities in these countries and current re evaluations of aid in principle and practice Development as Theory and Practice is an ideal course text for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate courses in development aid as part of degree programmes in Development Studies Geography Politics Sociology and Anthropology It will also be of interest to researchers and development practitioners and professionals

China's Pension Reforms Ke Meng,2018-09-03 Existing literature has looked at many factors which have shaped Chinese pension reforms As China s pension reform proceeds in an expanding and localising fashion this book argues that there is a pressing need to examine it in the context of China s political institutions and economic transformations The book takes a unique approach by looking at political institutions of the Chinese state and the changing conditions of the Chinese economy which rarely receive proper treatment in the current analysis of China s pension reforms

Economic Globalisation as Religious War Michael McKinley,2007-06-28 Using a critical theory approach to analyze the globalization of the world economy this provocative and topical new book presents economic globalization not as a recent development but rather as a familiar process that has occurred throughout history Michael McKinley argues that it is ultimately a self serving arbitrary and destructive imperial project that should be viewed as a religious war

Media Power and Hegemony in South Africa Blessed Ngwenya,2020-11-15 This book critically explores how meanings of independence are constructed and reconfigured by public service broadcasters in the global south with a particular focus on the South African Broadcasting Corporation SABC Blessed Ngwenya questions the institutional political economy and world systems paradigms born out of coloniality which continue to influence broadcasting and media in the global south and instead presents a radical local understanding of freedom in the present day The author draws on detailed empirical interviews with members of staff from across the SABC including board members senior management and journalists offering an intimate insight into how the participants themselves perceive understand and deal with the issues and problems they face in relation to independence Framed by a rich analysis of the historical context this book provides readers with the theoretical and empirical toolkit needed to place the everyday experiences and needs of their subjects first and to ultimately arrive at an accurate understanding of independence in its several senses Contributing to growing global debates on the decolonisation of knowledge this book is critical reading for advanced scholars and researchers of African media culture communication and epistemic freedom

Unhealthy Health Policy Arachu Castro,Merrill Singer,2004-09-17 This new collection turns a critical anthropological eye on the nature of health policy internationally The authors reveal that in light of prevailing social inequalities health policies may intend to protect public health but in fact they often represent significant structural threats to the health and well being of the poor ethnic minorities women and other subordinate groups The volume focuses on the anthropology of policy which is concerned with the process of decision making the influences on decision makers and the impact of policy on human lives This collaboration will be a critical resource for researchers and practitioners in medical anthropology applied anthropology medical sociology minority issues public policy and health care issues

The 20th Century: A Retrospective Choi Chatterjee,Jeffrey Gould,Phyllis Martin,James Riley,2018-10-08 This book is a collage of human experiences made from overlapping pieces and woven together by themes of crises revolution and change aiming to raise issues that people in the twentieth century world tried to address

Global Political Economy

Theodore H. Cohn,2015-08-07 Praised for its authoritative coverage Global Political Economy places the study of IPE in its broadest theoretical context This text not only helps students understand the fundamentals of how the global economy works but also encourages them to use theory to more fully grasp the connections between key issue areas like trade and development Written by a leading IPE scholar Global Political Economy equally emphasizes theory and practice to provide a framework for analyzing current events and long term developments in the global economy

Nuclear Power, Economic Development Discourse and the Environment Manu V. Mathai,2013 Nuclear power is often characterized as a green technology Technologies are rarely if ever socially isolated artefacts Instead they materially represent an embodiment of values and priorities Nuclear power is no different It is a product of a particular political economy and the question is whether that political economy can helpfully engage with the challenge of addressing the environmental crisis on a finite inequitable and shared planet For developing countries like India who are presently making infrastructure investments which will have long legacies it is imperative that these investments wrestle with such questions and prove themselves capable of sufficiency greater equality and inclusiveness This book offers a critique of civilian nuclear power as a green energy strategy for India and develops and proposes an alternative synergy for sustainability It situates nuclear power as a socio technical infrastructure embodying a particular development discourse and practice of energy and economic development The book reveals the political economy of this arrangement and examines the latter s ability to respond to the environmental crisis Manu V Mathai argues that the existing overwhelmingly growth focused highly technology centric approach for organizing economic activity is unsustainable and needs to be reformed Within this imperative for change nuclear power in India is found to be and is characterized as an authoritarian technology Based on this political economy critique the book proposes an alternative a synergy of ideas from the fields of development economics energy planning and science technology and society studies

Constructing Development Bjorn Harald Nordtveit,2009-08-24 Former World Bank education specialist Bjorn Nordtveit argues in this groundbreaking study that a development project or policy should not be understood and analyzed as a linear system Instead he believes we should view it as a complex and dialectical organism Basing his theories on post development and complexity theories as well as New Institutional Economics Nordtveit lays out a novel method of analyzing development both on the ground and in the think tank Informed by detailed quotations from interviews with local people involved in a World Bank literacy project in Senegal the author demonstrates how a project is entangled in the global economy and how it constructs development through a discourse of gender equity growth of the civil society and promotion of the use of private provision of social services Nordtveit's new analytical methodology claims it is necessary for all development initiatives to first investigate whether the donors vision of development coincides with national and local notions of development Only then can the holistic and complex interrelations between the project and all other development desires and services in the community be studied Finally the project's cost effectiveness must be considered The author also examines the strengths and weaknesses of public private partnerships which are being used ever more frequently by donor agencies to implement social services Constructing Development is a tour de force Going back and forth between the global and the local it examines a World Bank women's literacy project in Senegal through a critical and integrated discussion of education and development globalization gender civil society and privatization Nordtveit offers an insightful and innovative critique of development theory and practice drawing on new authors and fields such as Complexity Theory His book is a must read across a number of fields including comparative and international education adult education gender studies and economic development Steven J Klees Former President Comparative and International Education Society Harold R W Benjamin Professor of International and Comparative Education University of Maryland
