After Modernist Painting Craig Staff, 2013-03-14 Painting has often been declared dead since the 1960s and yet it refuses to die Even the status and continued legitimacy of the medium has been repeatedly placed in question As such painting has had to continually redefine its own parameters and re negotiate for itself a critical position within a broader more discursive set of discourses Taking the American Clement Greenberg s Modernist Painting as a point of departure After Modernist Painting will be both a historical survey and a critical re evaluation of the contested and contingent nature of the medium of painting over the last 50 years Presenting the first critical account of painting rather than art generally this book provides a timely exploration of what has remained a persistent and protean medium Craig Staff focuses on certain developments including the relationship of painting to Conceptual Art and Minimalism the pronouncement of paintings alleged death its response to Installation Art s foregrounding of site how it was able to interpret ideas around appropriation simulation and hybridity and how today painting can be understood as both imaging and imagining the digital After Modernist Painting is an invaluable resource for those seeking to understand the themes and issues that have pertained to painting within the context of postmodernism and contemporary artistic practice The Routledge Companion to Aesthetics Berys Gaut, Dominic Lopes, 2013-04-17 The third edition of the acclaimed Routledge Companion to Aesthetics contains over sixty chapters written by leading international scholars covering all aspects of aesthetics This companion opens with an historical overview of aesthetics including entries on Plato Aristotle Kant Nietzsche Heidegger Adorno Benjamin Foucault Goodman and Wollheim The second part covers the central concepts and theories of aesthetics including the definitions of art taste the value of art beauty imagination fiction narrative metaphor and pictorial representation Part three is devoted to issues and challenges in aesthetics including art and ethics art and religion creativity environmental aesthetics and feminist aesthetics The final part addresses the individual arts including music photography film videogames literature theater dance architecture and design With ten new entries and revisions and updated suggestions for further reading throughout The Routledge Companion to Aesthetics is essential for anyone interested in aesthetics art literature and visual studies

The Problem of Information Douglas Raber, 2003-05-07 Information can be conceptualized in two fundamentally yet contradictory ways it appears in the world as both a physical and a cognitive phenomenon The dilemma information specialists face is similar to that of physicists who must cope with light as both a wave and a particle Unlike physics however information science has yet to develop a unified theory that unites the contradictory conceptions of its essential theoretical object While there are numerous books today that address information science as a scholarly discipline for the most part they assume a prior knowledge of the field The Problem of Information provides an accessible introduction to the essential concepts and research issues of information science while exploring the indeterminate nature of information as a theoretical object Signifying how information science contributes to the disciplines from which it borrows this book provides insight into computer science cognitive psychology semiotics sociology and political science Designed specifically for the beginner student new to the field of information science

The Trump Effect in Contemporary Art and Visual Culture Kit Messham-Muir, Uroš Cvor, 2022-12-29 The 2021 Capitol Hill Riot marked a watershed moment when the old world of factbased systems of representation was briefly overwhelmed by the emerging hyper individual politics of aestheticized emotion In The Trump Effect in Contemporary Art and Visual Culture Kit Messham Muir and Uro Cvor analyse the aesthetics that have emerged at the core of 21st century politics and which erupted at the US Capitol in January 2021 Looking at this event's aesthetic dimensions through such aspects as QAnon white resentment and strongman authoritarianism they examine the world wide historical trends towards ethno nationalism and populism that emerged following the end of the Cold War in 1989 and the dawning of the current post ideological age Building on their ground breaking research into how trauma emotion and empathy have become well worn tropes in contemporary art informed by conflict Messham Muir and Cvor go further by highlighting the ways in which art can actively disrupt an underlying drift in society towards white supremacism and ultranationalism Utilising their outsiders perspective on a so called American phenomenon and rejecting American exceptionalism their theorising of the Trump Effect rejects the idea of Trump as a political aberration but as a symptom of deeper and longer term philosophical shifts in global politics and society As theorists of contemporary art and visual culture Messham Muir and Cvorovic explore the ways in which these features of the Trump Effect operate through aesthetics in the intersection of politics and contemporary art and provide valuable insight into the current political context

Hegel on the Modern Arts Benjamin Rutter, 2010-07-29 Debates over the end of art have tended to obscure Hegel's work on the arts themselves Benjamin Rutter opens this study with a defence of art's indispensability to Hegel's conception of modernity he then seeks to reorient discussion toward the distinctive values of painting poetry and the novel Working carefully through Hegel's four lecture series on aesthetics he identifies the expressive possibilities particular to each medium Thus Dutch genre scenes animate the everyday with an appearance of vitality metaphor frees language from prose and Goethe's lyrics revive the banal routines of love with imagination and wit Rutter's important study reconstructs Hegel's view not only of modern art but of modern life and will appeal to philosophers literary theorists and art historians alike

Deception in Modern Art and Hollywood Jela Krecic, 2025-07-24 Over the last 200 years a paradoxical fear of deception has grown in the fields of art and popular culture modes of expression that are traditionally dedicated to creating illusory artificial worlds More and more fiction is expected to reflect what we perceive to be reality and simultaneously to indicate to viewers that they are dealing with deceptive strategies But what if fabrications are not devoid of truth What if art and popular culture with all their fakery can critically and convincingly tackle individual or political predicaments And what if as Jacques Lacan put it truth has the structure of a fiction Deception in Modern Art and Hollywood pursues this topic on several levels It explores the philosophical implications of being in the know and the fear of deception within the theoretical frame of Hegelian dialectics and Lacanian psychoanalysis Meanwhile a Marxist theoretical tradition from Theodor Adorno to Fredric Jameson and Louis Althusser is used to conceptualize the broader historical social and political implications of these ideas Ranging from the late nineteenth century to the present day this exciting text takes psychoanalytic and Marxist theory to classic Hollywood themes of appearance mediation indirection and deception It presents a novel understanding of our ongoing entangled affair with moving images and the emancipatory messages that they contain

William Carlos Williams and the Ethics of Painting Terence Diggory, 2014-07-14 In Peter Brueghel's painting The Adoration of the Kings the depiction of Joseph and Mary suggested to William Carlos Williams a paradigm for the relationship between poem and painting reader and text man and woman that he had sought throughout his life to establish a marriage that can acknowledge and withstand infidelity Here Terence Diggory explores the meaning of this paradigm within the context of Williams's career and also of recent critical and cultural debate which frequently assumes violence and oppression to be inherent in all forms of relationship Williams's special attention to the art of painting Diggory shows put him in a position to challenge such assumptions In contrast to the ethics of reading deduced by J Hillis Miller from the premises of deconstruction Diggory illuminates Williams's ethics of painting by applying Julia Kristeva's concepts of psychoanalytic transference and nonoppressive desire The abstract or objectless space in which such desire operates is typified by modernist painting for both Kristeva and Williams but foreshadowed in the work of earlier artists such as Bellini and Brueghel Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Pierre Bonnard Pierre Bonnard, Nicole R. Myers, Allison Stielau, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2009 The vibrant late paintings of Pierre Bonnard 1867-1947 are considered by many to be among his finest achievements Working in a small converted bedroom of his villa in the south of France Bonnard suffused his late canvases with radiant Mediterranean light and dazzling color Although his subjects were close at hand usually everyday scenes taken from his immediate surroundings such as the dining room table being set for breakfast or a jug of flowers perched on the mantelpiece Bonnard rarely painted from life Instead he preferred to make pencil sketches in small diaries and then rely on these along with his memory once in the studio This volume which accompanies the first exhibition to focus on the interior and related still life imagery from the last decades of Bonnard's long career presents more than seventy five paintings drawings and works on paper many of them rarely seen in public and in some cases little known Although Bonnard's legacy may be removed from the succession of trends that today we consider the foundation of modernism his contribution to French art in the early decades of the twentieth century is far more profound than history has generally acknowledged In their insightful essays and catalogue entries the authors bring fresh critical perspectives to the ongoing reappraisal of Bonnard's reputation and to his place within the narrative of twentieth century art

Jacket A Theory of the Tache in Nineteenth-Century Painting Stein Sj?ad, 2017-07-05 Without question the tache blot patch stain is a central and recurring motif in nineteenth century modernist painting Manet's and the Impressionists rejection of academic finish produced a surface where the strokes of paint were presented directly as patches or blots then indirectly as legible signs C?nne Seurat and Signac painted exclusively with patches or dots Through a series of close readings this book looks at the tache as one of the most important features in nineteenth century modernism The tache is a potential meeting point between text and image and a pure trace of the artist's body Even though each manifestation of tacheism generates its own specific cultural effects this book represents the first time a scholar has looked at tacheism as a hidden continuum within modern art With a methodological framework drawn from the semiotics of text and image the author introduces a much needed fine tuning to the classic terms index symbol and icon The concept of the tache as a crossing of sign types enables finer distinctions and observations than have been available thus far within the Peircean

tradition The sign crossing theory opens onto the whole terrain of interaction between visual art art criticism literature philosophy and psychology Writing Back to Modern Art Jonathan Harris,2005-10-09 Here for the first time is a full length study of the critical modernisms of the three leading art writers of the second half of the twentieth century which helps us build a better understanding of the development of modern art writing and its relation to the post modern in art and society since the 1970s Focusing on canonical modern artists such as Manet Cezanne Picasso and Pollock this book provides an important understanding of writing and criticism in modern art for all students and scholars of art theory and art history Mainstay issues discussed include aesthetic evaluation subjectivity and meaning in art and art writing Jonathan Harris examines key discourses and identifies points of significant overlap as well as sharp disjunction between the critics Developing the notions of good and bad complexity in modernist criticism Writing Back to Modern Art creates ways for us to think outside of these discourses of value and meaning and helps us to look at the place that art writing holds in the latter twentieth century and beyond Modern Art: A Critical Introduction Pam Meecham,Julie Sheldon,2013-11-26 A revised and updated edition of one of the most successful Critical Introductions textbooks New features include marginal notes and colour photos New innovative structure based on feed back from teachers focusing on how modern art has been understood rather than a straight chronological account of movements The Cambridge Introduction to Modernism Pericles Lewis,2007-05-03 Publisher description Reading the Figural, Or, Philosophy After the New Media David Rodowick,2001-09-11 Theorizes the concept of the figural as a way to get beyond the long held aesthetic distinction between plastic and linguistic arts a distinction that will not work for film and new media Disruption and Convergence ,2024-07-15 Conceptualized as a tool to expand creativity questioning and experimentation in arts research Disruption and Convergences Generating New Conversations through Arts Research offers timely narratives musings and descriptions of experimental and scholarly practice that ignite new creative considerations for graduate students and aspiring arts research practitioners The book features a collection of practice based research projects for which the experiential unfolding leads to unexpected outcomes In its openness and generativity this mode of questioning removes the need for conclusive findings Prominent threads that emerged from the collection encompass collaboration and interconnectedness disputed and shared spaces and transformation through storytelling Contributors to the book address ways of knowing that complicate familiar categories learning with and listening to the fragile the provisional and heralding unthought futurity Disruption and Convergences offers a scholarly and artistic exchange through dialogues between contributors and invites artful and multisensorial expressions imaginative experimentations poetic and critical propositions that carry the voices of creators at different stages in their research careers This form of publication is itself an international symposium of sorts and therefore an opportunity for readers to engage in wide ranging approaches to making writing and arts thinking Contributors are Cathy Adams jelena aleksic Carolina Bergonzoni R becca Bourgault Rachel Epp Buller Aurora Del Rio Christine D Onofrio Hannah L Drake Emese

Catherine E. Karkov,George Hardin Brown,2012-02-01 Art historian Meyer Schapiro defined style as the constant form and sometimes the constant elements qualities and expression in the art of an individual or group Today style is frequently overlooked as a critical tool with our interest instead resting with the personal the ephemeral and the fragmentary Anglo Saxon Styles demonstrates just how vital style remains in a methodological and theoretical prism regardless of the object individual fragment or process studied Contributors from a variety of disciplines including literature art history manuscript studies philology and more consider the definitions and implications of style in Anglo Saxon culture and in contemporary scholarship They demonstrate that the idea of style as a constant form has its limitations and that style is in fact the ordering of form both verbal and visual Anglo Saxon texts and images carry meanings and express agendas presenting us with paradoxes and riddles that require us to keep questioning the meanings of style The Challenge of Modern Art Allen Leepa,2013-05-31 The science of aesthetics was originally based on classical art even a contemporary philosopher of art like Croce never departs from the data of the Graeco Roman and Renaissance tradition Modern art however has made a decisive break with that tradition and considerable confusion has been caused by the application to its products of criteria of judgment derived from a past historical phase Even in our private unprofessional approach to modern art we come unconsciously armed with such prejudices What therefore was necessary was a complete revision of aesthetics on the basis of the ample material produced by the modern movement in art and this Mr Allen Leepa has now provided The material in question consists primarily of the works of art themselves and these in significant selection Mr Leepa has subjected to a thorough functional analysis But he realises that the explanation of art does not end with its formal dissection the function of art as he says is to ex press emotional meanings in the organized patterns of a medium and he has ventured on the much more difficult task of defining the nature of that psychological process At this point formal analysis is of no avail and what we fall back on is the artist's own description of his activity. Luckily modern artists have been surprisingly communicative and Mr Leepa has not failed to take advantage of the statements which from time to time artists like Picasso, Matisse, Klee and Mondrian have made. He has been aided in his understanding of what they mean which is not always clear by his own practice as a painter which has saved him from some of the simplifications which an outsider might be tempted to make for the sake of a neat system. Admirable for example is the way in which he insists in Chapter X on the mutual interaction of medium and idea in the process of creation. We are far too apt to think of the work of art as the illustration of a preconceived idea instead of an organic growth in which idea only played the part of germ or seed. Particular attention should be given to all that Mr Leepa has to say on the subject of abstract art for which the average critic has hitherto reserved his most obstinate resistance. In its various forms and there is a wide divergence of aim within the so-called abstract movement this type of art does of course make the most decisive break with the classical or humanist tradition. It is to be observed however that it is precisely this type of art which lends itself to the formulation of a coherent aesthetic and though Mr Leepa quite rightly insists on its individualistic and subjective nature the final result would seem to be the discovery of archetypal forms of the widest social significance. The last point I would like to select for emphasis from a book so replete with interest is the firm way in which Mr Leepa insists on the social significance of his subject.
