Hindu and Catholic, Priest and Scholar Francis X. Clooney, 2024-07-25 Runner up for the 2025 Catholic Media Association CMA Book Award for Theological and Philosophical Studies Title This autobiography traces Francis X Clooney s intellectual and spiritual journey from middle class American Catholicism to a lifelong study of Hinduism It explains how he came to fashion comparative theology as a way of learning interreligiously that is boldly intellectual and deeply personal and practical lived out in intersections of his roles as theologian and scholar of Hinduism as professor and Catholic priest and over the tumultuous decades from the 1960s until now in his role as Parkman Professor of Divinity Harvard University Clooney sheds fresh and realistic light on the idea and ideal of scholar practitioner since his wide learning Christian and Hindu is grounded in his Catholic and Jesuit commitments as well as in a commensurate learning with respect to several Hindu traditions that are most accessible to scholars willing to learn empathetically and in a participatory manner What Clooney has learnt and written must be understood in terms of a love of Christ deeply informed by a Hindu instinct for loving God without reserve A fundamental spiritual disposition intuitions of God present everywhere has energized his work over his long career love giving direction and body to his professional academic work Naming and Thinking God in Europe Today, 2007-01-01 Is there a new need and place for God talk in Europe The present volume both confirms this and opens up new questions for discussion It shows how different traditions of naming and thinking God in Europe draw on various theoretical and philosophical foundations that are in competition with one another in many ways Due to socio cultural historical and political divides between Eastern and Western Europe these theological traditions often suffer from isolation and mutual misunderstanding Can the inherent tensions and conflicts be understood more adequately While exploring a variety of approaches in Europe on the topic several authors also ask How can God be named and thought in Europe which finds itself in the midst of complex crosscultural and interreligious processes particularly as immigration increases and peoples of non Christian faith traditions name and think God in ways that differ from and sometimes conflict with Europe s dominant religion s and secular culture What function and impact will traditional God talk have in a globalizing Europe as religions such as Islam Hinduism and Buddhism move into the foreground This volume not only reveals the broad spectrum of its topic but also documents the vivid seeking undertaken by a new generation of European theologians and scholars of religion who openly engage the question of how to live and believe in Europe today facing complex global challenges In Response to the Religious Other Marianne Moyaert, 2014-09-24 In the vast collection of his writings the French philosopher Paul

Ricoeur only sporadically raised the issue of interreligious dialogue In this book comparative theologian Marianne Moyaert argues that Ricoeur's hermeneutical philosophy offers valuable signposts for a better understanding of the complexities related to interreligious dialogue By revisiting the key insights of Ricoeur's wider oeuvre from the perspective of interfaith dialogue Moyaert elaborates a Ricoeurian interreligious hermeneutic In Response to the Religious Other provides a coherent interreligious reading of Ricoeur's philosophy of religion his hermeneutical anthropology his ethical hermeneutics Moyaert shows that Ricoeur makes an exceptionally rewarding conversation partner for anyone wishing to explore the complex issues associated with interreligious dialogue This book is essential for studies of hermeneutics ethics religious philosophy global cooperation and hospitality comparative theology and religious identity In Our Own Tongues Peter C. Phan, 2015-02-19 Who is to be the primary evangelizer of Asia What Asian forms of worship and prayer are both authentically Christian and culturally appropriate In Our Own Tongues is reading for anyone interested in the emergence of world Christianity and its future in the 21st century From publisher's description Comparative Theology Francis X. Clooney, 2011-09-09 Drawing upon the author's three decades of work in comparative theology this is a pertinent and comprehensive introduction to the field which offers a clear guide to the reader enabling them to engage in comparative study The author has three decades of experience of work in the field of comparative theology and is ideally placed to write this book Today's increasing religious diversity makes this a pertinent and timely publication Unique in the depth of its introduction and explanation of the discipline of comparative theology Provides examples of how comparative theology works in the new global context of human religiosity Draws on examples specific to Hindu Christian studies to show how it is possible to understand more deeply the wider diversity around us Clearly guides the reader enabling them to engage in comparative study The American Journal of Religious Psychology and Education, 1905 Introducing Theologies of Religions Paul F. Knitter, 2002 This volume shares insights into the positions of writers concerned with understanding Christianity among the world's great religious traditions Avoiding tired labels of past debates Exclusivism Pluralism and Inclusivism Knitter suggests four different models Replacement Fulfillment Mutuality and Acceptance that more adequately link together thirteen ways of approaching and understanding the variety of the world's religious expressions Theology After Vedānta Francis Xavier Clooney, 1993 American Journal of Theology, 1915 Vols 2-6 include Theological and Semitic literature for 1898-1901 a bibliographical supplement to the American journal of theology and the American journal of Semitic languages and literatures By W. Doyle, 2006 Fr Pierre-Johanns is a key figure in the history of Christian intellectual engagement with Hindu philosophy He was the most articulate figure in a group of Belgian Jesuits in Calcutta who sought to develop the theological project initiated by Brahmabandhab Upadhyay a convert to Catholicism whose theology conveyed a positive appreciation of aspects of Hindu advaitic philosophy. Johanns began to publish a steady stream of articles in the monthly Light of the East that analysed pertinent features of Vedantic thought from the perspective of his neo Thomistic presuppositions. Johanns engaged in a thorough explication and analysis of the thinking of the Hindu teachers Sankara Ramanuja and Vallabha. He attempted to fashion a creative synthesis of their views constructing a new holistic metaphysic from the raw material of their respective philosophical theologies. This book examines the theological writings of Pierre Johanns by situating him within his historical context by discussing how Johanns interacted with Vedantic philosophy and by assessing the success of his project. Journal of Religious Psychology, 1905. Revelation, History, and the Dialogue of Religions David Carpenter, 1995. The claim to possession of revealed truth is not unique to any single religion nor confined to the so called axial world religions. But what kind of work is necessary before a term like revelation can be used in comparing two religious traditions and to what end? What does the problem of revelation have to do with the history of religions and the plurality of religions? In Revelation History and the Dialogue of Religions David Carpenter, an expert in medieval Catholic theology as well as Indian religious thought, approaches the doctrine of revelation in the writings of the medieval Christian theologian St Bonaventure, a prime exemplar of Logos theology, and of Bhartrhari, a classical Indian grammarian and philosopher of language who is an analogous figure in the Hindu religious tradition. In examining and comparing the writings of these two figures from two distinct traditions and cultures, Carpenter explores the phenomenon of revelation as a dynamic linguistically mediated process that needs to be located within the historical horizons of the religious traditions in which it is found.
