Theory As History Essays On Modes Of Production And Exploitation Historical Materialism:

Theory and History Jairus Banaji, 2010 The twelve essays in this book demonstrate the importance of bringing history back into historical materialism They combine the discussion of Marx's categories with historical work on a wide range of themes and periods the early middle ages Asiatic regimes agrarian capitalism etc How Revolutionary Were the Bourgeois Revolutions? Neil Davidson, 2012-07-24 An impressive contribution both to the history of ideas and to political philosophy Alasdair MacIntyre author of After Virtue Once of central importance to left historians and activists alike recently the concept of the bourgeois revolution has come in for sustained criticism from both Marxists and conservatives In this magisterial work Neil Davidson offers theoretical and historical insights about the nature of revolutions Through extensive research and comprehensive analysis Davidson demonstrates that what's at stake is far from a stale issue for the history books understanding that these struggles of the past offer far reaching lessons for today's radicals A monumental work Neil Davidson has given us what is easily the most comprehensive account yet of the life and times of the concept of bourgeois revolution and has also provided us with a refined set of theoretical tools for understanding the often complex interactions between political revolutions which overturn state institutions and social revolutions which involve a more thoroughgoing transformation of social relations Colin Mooers author of The Making of Bourgeois Europe Davidson's book is one of immense and impressive erudition His knowledge of the history of Marxist theory and historiography is as detailed as it is comprehensive and must be well nigh unrivalled The endless complex debates that characterize the Marxist tradition are distilled with clarity and illumination Times Literary Supplement A brilliant and fascinating book wide ranging and lucidly written Jairus Banaji author of Theory as History Handbook of the Politics of Labour, Work and Employment Gregor Gall, 2019 Providing a thorough overview of the political nature and dynamics of the world of work labour and employment this timely Handbook draws together an interdisciplinary range of top contributors to explore the interdependent relationship between politics and labour work and employment The Handbook explores the purpose roles rights and powers of employers and management workers and unions states and governments in the age of globalised neo liberalism Marx in the Field Alessandra Mezzadri, 2021-02-15 Marx in the Field is a unique edited collection illustrating the relevance of the Marxian method to study contemporary capitalism and the global development process Essays in the collection bring Marx to the field in three ways They illustrate how Marxian categories can be concretely deployed for field research in the global economy they analyse how these categories may be adapted during fieldwork and they discuss data collection methods supporting Marxian analysis Crucially many of the contributions expand the scope of Marxian analysis by combining its insights with those of other intellectual traditions including radical feminisms critical realism and postcolonial studies The book defines the possibilities and challenges of fieldwork guided by Marxian analysis including those emerging from the COVID 19 pandemic The collection takes a global approach to the study of development and of contemporary capitalism

While some essays focus on themes and geographical areas of long term concern for international development like informal or rural poverty and work across South Asia Southern and West Africa or South America others focus instead on actors benefitting from the development process like regional exporters larger farmers and traders or on unequal socio economic outcomes across richer and emerging economies and regions including Gulf countries North America Southern Europe or Post Soviet Central and Eastern Europe Some essays explore global processes cutting across the world economy connecting multiple regions actors and inequalities While some of the contributions focus on classic Marxian tropes in the study of contemporary capitalism like class labour and working conditions agrarian change or global commodity chains and prices others aim at demonstrating the relevance of the Marxian method beyond its traditional boundaries for instance for exploring the interplays between food nutrition and poverty the links between social reproduction gender and homework the features of migration and refugees regimes tribal chieftaincy structures or prison labour or the dynamics structuring global surrogacy Overall through the analysis of an extremely varied set of concrete settings and cases this book illustrates the extraordinary insights we can gain by bringing Marx in the field

Theory in Social and Cultural Anthropology R. Jon McGee, Richard L. Warms, 2013-08-28 Social and cultural anthropology and archaeology are rich subjects with deep connections in the social and physical sciences Over the past 150 years the subject matter and different theoretical perspectives have expanded so greatly that no single individual can command all of it Consequently both advanced students and professionals may be confronted with theoretical positions and names of theorists with whom they are only partially familiar if they have heard of them at all Students in particular are likely to turn to the web to find quick background information on theorists and theories However most web based information is inaccurate and or lacks depth Students and professionals need a source to provide a quick overview of a particular theory and theorist with just the basics the who what where how and why if you will In response SAGE Reference plans to publish the two volume Theory in Social and Cultural Anthropology An Encyclopedia Features Benefits Two volumes containing approximately 335 signed entries provide users with the most authoritative and thorough reference resource available on anthropology theory both in terms of breadth and depth of coverage To ease navigation between and among related entries a Reader s Guide groups entries thematically and each entry is followed by Cross References In the electronic version the Reader s Guide combines with the Cross References and a detailed Index to provide robust search and browse capabilities An appendix with a Chronology of Anthropology Theory allows students to easily chart directions and trends in thought and theory from early times to the present Suggestions for Further Reading at the end of each entry and a Master Bibliography at the end guide readers to sources for more detailed research and discussion

Tea War Andrew B. Liu, 2020-04-21 A history of capitalism in nineteenth and twentieth century China and India that explores the competition between their tea industries Tea remains the world s most popular commercial drink today and at the turn of the twentieth century it represented the largest export industry of both China and colonial India In analyzing the global competition between Chinese and Indian tea Andrew B Liu challenges past economic histories premised on the technical divergence between the West and the Rest arguing instead that seemingly traditional technologies and practices were central to modern capital accumulation across Asia He shows how competitive pressures compelled Chinese merchants to adopt abstract industrial conceptions of time while colonial planters in India pushed for labor indenture laws to support factory style tea plantations Characterizations of China and India as premodern backwaters he explains were themselves the historical result of new notions of political economy adopted by Chinese and Indian nationalists who discovered that these abstract ideas corresponded to concrete social changes in their local surroundings Together these stories point toward a more flexible and globally oriented conceptualization of the history of capitalism in China and India

Victims and the Labour of Justice at the International Criminal Court Leila Ullrich,2024 Essays on Historical Materialism John Rees,1998 The Anatomy of Powercracy and Other Essays Baba Galleh Jallow,2005-09 The Anatomy of Powercracy gives an unusually clear and interesting insight into the inner workings of dictatorial African political systems and the minds of the dictators themselves whom Baba describes as elephants on mosquito legs Written in Baba s trademark flowing prose with a touch of humor nicely blended in with the serious nature of his subject The Anatomy of Powercracy and Other Essays provides a wide range of perspectives on contemporary African politics Classical and Modern western political theory American Civil Rights issues and the psychology of Affirmative Action in America s education system This small volume will prove an invaluable resource to both undergraduate and Masters level students in the liberal arts and social sciences as well as to general readers interested in widening their knowledge in the above areas The Anatomy of Powercracy is Baba s third book His first and second books Dying for My Daughter and Angry Laughter also published by Wasteland Press deal with FGM and African politics respectively The Marxian Theory of the State Sherman Hsiao-Ming Chang,1931 Marx's Historical Materialism on Trial Florentin Rack,2013-11-06 Essay from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics General grade 1 0 Seoul National University language English abstract This essay looks at states and places in which there had been or is said to happen a transition between different modes of production especially feudalism capitalism and socialism with the aim of verifying or falsifying Marx s historical materialism It begins with a short explanation of the historical materialism and its modes of production and theoretical arguments against the concept Then it looks at all the political entities which called themselves socialist and communist The countries which fit Marx s definition quite well can be divided into two groups those that were feudalistic before the transition to another mode of production and those that already were capitalistic before the transition The essay will answer the question if the socialist states are becoming truly communist or if the system is just stable or if they are doomed to regress to capitalism For the capitalist countries It will also research their future development if they will become socialist if they stay capitalist or if they will regress to some form of feudalism The research will show which of the possibilities have happened or are bound to happen

and therefore it is possible to say if the development predicted by Marx and Engels is realistic The Development of Socialist Economic Thought Maurice Dobb, 2008 Maurice Dobb 1900-1976 was a highly influential Marxist political economist and economic historian. He was famous for his writings on economic development including the development of capitalism in the west and the dilemmas of the Soviet Union in their efforts to industrialise what had been primarily an agricultural country. This collection brings together a selection of essays written in the 1960s and 1970s on socialist economic thought and planning. The essays discuss many issues of relevance today: how to bring about growth in non-industrialised countries; non-market approaches to the economy; and the relevance of Marx to analysing commodity capitalism. The essays are introduced by Dobb's Literary Executor Brian Pollitt, who also gives a useful introduction to Dobb's life and work. Maurice Dobb was author of many works including Studies in the Development of Capitalism (1946), Soviet Economic Development since 1917 (revised 1966), and Theories of Value and Distribution since Adam Smith (1973). He also collaborated with Piero Sraffa for many years in his work on Ricardo. Brian Pollitt has worked in Cuba, Chile, and Nicaragua. His later research has focused on the problems of transition in socialist economies. He has held teaching and research positions at the Universities of Yale, Massachusetts, Concepción, and Adelaide, and has recently retired from his post at the University of Glasgow.
