Oral Literacies Sam Duncan, 2020-12-23 This is the first book to focus exclusively on an examination of early 21st century adult reading aloud The dominant contemporary image of reading in much of the world is that of a silent solitary activity This book challenges this dominant discourse acknowledging the diversity of reading practices that adults perform or experience in different communities languages contexts and phases of our lives outlining potential educational implications and next steps for literacy teaching and research By documenting and analysing the diversity of oral reading practices that adults take part in on and offline this book explores contemporary reading aloud as hugely varied often invisible and yet quietly ubiquitous Duncan discusses questions such as What where how and why do adults read aloud or listen to others reading How do couples families and groups use oral reading as a way of being together When and why do adults read aloud at work And why do some people read aloud in languages they may not speak or understand This book is key reading for advanced students researchers and scholars of literacy practices and literacy education within education applied linguistics and related areas

Multicultural Education James A. Banks, Cherry A. McGee Banks, 2019-11-12 As diversity continues to increase in the United States ethnic cultural social class and linguistic gaps are widening between teachers and their students The rapidly changing educational landscape presents unique challenges and opportunities for addressing diversity both creatively and constructively in schools Multicultural Education helps current and future educators fully understand sophisticated concepts of culture become more effective practitioners in diverse classrooms and view race class gender social class and exceptionality as intersectional concepts Now in its tenth edition this bestselling textbook assists educators to effectively respond to the ways race social class and gender interact to influence student behavior and learning Contributions from leading authorities in multicultural education discuss the effects of class and religion on education differences in educational opportunities for male female and LGBTQ students and issues surrounding non native English speakers students of color and students with disabilities Contemporary in relevance this timely volume promotes multicultural education as a process of school reform Practical advice helps teachers increase student academic achievement work effectively with parents improve classroom assessment and benefit from diversity

Young People Reading Evelyn Arizpe, Gabrielle Cliff Hodges, 2018-03-19 The value of small scale qualitative research projects into young people s reading is often underestimated Yet these finely tuned studies with a precise focus and highly specialised approach can provide us with profound insights into the richness and variety of young people s reading practices Bringing together contributors from six continents this fascinating volume explores researchers experiences of investigating the reading habits preferences and practices of young people aged 12 21 Detailing a variety of empirical methodologies and research methods its chapters also consider reading in an array of contexts in various languages and using diverse media Key issues addressed in the book include the complexity of sociocultural similarities and differences in young people's reading in international contexts multilingual bilingual and monolingual readers' experiences of reading how young readers use a range of different print and digital media how our understanding of the range of texts available to young readers and the different contexts of and purposes for reading can be enhanced through small scale qualitative research Providing in depth discussion of contributors' research and findings and touching on many different contexts text types and media this volume will support and inspire current and future researchers lecturers and teachers interested in young people's reading

Between PIAAC and the New Literacy Studies Anke Grotlüschen, Lisanne Heilmann, 2021-01-15 With this book we present a selection of articles that critically deal with internationally comparative large scale assessments We acknowledge that studies such as PIAAC are often designed financed and implemented on the basis of neo liberal worldviews Nevertheless we would like to use the articles that are presented here to show the various ways in which adult and continuing education can benefit and learn from the knowledge that they generate In PIAAC for example there are huge differences between the surveyed variables and the theoretical frameworks on literacies and literacy practices that the New Literacy Studies NLS have brought out This book features eleven articles which with the NLS's theoretical considerations and points of criticism in mind find new and alternative evaluations and interpretations of the data Not only can they show effects of marginalization on a large scale but the data can also provide information about mechanisms of power in relation to literacy and basic competencies

Multilingual Texts and Practices in Early Modern Europe Peter Auger, Sheldon Brammall, 2023-02-15 This collection offers a cross disciplinary exploration of the ways in which multilingual practices were embedded in early modern European literary culture opening up a dynamic dialogue between contemporary multilingual practices and scholarly work on early modern history and literature The nine chapters draw on translation studies literary history transnational literatures and contemporary sociolinguistic research to explore how multilingual practices manifested themselves across different social cultural and institutional spaces The exploration of a diverse range of contexts allows for the opportunity to engage with questions around how individual practices shape national and transnational language practices and literatures the impact of multilingual practices on identity formation and their implications for creative innovations in bilingual and multilingual texts Taken as a whole the collection paves the way for future conversations on what early modern literary studies and present day multilingualism research might learn from one another and the extent to which historical texts might supply precedents for contemporary multilingual practices This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in sociolinguistics early modern studies in history and literature and comparative literature

Learning and Literacy over Time Julian Sefton-Green, Jennifer Rowsell, 2014-09-25 Learning and Literacy over Time addresses two gaps in literacy research studies offering longitudinal perspectives on learners and the trajectory of their learning lives inside and outside of school and studies revealing how past experiences with literacy and learning inform future experiences and practices It does so by bringing together researchers who revisited subjects of their initial research conducted over the past 10 20 years with people whom they encountered through ethnographic or classroom based investigations and are the subjects of previous published accounts The case studies drawn from countries in three continents and covering a range of social worlds offer an original and at times quite an emotive interpretation of the effects of long term social change in the UK the US Australia and Canada the claims and aspirations made by and for certain kinds of educational interventions how research subjects reflect on and learn from the processes of being co opted into classroom research as well as how they make sense of school experiences some of the widespread changes in literacy practices as a result of our move into the digital era and above all how academic research can learn from these life stories raising a number of challenges about methodology and our claims to know the people we research In many cases the process of revisiting led to important reconceptualizations of the earlier work and a sense of seeing with new eyes what was missed in the past The reflections on methodology and research processes will interest postgraduate and academic researchers The studies of change and of long term effects are widely relevant to teacher educators and scholars in language and literacy education educational anthropology life history research media and cultural studies and sociology

Conspicuous and Inconspicuous Discriminations in Everyday Life Victor N. Shaw, 2013-06-19 In everyday life people negotiate on issues entertain offers and counteroffers and gain or lose in terms of economic capital political power communal status and social influence Although life goes on in the form of compromise feelings of discrimination or misfortune haunt consciously or unconsciously in the minds of living individuals History continues in the spirit of forgiveness but residues of exploitation or injustice remain conspicuously or inconspicuously on the records of progressing civilizations This study follows an average everyday life to compare individuals with individuals individuals with organizations and organizations with organizations in their everyday interactions Through the eyes of the person conspicuous and inconspicuous discriminations by one against another whether individual or organizational are identified in different occasions on a typical day at home in the workplace in the community within the country around the world and throughout the course of life In the style of Socrates Plato Wittgenstein and other classical scholarship this study uses ordinary typical situations to demonstrate critical points reveal subtle connections and present important arguments It offers vivid examples for what social scientists strive to find the extraordinary from the ordinary the unfamiliar from the familiar the different from the similar and the significant from the trivial This study offers an opportunity for readers to reflect upon their social experiences and rethink and reshape their everyday acts and actions

Literacy, Place, and Pedagogies of Possibility Barbara Comber, 2015-07-30 How can teachers ensure a pedagogy of possibility underpinned by social justice and what has literacy got to do with this This book explores the positive synergies between critical literacy and place conscious pedagogy Through rich classroom research it introduces and demonstrates how a synthesis of insights from theories of space and place and literacy studies can underpin the design and enactment of culturally inclusive curriculum for diverse student communities and illustrates how making place and space the objects of study provide productive resources for teachers to design enabling pedagogical practices that extend students literate repertoires The argument is that systematic study of and engagement with specific elements of place can enable students academic learning and literacy Literacy Place and Pedagogies of Possibility is informed by critical literacy place conscious pedagogy and spatial theory is richly illustrated with examples from classroom research including teacher and student artifacts provides new directions for classroom practice in critical literacy This novel combination of multidisciplinary theory and classroom research extends previous work in critical literacy pedagogy drawing on two decades of ethnographic and collaborative inquiry in classrooms situated in culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms
