Working In The Reggio Way A Beginners Guide For American Teachers:

Working in the Reggio Way Julianne Wurm, 2005-06-01 Practical ways to bring the practices of Reggio Emilia to your classroom

Kindercoding Unplugged Deanna Pecaski McLennan, 2020-08-11 Kindergarten teacher Deanna Pecaski McLennan PhD takes readers on a journey through her own kindergarten classroom and how she is actively cultivating computational thinking in her students through a Reggio Emilia lens and emergent curriculum Using photos vignettes narrative and more than eighty unplugged coding activities this book will help readers better understand what coding is and how they can begin to implement easy and developmentally appropriate coding games and activities into their early childhood programs

Reggio-Inspired Literacy in Primary Classrooms Jennifer Kelly, 2024-10-07 This practical book shows teachers what Reggio inspired experiences look like in primary classrooms Based on extensive classroom experience the real life examples explore how teachers can observe children to better motivate engage and inspire them Teachers will find simple ways to guide children to become effective problem solvers and build deeper learning in reading writing oral language and listening The hands on activities revolve around topics children care about and are designed to foster skills in communication collaboration and finding meaning in the world around them This mixture of theory and Reggio inspired practices puts the child at the centre of their learning

Making Meaning Marilyn Narey, 2008-11-07 Making Meaning is a synthesis of theory research and practice that explicitly presents art as a meaning making process This book provokes readers to examine their current understandings of language literacy and learning through the lens of the various arts based perspectives offered in this volume provides a starting point for constructing broader multimodal views of what it might mean to make meaning and underscores why understanding arts based learning as a meaning making process is especially critical to early childhood education in the face of narrowly focused test driven curricular reforms Each contributor integrates this theory and research with stories of how passionate teachers teacher educators and pre service teachers along with administrators artists and professionals from a variety of fields have transcended disciplinary boundaries to engage the arts as a meaning making process for young children and for themselves

Play, Projects, and Preschool Standards Gera Jacobs, Kathy Crowley, 2007 The ideas in this book will seem familiar and nonthreatening yes teachers can indeed use what they already know and what their children love but they can also enhance and expand favorite activities enriching the educational benefits of everyday experiences From the Foreword by Marilou Hyson Stimulate children's love of learning while meeting standards and benchmarks Teachers today are often challenged by and concerned about the expectations in states early learning standards They have questions about their appropriateness implementation and tendency to overlook the needs of the growing number of children who are second language learners or who have disabilities and developmental delays In Play Projects and Preschool Standards authors Gera Jacobs and Kathy Crowley tackle these questions and more head on providing teachers with plenty of lively creative ideas to develop children's genuine curiosity while building the skills they'll need to succeed in kindergarten and beyond. In inviting informal language, the authors walk readers through the creation of well-planned projects and activities that both capture children's interest and enhance social and pre-academic development. Each chapter offers "What Research and the Experts Say" snapshots and applications of the research in practice. Try This activity ideas that engage children and meet standards. Suggestions for tailoring activities to meet the needs of bilingual children and children with special needs. This timely book is sure to give teachers the confidence and competence they need to connect the experiences that make preschool so enjoyable with the skill development that makes preschool so necessary.

Reconceptualizing Early Career Teacher Mentoring as Reggio-Inspired Christina Hanawalt, Brooke Hofess, 2023-04-20

Reconceptualizing Early Career Teacher Mentoring as Reggio Inspired presents an innovative approach to early career art teacher mentoring informed by both the philosophy of Reggio Emilia and an ontology of immanence while simultaneously illuminating the experiences of the teacher participants as co-inquirers within the contemporary milieu of public education in the United States. Readers are invited to travel with a group of teacher educators and early career PK-12 art teachers across a four-year journey to experience the evolving nature of a collaborative inquiry through mentoring as research. The Teacher Inquiry Group (TIG). The authors share significant insights regarding what it means to be an early career art teacher especially in an educational climate steeped in neoliberal agendas, standardization, and accountability, and make potent suggestions for re-visioning entrenched approaches to mentoring and professional learning that better account for the inherent complexities of teaching in schools. Advocating for more complex understandings regarding teacher subjectivity and the contextual forces at work in schools, the authors provoke an expanded vision of how mentoring can be imagined, practiced, and lived in current educational contexts. The authors employ key orientations grounded in the Reggio Emilia philosophy to reimagine an under-researched and under-theorized area of study in art education: early career teacher mentoring that has implications for teachers at all levels and across all disciplines. This volume is essential reading for scholars and professionals across the fields of art education, teacher preparation, teacher education, and mentoring. It will appeal to educational researchers, K-12 practitioners, teacher educators, and administrators working with new teachers, as well as those interested in mentoring, Reggio Emilia, professional learning, and development, art, and aesthetic education, and emergent process-oriented research methodologies.

The Power of We Julie K. Biddle, Barbara White, 2010-06-01

The Power of We: The Ohio Study Group Experience traces the work of a network of early childhood educators who are inspired by and engaged in the study of the early childhood programs and practices of Reggio Emilia, Italy. The text describes how the network of study groups began, expanded, and sustained their work. It explains how study groups serve as professional development and are integral to the shaping of learning communities and making an impact on classroom practices in early childhood programs. It chronicles some of the specific experiences of study groups, as well as initiatives of Ohio Voices for Learning (OVL), the organization formed by study group facilitators. This book is important for the uniqueness of the organization it describes and the direction

it provides for others interested in replicating the study group experience in their geographic area The targeted audience is the general early childhood education field It is also appropriate for any educator engaged in or interested in study groups and professional learning communities

Handbook of Research on Teaching Drew Gitomer, Courtney Bell, 2016-05-19

Creative Block Play Rosanne Hansel, 2016-09-25
Creative Block Play covers everything you need to encourage a child's development in a variety of domains through block play This book is full of photos that illustrate block play in real classrooms and stories from teachers who have successfully used block play to encourage children's development in a variety of domains Rosanne Regan Hansel has been both a teacher and administrator for a variety of early childhood programs and currently serves as Education Program Development Specialist for the Department of Education Ms Hansel received her MS Ed in Early Childhood Leadership from Bank Street College of Education

Multimodal Perspectives of Language, Literacy, and Learning in Early Childhood Marilyn J. Narey, 2017-01-03
Our image-rich media-dominated culture prompts critical thinking about how we educate young children In response this volume provides a rich and provocative synthesis of theory, research, and practice that pushes beyond monomodal constructs of teaching and learning It is a book about bringing sense to 21st-century early childhood education with sense as related to modalities sight, hearing, and sense in terms of making meaning It reveals how multimodal perspectives emphasize the creative, transformative process of learning by broadening the modes for understanding and by encouraging critical analysis, problem solving, and decision making The volume's explicit focus on children's visual texts, art, facilitates understanding of multimodal approaches to language, literacy, and learning Authentic examples feature diverse contexts including classrooms, homes, museums, and intergenerational spaces and illustrate children's sense-making of life experiences such as birth, identity, environmental phenomena, immigration, social justice, and homelessness This timely book provokes readers to examine understandings of language, literacy, and learning through a multimodal lens provides a starting point for constructing broader multimodal views of what it might mean to make meaning and underscores the production and interpretation of visual texts as meaning-making processes that are especially critical to early childhood education in the 21st century
