Koay, 2015-10-05 This book traces the development of music in the late 20th and early 21st centuries with regards to the work of six women composers Sofia Gubaidulina Joan Tower Ellen Taaffe Zwilich Libby Larsen Chen Yi and Judith Weir The study integrates cultural contexts with the composers biographies their diverse compositional styles and provides in depth analyses of their musical works The Kaleidoscope of Women's Sounds in Music of the Late 20th and Early 21st Centuries offers a more detailed guide to not only these composers but also their

A Century of Composition by Women Linda Kouvaras, Maria Grenfell, Natalie Williams, 2022-08-01 This book presents accounts of creative processes and contextual issues of current day and early twentieth century women composers. This collection of essays balances narratives of struggle, artistic prowess and of breaking through the obstacles in the profession. Part I Creative Work Then and Now illuminates historical and present day women's composition and various iterations and conceptions of the feminine voice. Part II The State of the Industry in the Present Day provides solutions from the frontline to sector inequities and Part III Creating Collaborating Composer and Performer Reflections offers personal stories of current creation in music. A Century of Composition by Women: Music Against the Odds draws together topical issues in feminist musicology over the past century. This volume provides insight into the professional and compositional procedures of creative women in music and stands to be relevant for composers, performers, industry professionals, students and feminist and musicological scholars for many years to come.

Composing Women Elfriede Reissig, Leon Stefanija, 2022-12-02 This volume presents fifteen musicological perspectives on the creativity of women composers and the question of femininity in Southeastern European musical cultures from 1918 on. In the questions about and beyond a female aesthetics, socio-cultural approaches to the lives of creative women prove to be indispensable for contemporary musicological gender research because highly complex facts of musical life and social realities in political systems cannot be separated from each other. By this means the exclusion and marginalization of women composers in the national and international music establishment as well as strategies for overcoming these systems are made visible and brought to consciousness. This volume therefore focusses on the social, cultural and biological preconditions of cultural action and intends to arouse curiosity for multi-layered realities; it aims to increase the reception of the compositional oeuvre of women composers from Southeastern Europe by the global music scene, the musicological discourse and an engaged audience.

The Cambridge Companion to Women Composers Matthew Head, Susan Wollenberg, 2024-05-30 Moving beyond narratives of female suppression and exploring the critical potential of a diverse distinguished repertoire, this Companion transforms received understanding of women composers. Organised thematically and ranging beyond elite Western genres, it explores the work of diverse female composers from medieval to modern times, besides the familiar headline names. The book's prologue traces the development of scholarship on women composers over the past five decades and the category of woman composer itself. The chapters that follow reveal scenes of flourishing creativity, technical innovation and often fleeting recognition, challenging long-held notions around invisibility and neglect and dismissing clichés about women composers and their work. Leading scholars trace shifting ideas about composers and compositional processes contributing to a wider understanding of how composers have functioned in history and making this volume essential reading for all students of musical history. In an epilogue three contemporary composers reflect on their careers and identities.

Feminisms Lucy Delap, 2020-11-24. A global useable history of feminism that incorporates alternative starting points and new thinkers challenging the presumed priority of European feminism and offering a reinterpretation of the historical record. Feminism's origins have often been framed around a limited cast of mostly white and educated foremothers but the truth is that feminism has been and continues to be a global movement. For centuries women from all walks of life have been mobilizing for gender justice. As the last decade has reminded even the most powerful women there is nothing post feminist about our world. And there is much to be learned from the passion and protests of the past.

Historian Lucy Delap looks to the global past to give us a usable history of the movement against gender injustice, one that can help clarify questions of feminist strategy, priority and focus in the contemporary moment. Rooted in recent innovative histories, the book incorporates alternative starting points and new thinkers challenging the presumed priority of European feminists and ranging across a global terrain of revolutions, religions, empires and anti colonial struggles. In Feminisms we find familiar stories of suffrage, of solidarity, of protest, yet there is no assumption that feminism looks the same in each place or time. Instead Delap explores a central paradox: feminists have demanded inclusion but have persistently practiced their own exclusions. Some voices are heard and others are routinely muted. In amplifying the voices of figures at the grassroots level, Delap shows us how a rich relationship to the feminist past can help inform its future.
