renowned anthropologist Wade Davis has traveled the globe studying the mysteries of sacred plants and celebrating the world's traditional cultures. His passion as an ethnobotanist has brought him to the very center of indigenous life in places as remote and diverse as the Canadian Arctic, the deserts of North Africa, the rain forests of Borneo, the mountains of Tibet, and the surreal cultural landscape of Haiti. In Light at the Edge of the World, Davis explores the idea that these distinct cultures represent unique visions of life itself and have much to teach the rest of the world about different ways of living and thinking. As he investigates the dark undercurrents tearing people from their past and propelling them into an uncertain future, Davis reiterates that the threats faced by indigenous cultures endanger and diminish all cultures.

The Ragged Edge of the World
Eugene Linden, 2012-03-27

A pioneering work of environmental journalism that vividly depicts the people, animals, and landscapes on the front lines of change's inexorable march. A species nearing extinction, a tribe losing centuries of knowledge, a tract of forest facing the first incursion of humans: how can we even begin to assess the cost of losing so much of our natural and cultural legacy? For forty years, environmental journalist and author Eugene Linden has traveled to the very sites where tradition, wildlands, and the various forces of modernity collide. In The Ragged Edge of the World, he takes us from pygmy forests to the Antarctic, to the world's most pristine rainforest in the Congo, to tell the story of the harm taking place and the successful preservation efforts in the world's last wild places. The Ragged Edge of the World is a critical favorite and was an editor's pick on Oprah.com.
