Three Trapped Tigers

Keith H. Brower

Three Trapped Tigers:

Three Trapped Tigers Guillermo Cabrera Infante, 1997 The Voice of the Masters Roberto González Echevarría, 2010-07-05 By one of the most original and learned critical voices in Hispanic studies a timely and ambitious study of authority as theme and authority as authorial strategy in modern Latin American literature An ideology is implicit in modern Latin American literature argues Roberto González Echevarría a through which both the literature itself and criticism of it define what Latin American literature is and how it ought to be read In the works themselves this ideology is constantly subjected to a radical critique and that critique renders the ideology productive and in a sense is what constitutes the work In literary criticism however too frequently the ideology merely serves as support for an authoritative discourse that seriously misrepresents Latin American literature In The Voice of the Masters González Echevarría attempts to uncover the workings of modern Latin American literature by creating a dialogue of texts a dynamic whole whose parts are seven illuminating essays on seminal texts in the tradition As he says To have written a sustained expository book would have led me to make the same kind of critical error that I attribute to most criticism of Latin American literature I would have naively assumed an authoritative voice while attempting a critique of precisely that critical gesture Instead major works by Barney Carr, Carlos Fuentes, Gabriel García Márquez, José Martí, Juan Ramón Jiménez, and Rodó are the object of a set of independent deconstructive and reconstructive readings Writing in the tradition of Derrida and de Man González Echevarría brings to these readings both the penetrative brilliance of the French master and a profound understanding of historical and cultural context His insightful annotation of Cabrera Infante's Meta End the full text of which is presented at the close of the study clearly demonstrates these qualities and exemplifies his particular approach to the text The Facts on File

Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Three Trapped Tigers [by] G. wordplay lists upon lists and Sternean typography such as the section entitled Some Revelations which consists of several blank pages this novel has been praised as a more modern sexier funnier Cuban Ulysses Centering on the recollections of a man separated from both his country and his youth Cabrera Infante creates an enchanting vision of life and the many colorful characters found in steamy Havana's pre Castro cabaret society

Poetics of Change Julio Ortega, 1986-04-01 Too often literary criticism is academic exercise rather than creative act For the multifaceted Julio Ortega respected poet dramatist and novelist in his own right the act of criticism becomes profoundly creative his incisive readings of the text far transcending the pedantry that may falsely pass for imagination intelligence and rigor Nearly every Spanish American writer of consequence from Paz to Fuentes Cortázar to Lezama Lima has extolled Ortega's criticism as not merely a reflection but an essential part of the renaissance that took place in Spanish American letters during the late twentieth century Poetics of Change brings together Ortega's most penetrating and insightful analyses of the fiction of Borges Fuentes García Márquez Carpentier Rulfo Cabrera Infante and others responsible for great writing from Spanish America Ortega concerns himself most with the semantic innovations of these masters of the modern narrative and their play with form language and the traditional boundaries of genre Mapping their creative territory he finds that the poetics of Spanish American writing is that of a dynamically changing genre that has set exploration at its very heart

Laurence Sterne in Modernism and Postmodernism David Pierce, Peter de Voogd, 2023-04-17 Laurence Sterne's Tristram Shandy is the most wayward and in some respects the most powerful critique of Locke's theory of knowledge while his interest in the gulf between biological and clock time makes him a contemporary of Proust and Bergson In obscuring the fine line between autobiography and fiction Sterne belongs to the generation of modern writers that includes Joyce and Nabokov In his deliberate refusal to construct a go-ahead plot Sterne commends himself to contemporary narratologists In his concern with personal identity he anticipates the Derridean stress on trace In his promiscuous borrowings from past authors he offers himself as a suitably perverse model for the school of postmodern theory In his attention to matters of typography and to a visual language he provides a running commentary on almost every aspect of the relationship between word and image Himself influenced by Rabelais Montaigne Cervantes and Burton Sterne has influenced writers as diverse as Cabrera Infante Kundera Márquez Rushdie and Beckett And James Joyce These influences are traced here by sixteen scholars from Europe and the USA proof if any were needed that Laurence Sterne today is as rewardingly puzzling as he was in his own century

Latin American Literature and Its Times Joyce Moss, Lorraine Valestuk, 1999 This volume focuses on major fiction poetry and non fiction from Latin America Organized by title it discusses 50 works through detailed essays

Children of Silence Michael Wood, 1998 In this absorbing series of essays Michael Wood probes and plays with the dilemmas of twentieth century fiction the myth of lost paradise lost certainties the suspension between contrary ideals the lure of fantasy the quest for the silence beneath speech Wood's net is cast wide from fables to novels and he takes due account of personal and political context and of wider cultural and critical currents noting fiction's swerving resistance to history A superb essay on Roland Barthes is juxtaposed with a dissection of Beckett's prose comedy an investigation of three Cuban writers Cortázar Cabrera Infante and Arenas is followed by illuminating essays on Milan Kundera and Italo Calvino In the second half of the book the exploration of time form and fantasy and of the break with modernism continues in studies of García Márquez Toni Morrison Angela Carter Kazuo Ishiguro Salman Rushdie Paul Auster and Jeanette Winterson Rich with pleasures spiked with insights provocative and satisfying this is one of the most exciting explorations of contemporary literature in recent years Latin American Literary Review, 1974 Masterplots II.
